Welcome Baby Bonds.
Don't Trifle With Russia.
Rose and Turnip.
To President Hoover.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

HAVE YOU ANY money, put away, waiting for "something to turn up?" If so, put it to work. Buy something, good securities, real estate, an automobile, anything you need.

Or at least put it in a bank where it can be used to finance new enterprise and give employment.

THOSE THAT WAIT, while opportunity passes, can buy "United States baby bonds."

Secretary Mills, new, young and able Secretary of the Treasury, appointed by President Hoover in place of Secretary Mellon, will sell government bonds in small denominations, that will pay 2 per cent, and be worth par always, because they come due at the end of a year, and can be redeemed at any time on 60 days' notice.

Put your money in those baby bonds and let it go to work for the country.

RUSSIA COMPLAINS that Japan is moving troops uncomfortably close to Russia's border. Many of these troops are said to be "white Russian fighters, bitterly hated by Stalin.

Russia doesn't want trouble, she wants peace to finish her series of five-year plans.

But if Japan should irritate Russia, she would have on her hands a problem that would make her forget "poor China."

She would meet a Russia different from the soft, corrupt Russia of the czars, easily beaten by Japan not long ago.

Before arousing Russia it would be well for the intelligent Japanese to read again the history of the French Revolution and revolutionary armies that walked all over Europe and made kings look ridiculous.

There is great power in the spirit of revolution, much as we may deplore its existence.

Russia possesses now the greatest army in the world, many airplanes, many well-trained pilots, and, roused to anger, might make the Mikado feel about Russia as young Bonaparte made the Austrian Emperor feel about France.

THREE HUNDRED husbands of Bayonne, N. J., asked County Prosecutor Drewen to keep their wives out of gambling houses. In a raid 290 players out of 300 were women. The wives promised to gamble no more but some won't be able to keep the promise.

Drugs, gambling and alcohol establish a much firmer hold on women than on men, because of woman's greater refinement and nervous sensibility as compared with man.

ALSO A WOMAN gambling or drinking is a sadder sight than a man thus engaged. To see a rose in the gutter is more unpleasant than seeing a turnip there.

By the way, you can see many a "rose in the gutter" by visiting any of New York City's forty or fifty thousand speakeasies, where at bars, especially arranged, women may be seen drinking all kinds of poisonous bootleg concoctions.

A SUGGESTION to President Hoover. The American people like ACTION. It made Cleveland popular in the famous message to the British government, made Theodore Roosevelt popular all the time. When any other action was lacking he gnashed his teeth. When he felt that a canal in Panama was needed, he built it.

WE NEED fortifications at Guam, a sort of Far Eastern guarantee against trouble. We need to complete and make really effective the air base, and big gun emplacements that were started in the Philippines and choked off, foolishly, after the idiotic Washington conference.

IF PRESIDENT HOOVER would, first, "denounce," as the diplomats put it, wipe out and get rid of the foolish Washington conference agreement and say that the people hereafter propose to build what ships and airplanes they please, where and when they please, on their own territory, that would be pleasing.

If he would then send his engineers to Guam, with orders to proceed as promptly as possible with thorough fortification of that valuable Asiatic outpost, and establish there a big airplane base and other modern equipment, he would be amazed at the public response.

Some pacifists would write:

"You wouldn't shoot anybody, would you?"

But a hundred million Americans would say:

"Thank God, somebody is thinking of the United States, at least part of the time."

TWO BRITISH clergymen, one a man and one a woman, wrote to the League of Nations, offering to place themselves "unarmed between the combatants, in China, as a means of 'halting the war.'"

Those noble-minded Britishers, if they should carry out their idea, would learn, to their sorrow, that Japan and China would fail to see the point.

What is needed between the combatants, or, rather, back of one of the combatants, to end the war, is a fighter of genius. He hasn't appeared yet.

NEW YORK STATE increases first personal income tax and gasoline taxes 50 per cent. Gov. Roosevelt's signature made both increases effective yesterday. The income tax increase is made more interesting by the fact that it is retroactive, going back to April 15. You can't do that to the gas tax, because you can't prove who bought the gas.

It seems that nobody in the oil industry is making any money now. The additional tax on gasoline would seem rather cruel. Incidentally, it will increase the amount of "gasoline bootlegging" that always increases when the tax goes higher.

BANDIT SLAIN IN GAMBLING HOLDUP

Golf Star, Used as Shield, Among Wounded in Miami Night-Club Gun Battle

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—A bandit leader with a wooden arm, identified as A. Y. Yarborough, was killed, and T. Philip Perkins, former British amateur golf champion, two club employes and three robbers were wounded early today in an attempt to hold up the gambling casino of the fashionable Embassy Night Club.

The leader was identified by John P. Thresner, Miami business man. He said he knew Yarborough in Lakeland, Fla., several years ago, and disclosed he came to his office yesterday in an unsuccessful attempt to borrow $10. Police learned the bandit had been engaged in gambling here recently.

USED AS SHIELD

Perkins, a guest of the club, was shot in the hip as one of the bandits used his body as a shield in a gun battle with two policemen who were eating in the kitchen when the robbers entered.

The bandit leader was killed by a bullet from the gun of a watchman, as he attempted to escape after the gun battle started, and while fashionably gowned and panic-stricken guests of the club fled the place in terror. No money was taken during the holdup.

Others wounded were George Meyers, 40, Tulsa, Okla., identified as a member of the robber band; Gene Eckman, 50, reputedly another of the robbers; an unidentified bandit who escaped; George Fratton, 30, and John Burns, club employes.

DANCERS SEE SHOOTING

Perkins was among the guests. The bandits sought to hold up the gambling casino of the club.

The two policemen, in plain clothes, were lined up against the kitchen wall with employes as the masked robbers threatened them with guns.

The leader forced the group in the kitchen to march into the dining room, where fashionably-clothed members of Miami's winter social set were seated or dancing. The gun battle followed.

Otto Kahn Obtains Malone Judgment

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(INS.)—Otto H. Kahn, international banker, yesterday obtained a summary judgment for $14,988, against Dudley Field Malone, prominent attorney.

The banker, it was alleged, held Malone's promissory note for $40,000 dated in 1928, and installments of $2,500 were due every four months. The judgment represents alleged overdue payments and interest.

Toscanini Suffers 'Charley Horse'

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(Universal.)—A "charley horse," and not neuritis, arthritis or any other ailment, was the cause of Arturo Toscanini deciding not to conduct the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, Max Smith, the famed conductor's personal representative, said today.

Slain Flier Betrothed to Olive Hamon

MISS OLIVE BELLE HAMON

Death in China's Warfare Bares Romance

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27.—(INS.)—When Robert M. Short, American aviator, was shot down by six Japanese aviators while he was flying a Chinese plane over Woosung, it brought new sorrow into the life of Olive Belle Hamon, daughter of the late Jake L. Hamon, Oklahoma politician and millionaire, shot and killed in November, 1922. Miss Hamon revealed today. Miss Hamon, known on the stage as Loma Worth, said:

"Bob and I were engaged to be married. We flew together a lot when I had my plane at Tacoma. His death is a great blow to me. It strengthened my resolve to carry out his wish that I qualify for a federal pilot's license."

The money her father left her has diminished, and Miss Hamon is trying to recoup her fortune and that of her mother via the vaudeville stage. She plays 18 musical instruments.

Her mother, Mrs. Georgia Hamon Rohrer, revealed that since the tragic death of her husband, Jake Hamon, she had married and divorced William L. Rohrer.

One-Drink Baby Gorilla Gains in Oxygen Room

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Young N'gi, the baby gorilla, may be past the crisis and on the way to recovery from pneumonia, thanks to the last word in scientific aid rushed to him at the National Zoo.

An oxygen chamber, brought from the Columbia Presbyterian medical center in New York, was set up inside his cage after all other means had failed to restore him, and the valuable little animal responded immediately the regenerating oxygen started work.

An eminent baby specialist, a veterinarian and the experts administering the oxygen remained in attendance today, after a close night vigil. They were distinctly hopeful.

N'gi ate a little food yesterday and accepted one drink of whisky. He didn't like the taste and refused a second spoonful, wiping his mouth with straw. He reached out for a tempting box of ripe strawberries, but changed his mind and went back to sleep.

SHANGHAI'S DEFENDERS GET AID

Armored Train Brings More Troops; Guns Trained On Japanese Consulate

By DIXON HOSTE
International News Service.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 27.—A Chinese armored train pulled into the Markham road railway yards shortly before 3 p. m. today, within easy firing distance of the Japanese consulate and Japanese warships anchored nearby.

The train was reported to carry troops of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek and there was conjecture whether the famous military leader himself was aboard. There was no immediate firing, although Japanese leaders and settlement authorities were most apprehensive.

Fearing just such a maneuver by the Chinese, Japanese planes conducted a heavy bombardment of Markham Road junction and other points along the line yesterday, but failed to harm the tracks and thereby check the train movement.

KIANGWAN HOLDS OUT

Maj. Hirada, of the Japanese headquarters, admitted that Chinese sharpshooters still held parts of Kiangwan village, and that Chinese and Japanese forces still faced each other along a straight line from Kiangwan to Miaoshin, with the Japanese in Miaoshin.

Hirada admitted the Japanese had not surrounded the Kiangwan defenders, stating there still remain open a line of communications for the Chinese into Chapei.

Although Chapei was quiet this afternoon, fires which were started in this morning's bombardment still raged.

As Japanese airplanes dropped bombs, their attack was accompanied by heavy artillery fire. The battle opened before dawn, and the Japanese used a new method by employing flares to guide their attack.

Thus Chinese artillery positions, ordinarily hidden even in the daytime, were lit up clearly when the enemy planes dropped flares be-

Faro Game Woman Files Suit Papers

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The declaration in Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge's $150,000 libel suit against Edward R. Litsinger, member of the Cook County Board of Review, was filed yesterday by her attorney.

The document contains a statement Litsinger issued on February 22, 1931, to newspapers charging Mrs. Blacklidge, former collector of internal revenue here, conspired with others to swindle him of $50,000 in a fake faro game in Springfield, Ill., a few weeks before.

Man Shot, 'Friend' Knifed in Argument

CHARLEROI, Feb. 27.—John Mata, 33, of Stockdale, is in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital today with little chance of recovery, doctors said, as the result of a shooting which occurred last night when he and friend became involved in an argument over which earned the larger salary.

Vito Vateli, 30, of Alleport, in whose home the argument took place with 24 stitches in knife wounds on his face and body, is in jail, accused of the shooting.

Mrs. Godsave charged extreme cruelty and testified that the Rev. Godsave had humiliated her in the presence of friends by saying she was a "dumb-bell" and a "prune."

RUSSIA WARNED BY JAPANESE

TOKIO, Feb. 27.—An indication that Japan may be preparing to hold Russia responsible for damages suffered by Japanese nationals in Northern Manchuria unless she is permitted to transport her troops over the Chinese Eastern railway was given by a spokesman for the foreign office today.

The spokesman said that Ambassador Koki Hirota had asked L. M. Karakhan, acting foreign commissar of Soviet Russia, what Moscow proposed to do in case a delay in supplying trains for troop transportation caused harm or loss to Japanese subjects in the North Manchurian areas where Chinese rebellions have broken out.

The inquiries of the Soviet foreign office regarding Japan's intention in North Manchuria are under consideration, the spokesman said, in preparation for instructing Ambassador Hirota what to reply to M. Karakhan.

All M. Karakhan's allegations regarding Japan's giving aid to "White Russians" in Manchuria were "entirely false," the spokesman said. He said the foreign office lacked information regarding any request of Gen. Jiro Tamon, Japanese Manchurian army commander, for transportation facilities on the Chinese Eastern Railway, which is partly Russian owned.

Rescuers Seek 30 Men Trapped In W. Va. Mine

BLUEFIELD, W. Va., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—An explosion occurred today in the Boissevain mine of the Pocahontas Fuel Company, near Pocahontas, Va., 25 miles from Bluefield. Thirty miners, in the workings at the time, were unaccounted for several hours after the blast.

One miner reaching the surface said he heard "some kind of an explosion" in another section of the mine and immediately started out. Company officials said the mine was non-gaseous and said it was possible the explosion might have been caused by powder.

Shortly after the blast, Thomas Stockdale, of Bramwell, a West Virginia district mine inspector, and several other rescue men, attempted to enter the mine without gas masks, but were driven back by heavy air.

Rescue crews from Pocahontas and Jenkinjones later entered the mine equipped with masks to explore the workings.

Warrants Ordered In Numbers Racket

Morals Court Magistrate Thomas D. Jones today ordered warrants issued for the arrest of Sam Rost, of Wilkinsburg, said by police to be a "big shot" in the numbers racket and Thomas Llewyn and Rost were mentioned as being partners to an alleged lottery by William Litscomb, 42, of 559 Albion street, following a hearing before Magistrate Jones, on a robbery charge. Robert Kirk, 28, of 7346 Monticello street, was also held.

Jailed for Brewing With Welfare Cash

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Testimony that money received from the welfare fund had been used to purchase ingredients for home brew was given yesterday at the trial of Ralph Piazza, convicted of violating the prohibition law.

FIREMEN HURT, 16 FLEE BLAZE

One fireman was injured and 16 persons, including nine children, were forced to the street early today by fire which damaged two buildings at 335 and 337 Helen street, McKees Rocks.

The fire started in the rear of the Kroger grocery store at 335 Helen street, spread to the second floor apartment occupied by Joseph Gaisor and his son, Joseph, Jr., and to the hardware store at 337 Helen street, owned by Samuel Brenners. Gaisor discovered the fire and aroused the tenants of both buildings.

Ralph Goolings, McKees Rocks fireman, slipped while fighting the flames and sprained his left leg. Goolings was back on duty for the first time after being in court, where he was acquitted of charges of violating the election laws.

In addition to Gaisor and his son, others forced to the street by the smoke were Mrs. and Mrs. Brenners and three children; Albert Ruben, his wife and three children, and H. Silverman, his wife and three children.

The flames were visible in Bellevue, across the Ohio River from McKees Rocks.

47 MILLIONS' WORK FOR PLANTS

Auto King in Market for Huge Steel Supply to Turn Out New Models

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

Pittsburgh mills will produce a major share of the $47,000,000 steel order to be placed by the Ford Motor Company to provide material for new types of fours and eights to appear in the showrooms shortly.

Declaring he was prepared to risk everything he had, Henry Ford announced in Detroit today, according to an Associated Press dispatch, that he was providing himself with materials to make 1,500,000 cars a year. He estimated his program would call for expenditures of $52,000,000 a month in the United States.

Production will start within a week and will be stepped up to 5,000 to 6,000 cars a day. In Detroit 100,000 will be employed at a minimum wage of $6 a day and suppliers of materials will give work to 300,000 more men in all parts of the country.

Detailed orders have not reached steel producers up to the present time, but any requirements as large as the contemplated orders would include a large number of mills in the Pittsburgh district.

Steel men are of the opinion that the desire to see the new Ford has been responsible for some hesitancy in buying of other cars. They anticipate that the release of Ford business will be accompanied by more activity on the part of other car builders and, consequently, in better steel orders.

Al Capone's Conviction Affirmed

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The conviction of "Scarface Al" Capone on charges of evading income tax laws was affirmed today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

Ever since he was sentenced by Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson last October 24, Capone has been in the Cook County Jail, where he did not get credit on his penitentiary term. Only yesterday the United States marshal placed a special 24-hour guard at his cell because of the many rumors that he was still controlling his gang and possibly planning a break if his appeal were denied.

In a 5,000-word opinion the high court upheld the indictments in which the gangster was charged with cheating the government of some $200,000 in tax, the verdict in which he was convicted on five of 21 counts and his sentence of 11 years and fine of $50,000.

Only the intervention of the United States Supreme Court can prevent Capone's removal to the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

Father Cox 'Jobless Party' Files Name for Primary

The first steptowardthe establishment of a national political party to be known as the Jobless Party, led by the Rev. James R. Cox, of Pittsburgh, was made today when papers pre-empting the name in this state were filed in the Dauphin County Court. The papers stated that one of the party objects would be to elect presidential electors.

Associates of Father Cox are also busy arranging to pre-empt the name of the party in other states.

The signatures on the papers were A. J. Krupuick, A. L. Staley, M. Harbison, Margaret Riley and George D. Keller, all residing in Pittsburgh.

The papers were filed by Staley, a Pittsburgh attorney and close associate of Father Cox.

The petition states a state ticket will also be put in the field. The offices for which candidates will be named, in addition to the 7 presidential electors are: United States Senator, Justice of the State Supreme Court; Auditor General, State Treasurer and two judges of the Superior Court.

Last night Father Cox, speaking at a mass meeting in Monongahela, made a verbal attack upon ex-Gov. Al Smith. He said:

"Don't believe anyone who tells you my speechmaking is a camouflage for the political campaign of anyone, either Republican or Democratic. You know what I think of the Republican leaders. And the Democrats—I have no regard for Al Smith. He represents Wall street and the money interests just as much as do the Republicans."

MANSFIELD IN PHILA. FOR 'MYSTERY' PARLEY ON SLATE

SEEKS SUPPORT FOR M'CLURE, STADTFELD

Called by Martin, Senator Declares; Crawford Also To Meet With Vare Men

International News Service

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27—Senator William D. Mansfield, Allegheny County Commissioner and Republican chairman, was in Philadelphia today on a political mission he admitted was mysterious. The Senator commented:

"Gen. Martin asked me to come here. And advised me that between now and Sunday he would tell me where to go.

"That's as much as I know. I have no proposition to offer, but if the opportunity presents itself I am going to do what I can for Judge Stadtfeld and Mr. McClure."

Mansfield is pressing for the slating of Superior Court Judge Joseph Stadtfeld of Pittsburgh. He is interested also in having representative James H. McClure of Glassport listed for auditor general.

E. R. Crawford, McKeesport tin-plate official, was expected here today from New York City, Mansfield said. It is thought they will meet City Chairman Hazlett and other Vare leaders.

Pittsburghers Meet Pinchot on Way East

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Two Allegheny County Republicans who have been leading the fight to give the west a larger representation on the party organization's state slate carried their troubles to Gov. Pinchot yesterday.

After the conference the westerners, County Commissioner-Senator William D. Mansfield and Edgar Kaufmann, Pittsburgh, left for Philadelphia and Gov. Pinchot departed for an unannounced destination. P. Stephen Stahlnecker, the Governor's secretary and the fourth party at the conference, made no statement of what occurred.

INSIST ON STADTFELD

The Allegheny County organization, Mansfield said, is insisting on the slating of Judge Joseph Stadtfeld, Pittsburgh, for a full term on the Superior Court, and Representative James H. McClure, Allegheny, for auditor general by the state organization.

Indications now are that the organization will support Judge William F. Parker, Oil City; Robert S. Gawthorp, Chester; and former Lieut. Gov. Arthur H. James, Plymouth, for the three vacancies on the superior court; and Senator Frank E. Baldwin, Potter, for auditor general.

In case an anti-organization ticket is placed in the field with representation for Allegheny County in proportion to what the county leaders believe they should have, the Allegheny organization would support that ticket rather than the state organization candidates, Mansfield said.

DISCUSS DAVIS RIVAL

He said the question of a candidate for United States Senator to oppose Senator Davis for the Republican nomination also was discussed, but he declined to reveal the names of the proposed candidates. He said that such a candidate would be opposed to any changes in the Volstead act.

TALBOT SCORES PINCHOT STAND

HARRISBURG, Feb. 26.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot was charged with "just playing old-fashioned Pinchot politics" in his efforts to obtain federal relief for the jobless, in a statement issued here last night by Representative Grover C. Talbot, of Norwood.

Pinchot, in Washington Thursday, reiterated his belief the La Follette-Costigan direct federal relief bill should have been passed. Talbot, an organization Republican, opposed the Pinchot relief plan throughout the special session of the Legislature last year and sponsored the $10,000,000 direct relief bill the organization legislators devised as a substitute. Talbot said last night:

"The bill bearing my name and providing $10,000,000 for the relief of the unemployed was passed by an overwhelming vote of both branches of the Legislature. And yet, since it became a law, the Governor directed his Attorney General to ask the courts to find it unconstitutional.

"In his strange hostility to relief, Gov. Pinchot stands alone among the governors of this country."

SEABURY FLAYS ROOSEVELT

CINCINNATI, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Samuel Seabury, chief counsel to the Hofstadter legislative committee investigating New York City's government, denounced Tammany Hall and criticized Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt last night at the dinner of the City Charter Committee.

One of the outstanding developments in Seabury's investigation was the recent removal from office of Sheriff Thomas M. Farley by Gov. Roosevelt.

Seabury's criticism of the New York Governor was predicated on the executive's delay in acting on charges of alleged illegal practices by Farley. Seabury said:

"Nothing having been done about it, I, myself, filed charges before the Governor and after two months' delay we got some action."

Seabury referred to Tammany Hall as a powerful national menace. He remained here today to study Cincinnati's city manager plan of government.

GARNER SCORES HOOVER DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(Universal.)—Speaker Garner yesterday criticized President Hoover "for letting government officials run around the country making political speeches when they ought to be at their work in Washington."

Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest L. Jahncke was Garner's main target for attack, because of his speech at Wooster, O., praising the President's leadership in meeting the economic situation. Garner said:

"The President, instead of asking Congress to create four new assistant secretaries as he did in his message last week, had better keep those he now has at home and at their official duties."

Asked by reporters what he thought of Jahncke's remark that President Hoover had provided so much leadership he had the Democrats "dizzy," Garner said:

"The country will determine the correctness of Jahncke's political speech."

Fall Kills North Side Man At Baby Grandson's Party

A fall during a drinking party in celebration of the birth of his grandson caused the death of Sherod Ours, 48, of 2103 Lowrie street, in Allegheny General Hospital early today, according to homicide detectives.

For 17 hours after he had fallen down a flight of steps Ours lay unconscious in his home, police reported. A son, learning his father's condition, removed him to the hospital.

His wife, Mrs. Ollie Ours, will be questioned further by North Side police today. She told police they reported that they celebrated the birth of their first grandson with a drinking party.

While the party was at its height Ours tumbled down the steps. Death was due to a fractured skull, according to a Coroner's report.

MENUHIN KEEPS BELATED 'DATE'

Yehudi Menuhin, 15-year-old boy prodigy of the violin, whose music thrilled hundreds at Carnegie Music Hall last night, proved himself just a regular boy when he had lunch yesterday with the president of the World Zionist Organization, Nahum Sokolow, here to lecture at the Y. M. & W. H. A. tonight. Both talked about their travels, and the boy's eyes lit up as he heard of places he had not seen. Then came a boyish boast:

"You have me beat now, but in two years I am going to make a world tour—Shanghai, Russia, all over."

A year ago, Sokolow heard Menuhin play in London. They met and became friendly but business prevented a luncheon engagement.

When they learned yesterday that they both were staying at the Schenley Hotel they decided to keep their belated luncheon appointment.

SENATE STANDS BY LABOR BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Almost certain approval of the Norris anti-injunction bill was in the air yesterday as the Senate brushed aside all modifying amendments and voted to outlaw the "yellow dog" labor contracts.

Showing an unmistakable will to approve the measure in its present form, the Senate rejected a series of amendments offered on behalf of a minority of the Judiciary Committee, which friends of the legislation claimed would weaken it.

Senate leaders predicted the final vote would come early next week, after a final chorus of speeches.

A provision outlawing "yellow dog" contracts, which forbid membership in labor unions, was retained without a record vote. This section of the bill declares such contracts to be contrary to public policy and provides they shall not be enforceable in federal courts.

Convicts Removed in Jail Delivery Fear

MT. STERLING, Ky., Feb. 27.—(INS.)—Fear of an attempted jail delivery prompted Judge Henry R. Prewitt to order William Hightower and W. B. Jones, mine union officials under life sentence for murder, removed to Lexington for safekeeping.

The two are under conviction for murder in connection with the Evarts, Ky., mine massacre, in which four were killed, last May.

ALLIED BOARDS TO SPUR WAR ON UTILITIES

Meager Rate Cut Proposal Condemned; Gas Company Attacked on Price Stand

Disgusted by the outcome of the City Council conference with the Philadelphia Company, through its president, Frank R. Phillips, in seeking a voluntary reduction in public utility rates here, the Allied Boards of Trade today was planning opposition with a more intensively organized effort.

The decision was reached yesterday by the board of directors which condemned the offer submitted. While the board will attend Monday's session when Council acts on the offer, the association will take no action at the meeting.

Refusal of the Equitable Gas Company to offer even a "modest" reduction was attacked in a statement issued by the directors. Citing the statement of Vice President F. F. Schauer before the Natural Gas Regional Sales Conference in William Penn Hotel Thursday that the supply of natural gas was unlimited, they held:

"We are mindful of the 20 cents per thousand cubic feet increase in the price of natural gas in this district just few years ago on the basis and cry of 'scarcity' of gas. We believe the several gas companies serving the Pittsburgh area should think of lowering the rates on the basis of Mr. Schauer's statement. The people are entitled to the benefits of these better conditions.

Policy on utility rates is expected to play an important part today in the election meeting of the Allegheny County Association of Township Commissioners in the courthouse. Representatives of 24 first class townships will discuss the problem, it was announced.

HOOVER TO ASK COURT CHANGES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—President Hoover's long-awaited recommendations for closing avenues of escape to the criminal haled before the federal courts will go to Congress early next week.

A special message dealing with this situation, with correction of inequalities in the bankruptcy laws, and relief of court congestion will be sent up. It has been in course of preparation a long time and embodies the result of more than two years of study by government men.

The changes to be recommended are numerous, although the principal objectives number only two. The first is fast handling of cases to deter crime by defeating the intricate maneuvers of clever criminal lawyers. The second is to save millions now lost to both bankrupts and their creditors.

Technicalities in the makeup of grand juries, whose breach has voided many government cases, would be dispensed with. More judges would be appointed.

ANTI-DRYS SEEK MORE SIGNERS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Congressional anti-drys today confidently declared they would force a roll call vote on a referendum on the Eighteenth Amendment despite their failure to obtain the necessary support in a two-day campaign.

With 145 signatures to a petition needed to bring the Beck-Linthicum constitutional amendment into the House, 122 members had signed the petition reposing on the Speaker's desk.

At least a dozen "dripping wets" were accounted for by illness or absence from the city, and the anti-prohibitionist leaders began applying pressure to members who have declared in the past that they would support a referendum.

The drys for the most part remained silent, exultant over the failure of their foes to get 145 members in two days, but waiting for the outcome to express their feelings.

The full strength of the major anti-dry organizations is expected to be applied to members who have thus far declined to sign.

Low pressure developed into a well defined center over Lake Erie, while the plateau high remained practically stationary. Another low of considerable intensity is developing over Alberta. The lake region low covers most of the lake region, the Ohio Valley states and eastward to the coast. It is producing cloudy weather over the Ohio Valley states and sprinkles of rain in Ohio and Indiana.

The temperature changes were unimportant. The weather continues mild over the entire country, and there is no indication of cold weather for this section for the next several days.

SHANGHAI PERIL TO U. S. GROWS

By HOBART C. MONTEE

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—With the full realization that all foreign residents at Shanghai were "skating on thin ice," authorities here today warily watched developments in the Sino-Japanese conflict, prepared to evacuate American nationals at almost a moment's notice.

The announced determination of the Japanese government to land additional troops in the International Settlement, and their point-blank refusal to anchor their warships further down the river, where they would not endanger the Settlement, has created a situation more fraught with disaster than anything that has gone before, officials felt.

The American Consul General, Edwin S. Cunningham, and the other consular officials at Shanghai were doing their utmost to dissuade the Chinese from their announced intention of shelling the Japanese consulate in event more troops were landed in the Settlement or unless the Japanese flagship withdrew from its present anchorage opposite the consulate. The Chinese have repeatedly protested the use of the Settlement as a base for Japanese troop operations as a violation of the Settlement's sanctity.

The only alternative for foreign nationals appeared to be evacuation.

Bandits Make Faces At 'Speakeasy' Bank

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(Universal.)—The State Bank at Hillside, a suburb, has used the speakeasy method of admitting customers since it was held up in 1930. That is, the doors are kept locked and only those are admitted who are known to be "all right."

This was extremely annoying yesterday to five bandits who drove up and, brandishing sawed-off shotguns, tried to enter. They tried the locked doors. Then they kicked on them spitefully, finally leaving empty-handed after making faces at the grinning officials inside.

CHINESE ARMY AT SHANGHAI REINFORCED

hind the Chinese lines. The night, hitherto believed safe for the Chinese from Japanese air attacks, thus became as dangerous a time as the day.

CHINESE UNDAUNTED

The Chinese, however, were not daunted, and they manned their heaviest guns to reply to the terrific bombardment.

The Japanese then revealed another new line of attack, opening an auxiliary fire from Hongkew park directed into the Kiangwan area. Previously the Hongkew guns had been used only to attack Chapei.

Despite the heavy Japanese attacks, however, the battle lines remained unchanged.

Up until the middle of the afternoon there had been no sight of the reinforcements en route from Japan. The uncertainty regarding these troop movements, guarded with greatest secrecy, kept the Shanghai populace highly apprehensive.

Many circles said today that the big Japanese drive would not be under way until next week, after the arrival of Gen. Yoshinori Shirakawa, Japan's supreme war councillor, who left Tokio yesterday to assume complete command of the Shanghai forces.

Japanese Troops Defeat Manchurian Insurgents

CHANGCHUN, Manchuria, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Japanese Manchuria forces struck a sharp blow in defense of the new Northeastern Federated State today by attacking and defeating a force of Chinese insurgents under Gen. Wang Teh-Lin.

The battle took place 25 miles northwest of Tunhua after the burning of a bridge on the Kirin-Tunhua Railway by the Chinese.

Reports from the area about Tunhua said, however, that the insurgent threat against the new state was becoming more and more serious and that bands of Wang Teh-Lin's followers were concentrating northeast and northwest of the city.

Lieut. Ren Mori, commanding the Japanese forces, considered the increasing danger so serious that he began the formation of a permanent railway guard along the Kirin-Tunhua line and moved his headquarters from Kungchulin.

GENEVA, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain, was elected president today of the disarmament conference political commission, which, will consider the French security proposals.

The election of Henderson was proposed by Hugh Gibson, acting chief of the United States delegation.

Gift Tax Disputes In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The much controverted question whether gifts made within two years of the death of the donor shall be subject to Federal taxes imposed on his estate was before the Supreme Court yesterday in two cases.

The question came before the court in cases involving gifts of $1,700,000 made by John W. Donnan of Pittsburgh, to his four children in March, 1927, Donnan dying in December 1928, and by William DuPont of Delaware, of approximately $6,300,000.

Gen. Pershing in Hospital Suffering From Cold

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Gen. Pershing was in Walter Reed Hospital today undergoing treatment for a cold.

He is not confined to bed and, Army officials said, his condition is by no means considered serious. But the commander of the A. E. F. is in his seventy-second year and his health is zealously guarded.

A few days ago he told friends he was not feeling very well. When on top of this feeling of indisposition a cold developed, he put himself in the hands of the Army's crack medical men. Several times in recent years he has gone to Walter Reed, principally for rest and as a preventive measure.

This winter he has been looking better than for some time. A portrait just completed shows him vigorous and boasting of his distinctive military bearing. To show that it was not the artist's doing, the General stood beside it for a flashlight photograph. He looked even more vigorous in the flesh than on canvas.

BANDITS ROB 18 IN RAID ON EAST END 'BOOKIE' RESORT

VICTIMS SHED TROUSERS AT GUN POINTS

Ruse Aids Getaway of 3 With $1,000 Loot; Police Deny Knowing of Robbery

Police today said they didn't know three gunmen held up an East Liberty bookmaking establishment as the racing wires closed, robbed 18 players of about $1,000, and subjected them to the additional indignity of making them remove their pants to retard pursuit.

Into the racing hangout known as Jack's, on the second floor of a building in the heart of East Liberty, came three dapper strangers, about 6:30 last night, who mingled with the other sportsmen, studied the racing form sheets, and even placed a wager on the last race.

Suddenly one of the trio flashed a gun, and quietly announced a robbery was about to occur.

The easy money men were taken by surprise.

Two more guns leveled at them by the gunman's confederates made the situation look like a sure thing bet.

The bookmaker's purse was the first to be emptied. It was swelled from the afternoon's business. The lesser purses of the sportsmen came next, and in less than 10 minutes there wasn't a dime in the place, except that in the hands of the bandits.

Another command of the leader informed the victims to remove their trousers. The command was received humorously at first, but the guffaws that followed were silenced when those from which they came were prodded roughly with the trio's flashing guns.

They complied, and one by one the embarrassed gamesters added their trousers to the pile in the middle of the floor. They were kicked around by the bandits to cause confusion after they left and forestall mass pursuit.

DANCER K. O.'D WITH GUN

Thomas Nolan, 24, former marathon and stage dancer, was slugged and knocked unconscious early today as he and a watchman investigated prowlers Nolan had sighted trying to enter the Gem Manufacturing Company in Goebel street, North Side.

Nolan, entering his auto at Fontella and Fulton streets sighted the prowlers near the factory building. He called John O'Malley, a night watchman, and the two started around the building in opposite directions.

His circle almost completed, O'Malley stumbled over Nolan's prostrate body.

Revived, the dancer said he had been slugged with the stock end of a shotgun.

At Presbyterian Hospital, doctors said his injury was not serious. The prowlers escaped.

Oliver, and an unidentified male customer were ordered to hold up their hands by the thug as he rifled the till. Barbour told police the man asked for a dozen of eggs, and as he turned his back pointed a revolver at him and the others.

MRS. RUBY SMITH ROSEN . . . 'MISS OAKLAND (CAL.), 1927'

Husband Has One Worry—Aviation Is Her Hobby

A new housewife in Pittsburgh knows what becomes of beauty prize winners — at least one of them. Mrs. Lucy Smith Rosen, 340 Oakland avenue, has a large scrap book full of pictures and clippings to prove that she was crowned Miss Oakland (Cal.) in 1927. But she really doesn't need any proof.

Morris Rosen, a Pittsburgh boy, went to Oakland four years ago to work in a store. Last April he decided to make Miss Oakland Mrs. Rosen, and he did. They have been in Pittsburgh only a few weeks.

Her husband has only one worry about Mrs. Rosen and that is:

"She has one hobby, and that would have to be aviation."

MEXICO DIVORCE FOUGHT HERE

The legal effect of a Mexican divorce in Pennsylvania and its effect upon property rights are questions raised for the first time in Allegheny County in an equity suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Mrs. Mary F. McDermott, of New York City, against James McDermott.

She related they were married February 26, 1921, and that he deserted her June 3, 1931, failing since to support her, and that he is attempting to obtain, or has already obtained, a divorce in Mexico, without justification.

Mrs. McDermott charged there has been no notice to her, that such a divorce is null and void, and that he intends to deprive her of her rights in property on South Eighteenth street, Pittsburgh, in New York and other places. She charged McDermott is conspiring with another woman to defraud her.

The suit asked an injunction restraining McDermott from conveying property in this county, also for its seizure to guarantee support.

AIRMAN SAVES 3 AS PLANE HITS WIRES HERE

Pilots Ship Through Flame Of Electrical Contact to Safe Landing Near Bettis

A Commerce Department inspector and two other passengers of a Pittsburgh-to-Cleveland mail plane are alive today thanks to Pilot Harry L. Smith's ability to land his craft safely after its landing gear had tangled in three high tension wires near Bettis Field late last night.

Thrown from their seats, but otherwise uninjured, W. L. Pike, of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce; Frank Beverly Powers, of Trenton avenue, Wilkinsburg, and C. Emmert, of Chicago, clambered out of the plane as the pilot maneuvered it to a forced landing.

Smith, formerly operations manager of the airport, said he gave his engine the gas when he saw the wires too late to clear them. As the landing gear meshed with the wires the plane was enveloped in a sheet of flame.

Pike, who stopped off in Pittsburgh for the night, said:

"There is no reason why the ship didn't catch fire when she struck the wires. It was only on account of the very good work of the pilot. It is very surprising to me that obstruction lights have not been placed on those wire poles. They certainly should be."

Clifford Ball, manager of the Pittsburgh office of Pennsylvania Air Lines, estimated damage to the plane at $1,000, and Duquesne Light Company officials said it would cost several hundred dollars to repair the damage to their wires on Simpson's farm, Bull Run road, within half a mile of the airport.

Pilot Smith immediately transferred the mail to another plane and took off for Cleveland. Emmert continued to Cleveland by train, it was reported at the port.

2 DIE IN PLUNGE OF AUTO

YOUNGWOOD, Pa., Feb. 27.—Two men were killed and a third seriously injured when an automobile in which they were riding plunged nearly 150 feet from a bridge to the right-of-way of the Pennsylvania Railroad near Youngwood early today.

James Truxel, 35, of West Newton avenue, Greensburg, and Charles Connors, 40, of Baltimore, were killed. James Grace, 51, of Pennsylvania avenue, Greensburg, extricated from the wreckage after an hour, was in a serious condition in the Greensburg Hospital with a crushed chest.

The men, imprisoned beneath the wrecked machine for nearly three hours, according to Grace, were discovered by Theodore Holtzer, engineer of a passenger train, when he noticed the machine lying beside the tracks with the lights burning.

Holtzer notified Morris Henry, train dispatcher, who pulled the victims from beneath the machine and called Dr. H. A. McMurray, coroner.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The Prince of Wales paid warm tribute to the British press in a speech last night and revealed that he does not mind in the least being made the subject of newspaper publicity. Speaking at a banquet attended by more than 300 editors and others prominent in the newspaper world, the Prince said:

13 LOSE LIVES IN FLOODS

SEATTLE, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—On the heels of warm Chinook winds and heavy rains, Western Washington was in the grip today of the greatest menace from floods and earth and snow slides in years, with 13 lives already taken.

In the mountains of the Western Cascades, a death-dealing torrent of water and mud swept away part of the little community of Edgewick yesterday afternoon and four women, two children and one man were lost. The debris was still being searched today for two of the bodies.

The melting snow fields in the mountains, in addition to threatening slides and devastation to whatever might be in their path, also filled rivers. In Western Washington, the Stillaguamish, Snoqualmie, Green, Puyallup, Raging and Stuck rivers were bank full, or overflowing.

From the Canadian line south to the Columbia River, highways and railroad lines were blocked by washouts, wire service was handicapped, and many families were marooned or fleeing from river valleys to higher ground.

LONELY POWERS WANTS GUESTS

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va., Feb. 28.—(AP.)—Harry F. Powers, "bluebeard" of the hills, doesn't like the treatment he is getting in prison. He wants visitors, because he is lonely.

Condemned to hang, March 18, for the killing of Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, of Northboro, Mass., the matrimonial agent is denied all visitors except lawyers and prison employes. His only exercise is a walk in the prison yard under guard.

Prison officials say he is still in custody of Harrison County and is merely kept in prison for safety. He has no number. Pending action on his appeal, he will remain in that status. A mob threatened his life in the Harrison County Jail before he was moved here.

Powers was also indicted for the slaying of Mrs. Esta Buick Eichers and her three children, of Park Ridge, Ill., but was not tried for the crime.

COUNTY LEGION READY TO OPEN JOB DRIVE

Vets to Begin Action Monday Aiding National Campaign; Work for 1,000,000 Goal

Allegheny County posts of the American Legion were preparing today for active participation in the organization's national campaign to provide employment for 1,000,000 men and women.

Concentrating efforts on the house-to-house canvass for repair and improvement work from property owners, many of the posts will start this part of the program next week. Plans were discussed last night at a meeting of post commanders called by the unemployed committee chairman, Robert K. Cockrane, Jr., in William Penn Hotel.

Headquarters will be opened Tuesday in William Penn Hotel, where employers and householders seeking workers for full or part time employment will be supplied. A direct telephone connection, Atlantic 6460, will reach the headquarters in charge of Howard F. Croushore.

County Commander John J. Deller announced an important plan for co-operation with industrial leaders will be ready within two weeks. Harry S. Hall, personal representative of National Commander Henry L. Stevens, Jr., will speak before the monthly meeting Tuesday night in Fort Pitt Hotel and assist in completing preliminary details.

Many workers have been given employment by various posts while preparing to start the campaign. East Liberty post reported the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce, civic and church groups were co-operating for that district. Perry Highway post is asking householders in the North Hills Estates and Wellington Plan to each pay 50c weekly towards employment of men to guard residences at night. No police patrol the district. Fifty-nine owners were reported to have agreed to the plan.

Harris Asks Churches Support Relief Plan

The necessity of help from the churches in enlisting support for the emergency relief of 35,000 families in Allegheny County was stressed by Senator Frank J. Harris in a conference with civic leaders yesterday at William Penn Hotel.

Senator Harris' plan was revealed in an address before the Allied Boards of Trade. He proposes to find 35,000 individuals or groups who will give $100 each to furnish each of the needy families with $33.33 a month for three months.

A. K. Oliver told of the survey which will disclose the needs of the communities of Allegheny County and suggest sources of relief. Further work on the plan was done yesterday at a meeting of the Committee of Six, representing the Welfare Fund and the Allegheny County Emergency Association.

Forty men have been hired through the Emergency Association as athletic coaches, caretakers and teachers of special classes in schools and settlement houses. A number of women will be given similar employment next week.

The work is planned by W. C. Bachelor, superintendent of the City Bureau of Recreation, and Miss Isabel Kennedy, of the Federation of Social Agencies. Nearly all the men employed are college graduates.

'Sweetest Voice' Test To Bring Gala Week

STARS OF WCAE ON STAGE

Monday night begins a gala week at the Alvin Theater. The entire week, up to and including Saturday night with a Saturday matinee, will be given over to the public auditions in the Sun-Telegraph-WCAE search for "the girl with the sweetest voice." There are hundreds of girls in this unique contest and they will be welcomed and cheered by all of the popular stars of Radio Station WCAE who will appear in a complete program of mirth and music at every audition.

This will be the first time in Pittsburgh that there has been public auditions to find a speaking voice that will be attractive in radio broadcasting and this search for the really "sweetest voice" has attracted no little attention. In fact the applications for auditions have been so many and so enthusiastic that it was necessary to provide an auditorium to complete the test.

The auditions will begin as early as 7:30 o'clock nightly and 1:30 Saturday afternoon, but the big stage shows to be given by the stars of WCAE will not begin until 8:15 an 2:15 p. m.

And what a show! Paul Gannon, the tenor; Kathryn Trnavsky and Virgina Harmon, sopranos; Dave Olson, the "Seth Parker of Pittsburgh;" Riggs and Moke, the "crazy pair;" Stephanie Diamond, drama; Ralph Federer, pianist; Ford Miller and Raymond Griffin, bassos; Katherine Rickert, violinist; the Lawson Sisters, harmony team, and Frank Natale, "master of strings."

Yes, it's going to be a gala week with a big show—an opportunity to see the stars that have made WCAE popular in every home within the reach of every radio.

Frances Forsyth chose a gown of black tulle with a skirt of tiers of deep tulle ruffles. Her wrap was of black velvet, with shawl collar and cuffs of white fox.

Mrs. Roy A. Hunt wore cinnamon brown chiffon with a deep bertha of brown chiffon and beige lace. Her mother, Mrs. Mortimer Miller, was in black velvet with a wrap of black velvet having a deep collar and cuffs of chinchilla.

Mrs. C. A. Painter, Jr., choose delphinium blue crepe, and a black velvet wrap, trimmed in white fur, and Mrs. Frederick Blackburn was in black chiffon.

Mellon appeared to be in good health. He was in fine spirits. He said he doubted he would play much golf while here, confiding:

"I am not much of a golfer. I have not played for a long time."

Mellon was accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. David Bruce, his son-in-law and daughter.

THE STORY OF JOHN N. GARNER

By George Rothwell Brown

(Copyright, 1932, by Universal Service, Inc. All Rights Reserved.)

SPEAKER AND MRS. JOHN N. GARNER AT WORK IN HIS CONGRESSIONAL OFFICE QUARTERS

CHAPTER VII.

John N. Garner was called upon to face one of the most perplexing problems of his life on the very day upon which he first took his seat in Congress.

It is characteristic of the man that he met that problem in accordance with his own ideas of right and wrong. To solve it the way he did solve it, he was obliged to break with his party at the outset. Rather than break with himself, he did it.

President Roosevelt had brought the Fifty-Eighth Congress into being a month ahead of time to jam the Cuban reciprocity bill through. And jam it through the House he did, on November 19, 1903, when the measure passed by the one-sided vote of 356 to 21. Most of the Democrats were for it. Garner was among the 21.

To Garner, Cuban reciprocity was contrary to the simple creed of the platform upon which he had been elected. That platform was specifically declared:

"We denounce both the doctrine of free raw material and Republican reciprocity as tending to a free trade West and South and a protected North and East, making unequal the burden of taxation and increasing the wealth of the two last-named sections and decreasing the wealth of the first two named."

A Bold Stand

On that platform of the Fifteenth Congressional District of Texas John N. Garner boldly stood on the final roll call on Roosevelt's Cuban reciprocity. Representative Burgess, alone of the Lone Star Democrats, stood by him and voted against the bill. Later both had the satisfaction of seeing the Democratic Texas senators oppose the measure in the Senate.

Garner's vote, in the face of indorsement of the measure by the Democratic caucus, took courage. But courage was precisely what he had in large quantities. His actions instead of injuring him in the party, enhanced his standing. It was the first disclosure, at the very beginning of his career that he held views of his own on the tariff. That was to aid him materially later on. His views on "Republican reciprocity" have not changed—but the idea of reciprocity, in his hands has changed.

His first committee assignment on Railways and Canals, unimportant though it was, played into his hands. He was interested in the subject of a coastal canal for Texas. He began studying all available engineer reports on this subject. He also saw Surgeon General Wyman and urged the adoption of sanitary measures to prevent a recurrence of yellow fever on the Texas-Mexican border.

But for the most part, in these political kindergarten days, he devoted himself entirely to the business of making friends, and in this he quickly exhibited a talent that amounted to downright genius. He was everywhere, in and out of the Capitol, getting acquainted, and doing it naturally. There was nothing forced about it. It was an instinct.

Famous Poker Club

There was a famous poker club in town, known as the Boar's Head, a strictly private and exclusive institution. Here a group of solemn Senators, and a few old cronies of the House, like Uncle Joe Cannon, gathered nightly to spin yarns and enjoy each other's society over the card table. Most of them, in their reminiscences, were still fighting over the Civil War.

The fame which young Judge Garner, of Uvalde, had enjoyed as an expert authority on the national game of America reached Washington. It was at the Boar's Head that the baby Congressman from Texas first met Speaker Cannon. Tradition has it that it cost Uncle Joe no small sum to meet him.

Those who think that friendships thus made are not among the most enduring of earthly things do not know Washington, at any rate.

It was discovered that John N. Garner was a thoroughly wholesome, open-hearted good fellow, with a man's outlook on life and an esprit typically and fundamentally American. Everybody liked him, and wanted him around. On the nineteenth of December, less than two weeks after the regular session of the Fifty-Eighth Congress had begun on December 6, the Washington correspondent of the Houston Post said in his paper:

Admired by Others

"Congressman John N. Garner, of Uvalde, is the wonder and admiration of all the other members of the Texas delegation. He had not been in the Capital two weeks before he was acquainted with more members of the House and Senate and with public men generally than many members who have been here for years. Now he has met nearly all of them from the President to the clerks of committees, and can call each of them by his name when he meets him. He has met all of the public men who have been in the city, and is now engaged in getting acquainted with prominent men who visit Washington, but who do not stay long enough for many men to learn they have been here. Judge Gordon Russell says Mr. Garner's record in getting acquainted so rapidly is marvelous, and that he never saw anything like it in all his political experience."

Now and then the new Congressman introduced a bill. He wanted a public building at Eagle Pass, Texas. He wanted a survey of the channel of Arkansas Pass. He desired to enlarge the jurisdiction of the Court of Claims. Bills bearing on these three subjects were his sole contribution to the legislative "hopper" in his first session, and this at a time when most members were flooding the Congressional Record with their pet measures.

Looks and Listens

Not once did he rise in his place and make a speech. That was not his system. Where are the chatter-boxes of the Fifty-Eighth Congress? History records not their names.

The second session of his first Congress began on December 7, 1903, and on March 12, 1904, he reported from the committee on Railways and Canals his first bill, providing for a coastwise canal in Texas. It met the fate of most measures of the kind. The third session this Congress began on December 5, 1904, and after a long summer recess at his home in Uvalde, he returned to the job.

February 25, 1905, was a proud day for young Garner. The question before the House was a resolution setting apart a day for appropriate exercises for the reception by Congress, for Statuary Hall, in the Capitol, of the statues of Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin. Said Speaker Cannon:

"The gentleman from Texas, Mr. Garner, will please take the chair."

Proud moment indeed—and a prophetic one. In the midst of applause the slim, boyish-looking Texan mounted the rostrum, and for the first time in his life felt in his hand the gavel that more than a quarter of a century later he was to inherit, in his own right, from Clay, Colfax, Blaine, Crisp, Carlisle and Reed.

Earlier than this, in the same session, a Republican currency bill was under consideration. On January 5, 1905, Mr. Garner, for the first time participated in the debate in the House. He asked some pertinent questions showing his knowledge of banking. It was only a brief exchange, but it increased his prestige in the House.

Is Easily Re-elected

Garner was re-elected with little opposition to the Fifty-ninth Congress. On February 13, 1906, he called up his first bill creating a new division of the western judicial district of Texas, and to provide for terms of court at Del Rio.

Sereno E. Payne, the Republican leader, suspected, and said so, that the ultimate object of the bill was to obtain a courthouse for Del Rio.

"The people of this district," replied Garner, "have to travel from 100 to 420 miles to get to court at the present time in the territory embraced in this bill. The bill would shorten this distance for them from 35 to 250 miles."

A short speech, but effective. Payne's piously expressed hope that the bil would not pass was unheeded by his own Republican colleagues. Garner had made a frank appeal, and a short but effective speech. His first bill was passed.

A few days later he had a sharp collision with Speaker Cannon when he insisted that bills on the calendar should be considered in the order in which they had been reported. The Speaker finally agreed, and thereafter the bills were put through in their turn. It prevented the possibility of favoritism. A small point, but as an index to Garner's sense of fair play, a significant one.

Incidentally, foxy old Serano Payne had been right about that Del Rio courthouse—in the next Congress young Garner calmly put in a bill for one.

BERNIE LOSES $500 VERDICT

MONROE, Mich., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Ben Bernie, radio orchestra leader, has a matter of $500 damages to settle here with Clarence L. Kirk, dance hall manager, who charged the jazz maestro hit him over the head with a music rack.

A circuit court jury awarded Kirk $500, after he had asked $5,000, claiming Bernie's blow had "made him dizzy" ever since. Bernie denied using a music rack, saying he couldn't read music and never carried a rack. The jazz maestro said he struck Kirk with his fist, after Kirk threatened him with a pistol during an argument last summer over the length of a dance program. Bernie said:

"I cracked a bone in my hand, and I couldn't play the violin for 12 weeks. I couldn't play golf all season, either."

Miles H. Knowles, Bernie's attorney, said Kirk had not paid Bernie's orchestra its $500 fee for the engagement, and he declared:

"I think we're all square."

2 Persons Sought in Estate Settlements

McDonnell, of Akron, O., asking assistance in finding Mrs. Della Martin, wife of a wealthy race horse owner of Akron.

INCOME TAX RETURNS

Suggestions to Aid in Making Report to the Government for Taxpayers as Well As Non-Taxpayers

This is the fourth of a series of articles planned to give assistance in making out federal income tax returns.

Many individuals suffered losses from their regular business or from activities outside of their regular businesses during 1931. It is of particular importance to report these losses since they may make it unnecessary to pay a tax this year and may be used to reduce taxes in the next two years.

To be deductible for tax purposes a loss must occur as a result of operations in a business in which the individual is engaged. A loss arising from isolated transaction cannot be deducted.

But a person may have more than one business. He may be employed on a salary and may also be engaged in trading in securities. He might also be a real estate operator in addition to some other business.

Perhaps the greatest number of tax losses for the year will be claimed by salaried employes who have been trading in securities. If these losses were less than the salary received they may be used to reduce the tax to be paid. If they exceeded the salary received, the excess may be deducted from income for the next two years until it is finally absorbed.

The loss provision is not a new feature of the income tax law. A person who reported a loss for 1929 might deduct it from 1930 income and if part still remained to be absorbed it could be charged against 1931 income. Similarly net losses for 1930 can be applied against 1931 income and if they exceed this figure the balance can be applied against 1932 income.

LOUIS L. KAUFMAN, Sun-Telegraph Globe-Trotter, received this letter yesterday from Mrs. C. D. Evans:

"I know from your Globe-Trotter talks that you like children and will enjoy this:

"Little 4-year-old Barbara Hughes, of Dormont, knows that her mother will come from any part of the house, no matter how busy, to hear your latest news bulletins, just as I and a lot of other housewives do.

"Barbara, being greatly intrigued with the pictures of Chinese in her story books, catches one part of your talks, particularly, i. e., the oft reiterated word 'Chinese,' from which she draws her own conclusions. For, this morning, when she heard you come on the radio, she ran out into the kitchen, calling:

"'Mommy, mommy, come quick; that Chinaman's on the radio!'"

Mr. and Mrs. Hoot Gibson Leave Apartment For Bungalow

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1932, by King Features Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27.

A Hollywood human interest story is to be found in Sally Eilers and Hoot Gibson.

They have moved from their swank Hollywood apartment to a Beverly Hills bungalow so that Hoot's daughter by his former marriage could be taken out of boarding school and have a real home to live in.

Sally Eilers

There's only a difference of 14 years in the ages of Sally and Hoot's little girl. Sally is 22 and Lois Gibson is 8. And Lois calls Sally "Mimi." The two are very fond of each other.

As Sally explained it to me: "We are near enough of an age to be friends. I always thought it would be ideal to have a baby when you're about 19. I intend to have one myself by the time I'm 25. But I want a few years either to get established on the screen, or to know I'm not going to get anywhere."

In the meantime, Sally says she and Hoot are happy to have Lois living with them and going to a nearby public school.

LUCKY MR. MILJAN

Over at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, they're always twitting John Miljan about being the studio handyman.

It was Edgar Alan Woolf who flipped: "John's been in so many M. G. M. pictures they're going to take the lion's head off the trade-mark and use his face instead."

AND SO TO GOSSIP

Ernie and Percy Westmore, Hollywood make-up expert, have merged—at least their first names. So many people were unable to distinguish between these two twin brothers that henceforth each wants to be called Percern . . . "The Trial of Vivienne Ware," new Fox picture is the first film to be adapted from a Radio script . . . Jetta Goudal has one of those white drawing rooms that are all the rage . . . Saw Ruth Chatterton and Ralph Forbes at the fights . . . Janet Gaynor will take George Hill's place at the beach . . . Constance Cummings went down to the train to see Junior Laemmle off. So what? . . . Arthur Hornblow, Sam Goldwyn executive, is back in town . . . Gretta Nissen threatens to take up polo. She vows she's serious . . . And Kay Francis played her first game of tennis in two years the other day. Back in school, Kay was a sprinter, basketball star, skater and tennis shark.

Ruth Chatterton.

LOWLY SERIAL LOOKS UP

Universal has bought Conan Doyle's "The Lost Express," and will make a serial out of it this year. Incidentally, the serial business picks up. If you can believe the U, their multi-reel thriller, "The Indians Are Coming," grossed as much last year as any of their program features. The Roxy Theater in New York played three of the company's four serials. This year they'll make five, with Henry MacRae supervising, and Roy Taylor doing most of the directing.

MUSIC
Yehudi Menuhin
Carnegie Music Hall

PROGRAM

Sonata in G minor (Devil's trill) . . . . Tartini
Sonata for Violin Alone, in A minor . . . . Bach
Concerto in G minor, opus 26 . . . . Bruch
Guitarre . . . Moszkowski-Sarasate
La Ronde des Lutins (The dance of the gobiins) . . . Bazzini
Tambourin Chinois . . . . Kreisler
Serenade . . . . . . Tschaikowsky
Caprice XXIV . . . . Paganini

Yehudi Menuhin, whose violin playing is now world news, again gave a thrilling recital in Carnegie Music Hall last night. Many children, newcomers to our concerts, and all the old devotees were on hand to add to the enthusiasm.

Mr. Lissfelt

It was a program for mature players, and, make no mistake about it, there was no further touch of youth in the playing other than its fresh tempo. In the two years since this boy has played for us he has made rapid strides toward maturity. There is a more charming repose, greater freedom in attack and in tone; in the cantilena, a broader sweep towards the romantic; and, if possible, more brilliance, in all the technical tricks that Yehudi has had at his finger tips these many years. If anyone ever believed that he was a made-to-order artist, certainly all those superstitions were dispelled last night during that continuous outpouring of inspired music.

The Tartini Sonata had memorable moments, especially in the cadenza, when tone flowed like a mad torrent. The unaccompanied Bach Sonata gave us phrases that might be the envy of any bel canto singer; the fugue throughout to the mighty climax showed us two happy, healthy souls—old Bach's and young Menuhin's. And when has the Bruch Concerto known such color, such vigor, such grand declamation?

Pyrotechnics came in full measure with the group of shorter works. Exquisite harmonics, swift scale passages, pizzicati flying like sparks startled one into realization that Menuhin could probably outplay his predecessors if he chose not to remain the artist for the music's sake. Stamping feet, handclapping and bravos recalled him many times. Among his encores were the Schubert "Ave Maria" and Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Bumble Bee." Artur Balsam played accompaniments like a true musician. His Bruch was a brilliant performance.

The concert was unforgetably beautiful; may God give us all enough years to hear Yehudi Menuhin in his maturity!

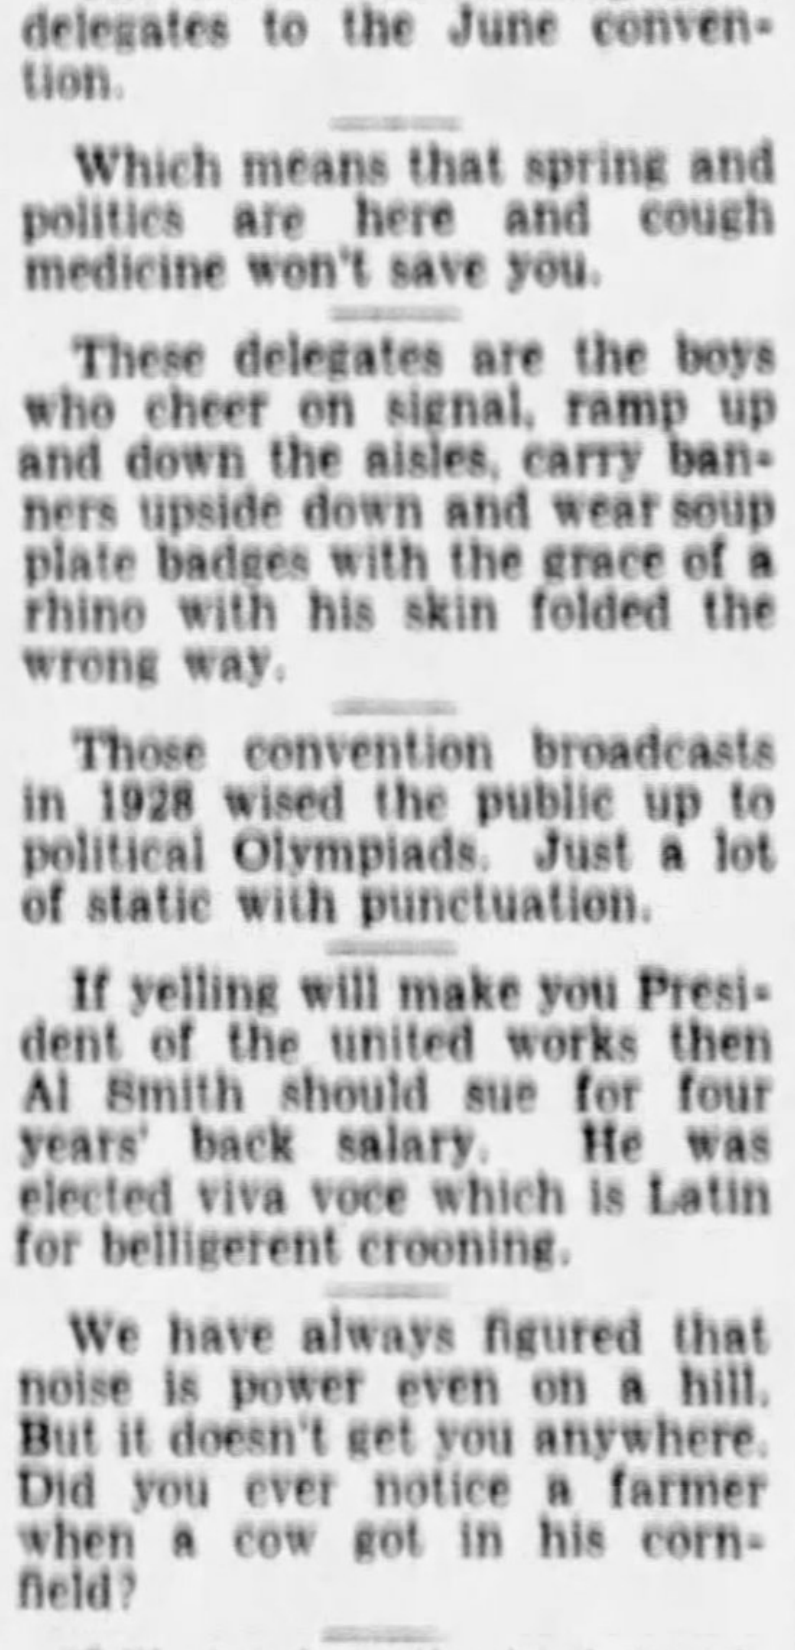
J. FRED LISSFELT.

Standing Room Only For Hipps' 'Hamlet'

That silence in which pins can be heard to drop marked an audience gathered last night to hear Frank Hipps give a reading of Shakespeare's "Hamlet" in the auditorium of the Byron W. King School of Oratory, of which Dr. Hipps is president. It was an audience that left "standing room only" in the Knoxville hall.

Dr. Hipps gave a quiet and scholarly reading, connecting the important scenes with descriptive commentaries, making it all as dramatic as if it were acted. The whole play was condensed into an hour and a quarter without loss of any essential point. Genuine applause attested to the success of the ambitious effort, as the entire reading was given from memory.

Soloist



Walter Gieseking, pianist, will be soloist in the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra's fourth concert of the season in Syria Mosque tomorrow night.

War Scenes In Hearst News

THE GLOBE TROTTER

The horrors of the biggest battle since the World War are vividly pictured in the current issue of Hearst Metrotone News, being seen in the Penn, Fulton and other theaters. Chapei, the native district of the metropolitan city of Shanghai, deluged by bombs from Japanese planes, is shown a dead and deserted city. The streets appear as though some earthquake convulsion had stricken it. The North Station, one of the principal targets of the bombers, is a twisted mass of ruins. Barracades, blasted by bomb and infantry fire are hastily restored, and the pictures show the beginning of a counter attack by the Chinese. The scene shifts to the Honkew District, where a report that the Japanese are coming creates the wildest panic. As a striking finale the pictures show the arrival inside the settlement of the Thirty First United States Infantry from Manila, 1,500 strong.

Whizzing outboard motors make their bow for 1932 in a race at New Smyrna, Fla., for the Sir Thomas Lipton trophy. So fast is the pace that many of the entrants flop on the turn. Walter Widegren, of New York, wins the event and is handed the trophy by Sir Malcolmn Campbell, auto speed champion of the world.

Los Angeles stages a waiters' race with 50 hash-slingers hotfooting it through the streets, each carrying a tray containing a pint of milk and a glass. Joe Castmagna wins the prize of a cup and a $100 tip from the hands of Tito Schipa, the opera star and the guest of honor of the event.

The election of Eamon de Valera as President of the Irish Free State is illustrated with pictures, among others showing him on his last visit to the United States. The anti-British leader tells of his views and plans for the future.

Miss Aase Clausen wins the crown of Miss Europe at the Continental Beauty Contest in Nice, France. Miss Clausen, who is from Denmark, will be seen at the Galveston show this summer, where she will compete for the title of Miss Universe.

Spring, Politics And Huge Noise Drawing Near

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

The states are electing their delegates to the June convention.

Which means that spring and politics are here and cough medicine won't save you.

These delegates are the boys who cheer on signal, ramp up and down the aisles, carry banners upside down and wear soup plate badges with the grace of a rhino with his skin folded the wrong way.

Those convention broadcasts in 1928 wised the public up to political Olympiads. Just a lot of static with punctuation.

If yelling will make you President of the united works then Al Smith should sue for four years' back salary. He was elected viva voce which is Latin for belligerent crooning.

We have always figured that noise is power even on a hill. But it doesn't get you anywhere. Did you ever notice a farmer when a cow got in his cornfield?

He'll stand on the back porch yelling at it for three hours. And finally has to go down and kick it in the ribs.

Temporary Insight

I am agreeably conscious of
The fact there isn't so much love—
Brief ecstasy and an interim
Of contemplating the faults of him,
Before the glamour returns again,
And brings that sharp "do you love me" pain.
I know the cycle and every phase;
My mind is washed of emotion's haze;
I know and I know love is tiresome,
And a girl's a fool to require some . . .

Oh, well I know, but small comfort these—
A rack of books and a Pekingese.

—Jane Sayre.

Oop!

From a constant Madison (Wis.) reader comes the one about the columnist who was found dead at his desk, clearly a suicide. A note in his machine read:

"Dear W fe and fam ly and Fr ends: Forg ve me. Had to do t. Broke the lette. eye on my typewr ter, and t can't be f xed for ton ght's column."

Merciless Truth

Unkie Shafer's favorite pepigram is:

"The applause of the people is but a blast of air!"

A Form of Criticism

Wilson Mizner, one of the more amusing clowns in Hollywood, saw Rufus LeMaire, who has a nose like Jimmy Durante's, at a recent movie premiere.

"Rufus, in a silk hat," barked Mizner, "sets civilization back 800 years!"

Another

In the long ago days Wilson Mizner ran a dice house in Alaska where he taught many a sucker a good lesson. He was reminiscing about those times the other night and said:

"I once had a waiter there who was such a petty thief—he invented rubber pockets to steal soup!"

Nifty

Beau Broadway's pepigram is a pip:

"The only trouble about putting up a bluff on Broadway is that you fall over it."

Pepitaph No. 6

Add to our list of appropriate epitaphs—the suggestion from J. Pearlman, to wit: Erect a tall and heavy monument over W. W.'s grave and have it inscribed:

"Walter Winchell, His Last Column—And His Best!"

O, Mr. Wilstach!

For The Dictionary of Best Similes: Helen Rowland's: No more binding than the straps on a Florida bathing suit . . . Ted Cook: Alike as two books on racketeering . . . Skeptical as a gossip columnist about a star's domestic bliss . . . Jack Harrower: As inefficient as an efficiency system . . . Dave Bader: As much sex-appeal as Gandhi. . . . Bugs Baer: His voice sounds like leaky plumbing . . . Anon: Just as sure as a George Jessel imitator is to sing "My Mother's Eyes" . . . Lester Zimmerman: Unexpected as a squirt from an aggressive grapefruit. . . . Geo. J. McGiveny: As self-conscious as the wife of a psychoanalyst . . . Anon: Funny as a drunkard in a house of mirrors . . . Mac Benoff's: Her kisses were as cold as the African team in the Olympic bobsled races. . . . Pathfinder: Money is as hard to borrow these days as it is to pay back!

As If We Didn't Know

And it is Al Schwartz's observation that the only thing true about a Broadpay Pal—is his aim.

What! With No Lights On

He is a young artist in New York and his name is Hugh Troy. He can sit through the spooky flickers and come away unmoved. "Frankenstein" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" are practically sissies, so far as he is concerned.

For he carries his grandmother's bones around with him in one of those Boston bags. It seems that his grandma's grave was right in the path of a new road, and the authorities notified him to move it elsewhere. So he conceived the quaint notion that he'd like to have her bones around the house. They rest at night at the foot of his bed.

There! Try and go to sleep!

Curse

"I hope," hopes J. H. Pollack, of Philadelphia, "that all your children become columnists and have their style burgled!"

Heheheh

A worthy and Above-The-Belt competitor is the conductor of the column called "Main Street Meditations," in the esteemed Plain Dealer, of Cleveland. The sender of the following clipping did not include the columnist's handle, and we are in haste.

However, the paragrapher had this to jot down:

"Another friend of mine discoursed for half an hour on the tragedies Winchell undoubtedly caused by his gossip. After we had all agreed with her that he ought to be suppressed, she entertained us for another half hour by telling us the full details of a separation between two people we all know."

By Way of Comfort

Take it from the pen of that grand poet, author and reviewer, Richard Le Gallienne:

"Gossip is the social reward of personality. Whether it be playful or poison-fanged, it is a recognition, a tribute one of the most gratifying forms of success.

"So long as one is gossiped about, it is immaterial what shape or color the gossip takes. The ugly kind is perhaps to be preferred as having more vitality, more motive power of circulation. And, of course, has nothing to do with the truth, good or bad. That is why it is gossip.

"Gossip neither means that you are very great, nor even very bad; all it means is that you are very interesting."

Plays, Players and By-Play

—By WILLIAM J. LEWIS—

Bert Lahr, who makes the audience howl and roll in the aisles, as the saying is, in "Hot-Cha," which begins its second and final week in the Nixon Monday, would make you cry if you tried to interview him. He's reporter-shy. Yes sir, that bold front that he puts on on the stage is real art. He's ill at ease in the presence of the mighty power of the press. Even when it is represented by such a rabbit-souled minister of plenipotentiary as the writer hereof. Our best soothing voice was of no avail in attempting to steer conversation into such channels as would cause him to unbosom his soul—said channels being his profession. You've heard it said that all you need to do to get an actor to talk about himself is to give him the chance. That doesn't mean Bert Lahr. All he wanted to do was escape, so his soul remains not unbosomed. He thought he saw his chance when Mr. Ziegfeld entered. He flew to him, but when Mr. Ziegfeld moved over where we were standing, he certainly played Bert a dirty trick, for he was in the trap again. Bert probably knew all the answers, but he was working a strange "feeder," and we could hear him thinking, "why doesn't this guy beat it?" At last he had a happy thought.

"Just wait here a minute, please, I've got to send a check to New York," he said hopefully, as he departed.

Thick-skinned as they are, even reporters can take hints, so we waited—somewhere else.

Ethel Barrymore will close her current engagement in the Alvin with tonight's performance of "The School for Scandal." There's no legitimate attraction immediately in sight for the Sixth street house, which will be occupied next week by what promises to be an unusual type of entertainment. A matinee will be given Saturday.

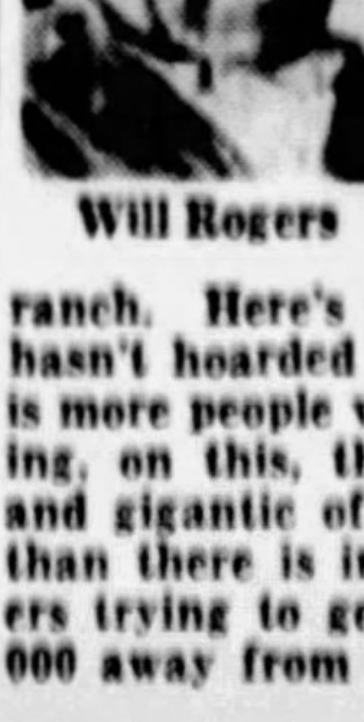
WILL ROGERS SAYS

SAN SIMEON, Cal., Feb. 27.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:



Will Rogers

Talk about moving, breezed up here to this wonderful Hearst ranch, 210 miles from Los Angeles, in an hour and 10 minutes in Hal Roach's new Lockheed plane—one of those that when it starts off it tucks its legs inside it. All you have to worry about is, "Are they going to let down when we get there?"

Mountains go by just like telephone posts in a Ford. Got their own lighted air field here on the ranch. Here's one rich man that hasn't hoarded his money. There is more people working, and building, on this, the most wonderful and gigantic of American estates, than there is international bankers trying to get that $2,000,000,000 away from Dawes.

Yours, WILL.

Shanghai Lily Is Marlene At Best

By GEORGE SEIBEL

George Seibel

The only way to convey a proper estimate of the new picture at the Penn Theater, "The Shanghai Express," is to list the actors in it and then admit and assert that the picture itself is greater than all of them. Here is Marlene Dietrich at her best—Clive Brook at his best—Anna May Wong at her best—Warner Oland at his best. Louise Closser Hale does a delightful character sketch, and there are others who have more or less important places in the large cast. All the acting is admirable—but the great thing about this picture is the direction of Lubitsch or Sternberg. It is the technique of the German and Russian school, with the resources of Hollywood behind it.

Marlene Dietrich is one of those glamorous ladies with a checkered past who meets her old sweetheart on the Shanghai Express. The express is stopped by Chinese revolutionists, of whom Warner Oland is the sinister chief war lord. He holds Clive Brook as a hostage and casts an eye of desire upon the glamorous Marlene. She is going to go with him to save Clive Brook from being blinded—but Anna May Wong's useful dagger saves everybody except the wicked and wily Chang.

That is the story, but the story also is of minor interest beside the direction. You think you are seeing life in that human ant-heap of China—life in the raw.

There is a good stage show with the Pasquali Brothers to furnish comedy, while agile dancers and rich costumes lend life and color.

Play Contest Announced

The Pittsburgh Drama League announces that the eighth amateur players contest will be held the last week of April in the auditorium of the Irene Kaufmann Settlement. Prizes of $100, $50, $35 and $25 will be offered for the best production of a one-act play by a non-professional group. Since 1927 interest has centered about the Samuel French trophy, which is promised to the group fortunate enough to win it three times. It is now in the possession of the Downtown Y. M. C. A. Dramatic Club, which presented Eugene O'Neill's "In the Zone" in the seventh concert last spring.

Two silver cups will be given outright to the groups ranking next to the winners of the first prize. One cup, the gift of Mrs. Frank R. Wheeler, is offered to the school group, and the second, presented by Carroll H. Fitzhugh, vice president of the league, is offered to the adult group which will be chosen by the judges.

Mrs. Lane Thompson, who for seven years has been chairman of the contest committee, is at present out of the city, and applications are being received by Miss Helen St. Peter, of North Dithridge street.

Longview Farms Keeps Walker Orchestra

Lee Walker's Orchestra will remain indefinitely at Longview Farms, according to Miss Freda Pope, manager. The orchestra plays the dinner and dance music every night, including Sunday.

Slim and Zasu In Comedy

By MILDRED FILLMORE

Slim Summerville and Zasu Pitts are teamed up in the comedy stuff in "The Unexpected Father," picture in both the Davis and the Enright.

It looks to us like a two-reel material stretched into feature length. Of course, it isn't without its laughs. Just the sight of Slim and Zasu is a giggle stimulant.

Slim strikes oil, becomes a millionaire, is adopted by a poor waif, who insists on calling him daddy.

Zasu is a nurse at a dog hospital, who is sent to Millionaire Summerville's house by mistake. She thinks she'll have to shoot the patient, then discovers its a child.

Slim is all set to marry a fair lady when the daddy-calling waif upsets the matrimonial cart. Which makes it nice for Zasu.

Fire-Fighter Brown in Stanley

By CLARENCE E. GRUNDISCH

Joe E. Brown, who opens his mouth wider on every appearance, is in the Stanley again in "Fireman, Save My Child." It is a typical Brown comedy. Joe is his usual self, which ought to be enough to please his fans.

We waited breathlessly for the fire engine and horses to disappear into his mouth, but no such thing happened. However, lots of other things do.

In this one, Joe fights fires, invents a fire extinguisher and plays baseball. The sauerkraut factory burns and he wins a big league game.

He's funniest as a star pitcher. He waves his arms like a drunken sailor wig-wagging the flagship.

Joe also does an Emil Jannings and goes the-way-of-all-flesh. He meets a vamp on a train and she takes him for a ride—in a canoe. There's an upset. "Save me," she cries. But Hero Joe wants to know who's going to save him.

The supporting cast includes Evalyn Knapp and Guy Kibbee.

Horace Heidt and his Californians put up a crackerjack show on the stage. They toot out the tunes with vim, vigor and vitality. They sandwich in a lot of comedy. Their entertainment is complete, without interludes by Dick Powell and the 16 dancing girls. Mr. Powell sings one of those why-worry songs. The baby carriage episode is unnecessary, and not so nice. Broudy and Armstrong also contribute to the bill.

Love Alone Not Enough for Successful Marriage

Does love ever last?

Or will every Jack and Jill who behave like two love birds now, fall to clawing and scratching and calling each other names, once they've said "I DO" and gone to housekeeping in their tidy new home?

Trudy wants to know. Just now she is deeply, glamorously, in love with Jim, and he with her. They can't see enough of each other. Each thinks the other is simply perfect. But—

There's Bob and Marie and look what happened to them! Once they were like that, too. Once they, too looked deep in each other's eyes and murmured sweet words to each other. Once they, too told the world that there was never such a sweetheart—such a swain. And now—

But here's the story.

AN UNPLEASANT EXAMPLE

"Dear Sally Martin:

"I don't know just how to begin this. Maybe you will think I am silly, but there is something that is worrying me and making me very unhappy.

"Being that I'm just 20, you won't be surprised when I tell you that it's love. Does love ever last? Or do people always get to crabbing at each other, and saying mean and hateful things after they're married?

"I am dreadfully anxious about this question because I am deeply in love myself. In fact I am engaged. And the boy, Jim, seems to be just the sweetest boy in the world, but—"There is my cousin, Marie. Two years ago she and Bob, who is now her husband, were like that too. They couldn't be together enough. They couldn't say enough swell things about each other. They were always calling each other 'dear' and 'darling.' Everyone said they were an ideal pair, and would be so happy!

"And now I've just seen them again—they are married, and they don't live here—and how they have changed! They don't seem the least bit fond of each other any more. They say mean things to each other. She complains about what she'd like to have and can't afford, and about having to 'slave' at housekeeping. And HE says mean things to her, and complains that she 'isn't the wife he thought she would be.'

EXPECTED TOO MUCH

"Is marriage always like that? Do people always fall out of love, even though they've been mad about each other before they married? I DO love Jim, but when I see Marie and how unhappy she seems, it frightens me. Sometimes I feel that I don't want to marry, ever.

"GERTRUDE."

Is marriage always like that?

It is, youngster—if the people who marry are selfish and spoiled and unreasonable, and don't give each other a square deal.

And that's just what your cousin Marie sounds like to me. She sounds as if she didn't go into marriage as a grown woman would go into a job, but as a grabby little 2-year-old, who thought she was going to find a lot of lollipops and no work.

She may not be all to blame. Bob may have been spoiled, too. He, too, may have expected too much of "love."

And no love on earth can stand a layout like that. Neither can any other human relationship.

If you went into an office to bang a typewriter, with notions like that, you'd fail, just as Marie and Bob have failed in marriage—and for the same reasons.

LOVE IS NOT ENOUGH

For marriage is like any other job, Trudy. It takes courage and understanding and fair play and humor and sense.

Love is a big help, but even the most romantic love won't make a success of marriage. You must put more than that into marriage if you expect to get anything out.

Marriage is one of the biggest adventures on earth. It is a beautiful adventure—if both of you are willing to use your heads, and keep it beautiful.

Are you? Are you willing to face the fact that by marrying you won't be escaping from trouble and work, but going into it? Are you game to do your part, and not expect marriage to be just a pretty picture, but a real, two-fisted slice of life?

If you are—then go ahead. Love won't turn to misery if you cultivate it and help it grow into something real and fine.

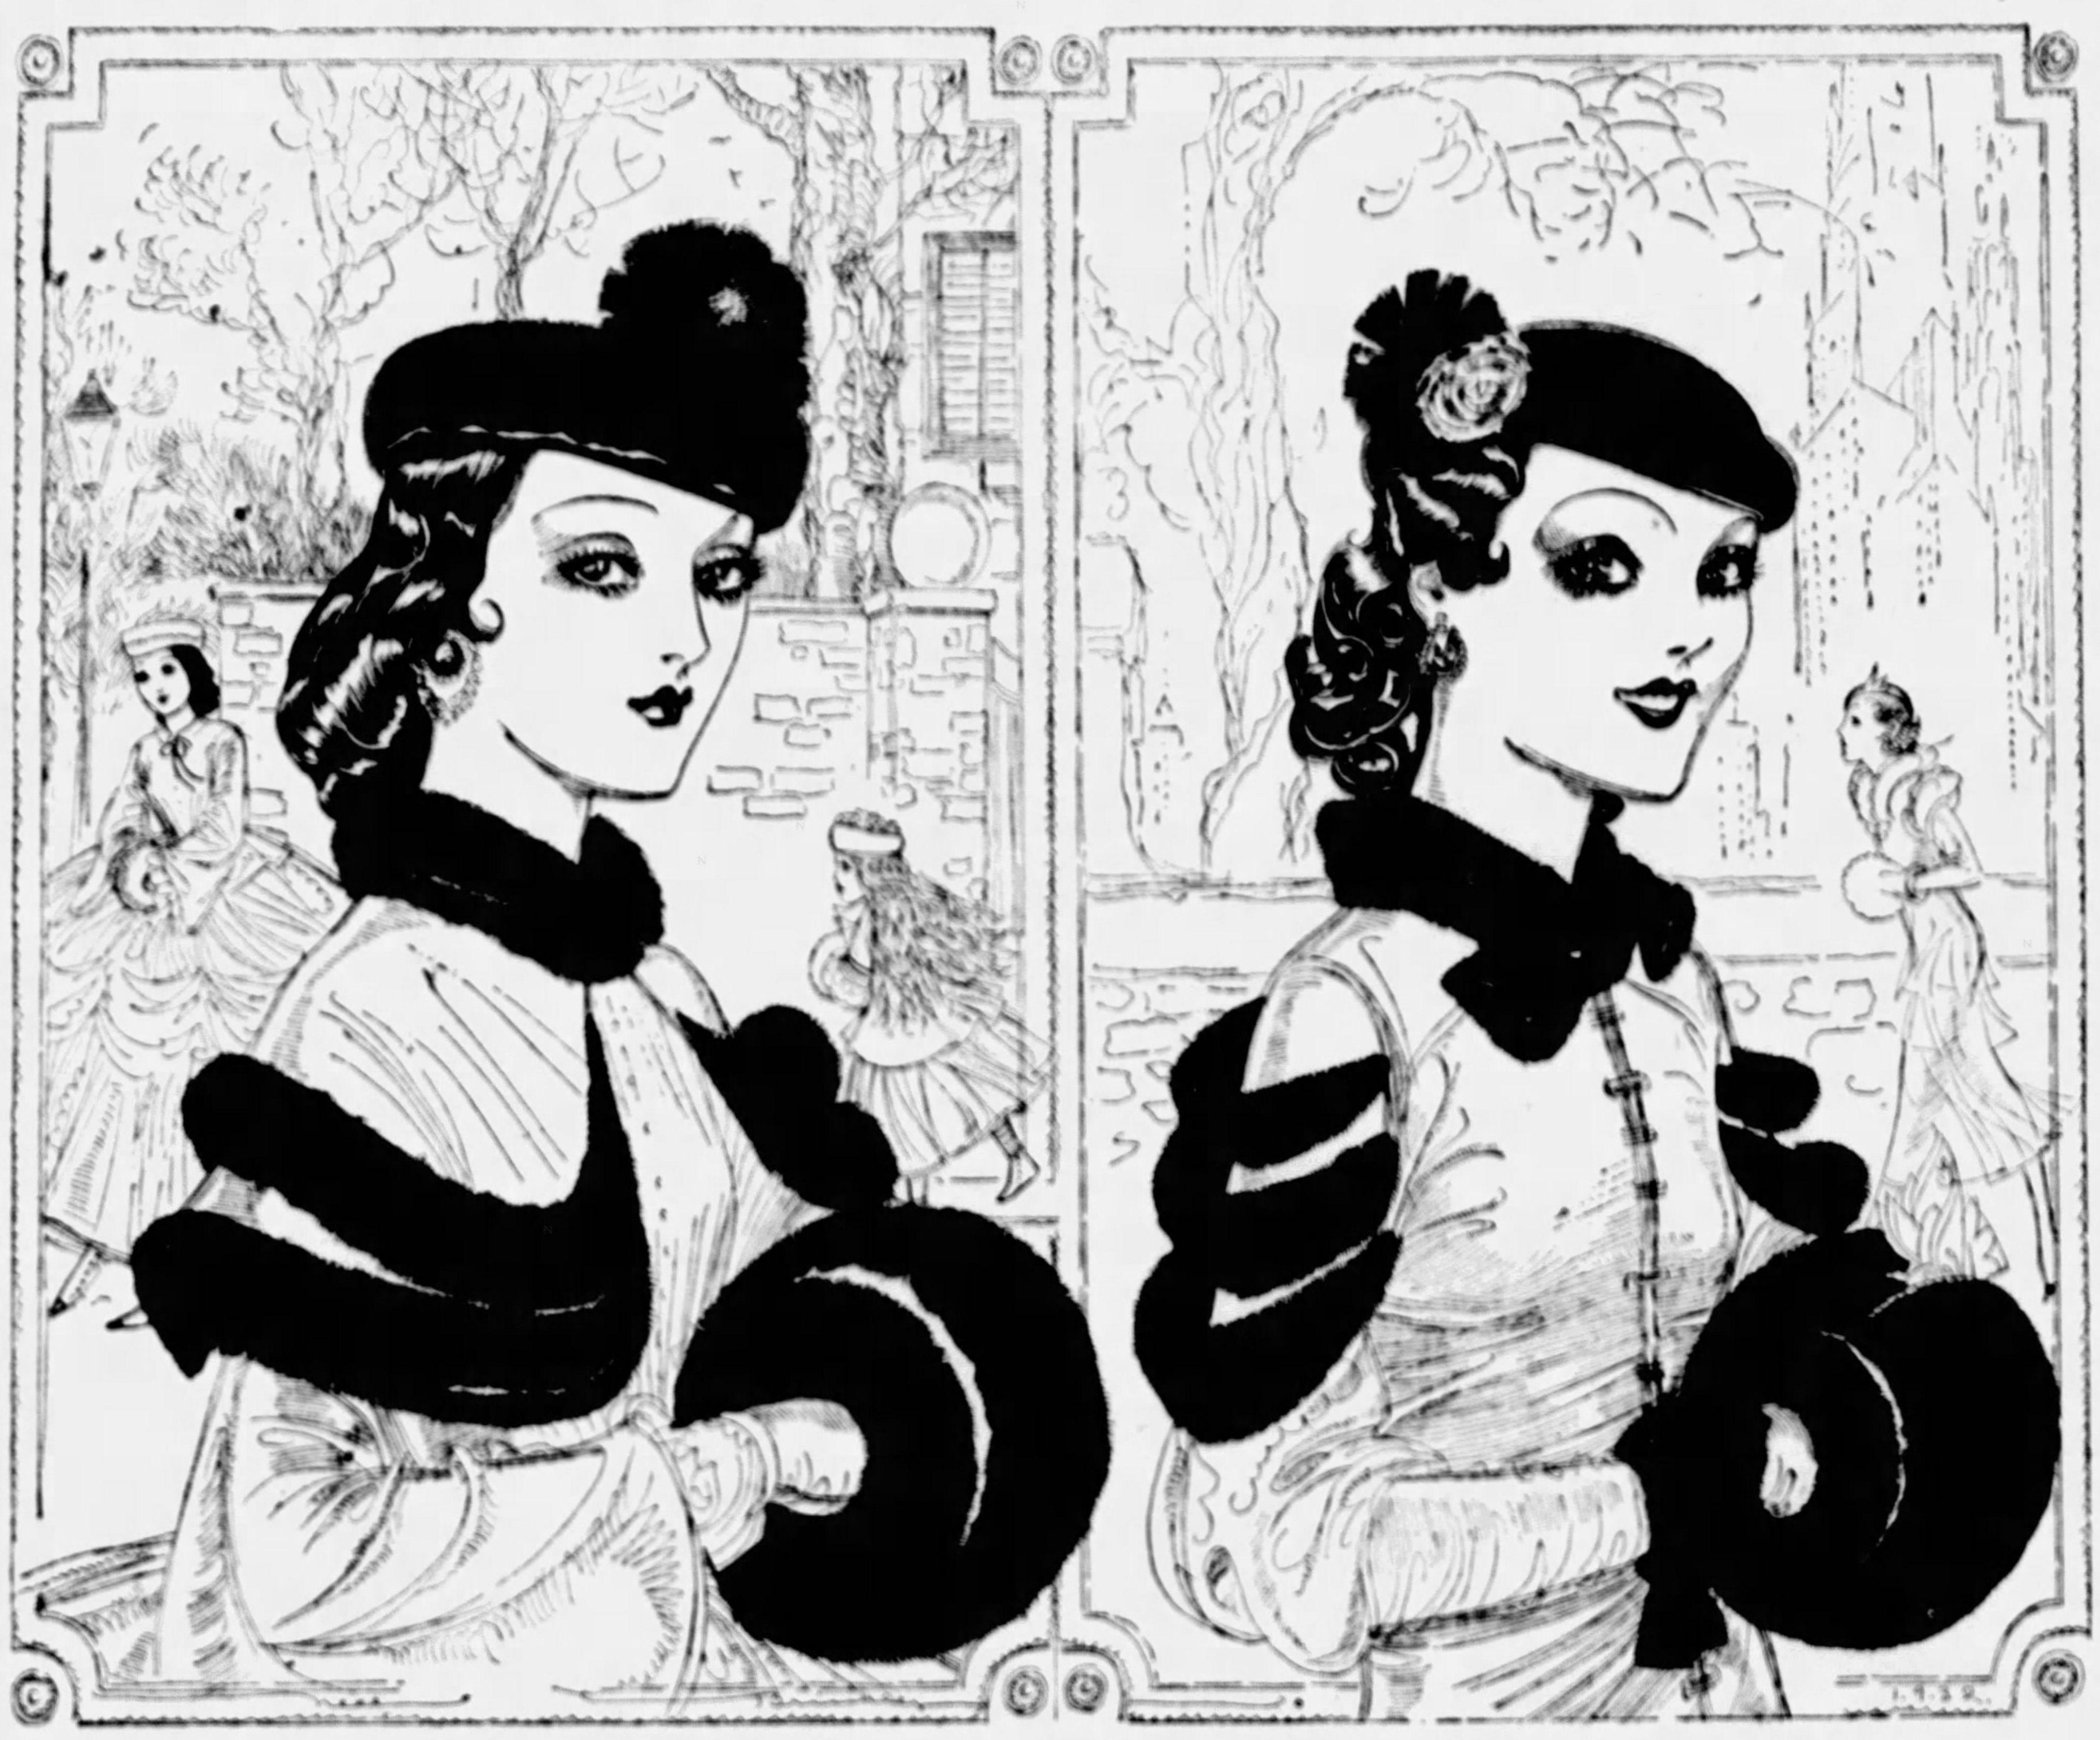
"HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF" -:-

Drawn by Nell Brinkley



History repeats itself over and over, wearing of new things, and going back home again to certain things that it must have lived over and over again long before each last returning; an old world, like an old man redreaming his youthful history. Society, with her delicate, ringed hand rewrites her autobiography after a lapse of years in the same work. Small countries go round and round in a circle of events. Families. Fashion. Love. All do the same revolutions.

History repeats itself—but not completely. She does not abandon herself to a slavish tracing. She makes another thing much like herself—and then looks at the happening with astonishment, and with a great deal of pleasure in the surprise. Like a mother finding her own nose with every subtle bend in the nose of her offspring. But though the nose be her own nose in pudgy miniature—the likeness may stop there.

The lady—Arabella—the cutie! on the left, is not so different from Antoinette on the right. One lived with different things about her from the things we live with now—hackney-coaches and such—but her Spanish hat and the width of the shoulders, and the hair all to the rear, is very much like 1932, Antoinette's round hat (and I must confess I like it and I wish it wouldn't go) tilted to the fore, her hair all aft, and her wide upper arm. Not so different—in fact Antoinette and Arabella are history repeated—from the waist up. But from the waist down—they are eternities apart. They skip in petticoats that would not know one another as kin. "Is THAT a skirt?" cries the hooped balloon of the genius Leech's day. And—"Is THAT a skirt?" screams back the shapen, wine-bottle skirt that clothes Antoinette's walk-abouts.

History repeats itself—but never wholly and entirely—she always at the last minute alters the tracing, and surprises the folks!—NELL BRINKLEY.

The Receiving Line

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have received an invitation to attend a formal prom., given by a school of which I am a graduate. There is to be a receiving line at the prom., consisting of a few members of the faculty and their wives. They know me, but they do not know my husband.

1. Do I present the "bid" to the receiving line?

2. What words do I use when I introduce my husband?

THANK YOU.

1. It would not be necessary to present your invitations to members of the receiving line. These "bids" will either be taken at the door, or the committee may not consider it necessary to collect them at all.

2. To a woman in the receiving line, present your husband in this way: "Mrs. Graham, may I present by husband?" To a man say, "Mr. Graham, this is my husband," or "Mr. Graham, my husband."

Letter Paper

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A friend of mine, a girl of 19, is graduating from high school. I would like to give her stationery with her name and address on it. Is it proper to have it printed:

Miss Marie Reynolds or

ALICE.

Letter paper with the name and address printed on it is correctly for use only for business or for letters that are not regarded as strictly social. Therefore I suggest that you either have a monogram made for her and have this engraved on the paper, or have a die made with only her street address on it.

It is better to give letter-paper with nothing on it than to give paper with the name and address printed. Whatever you have put on the paper should be engraved. The stationer will have a design of her initials made for her, and if you like this, he will have a die made and use it to engrave the paper. This is not expensive, and makes a charming gift. Wouldn't you rather do this, and start her on the right path in her letter-paper?

Can Y Make Four Odd at Hearts?

Perhaps because the hand shown below was only the third one dealt in the "battle of systems," perhaps because details of play were not reported, many questions have been asked concerning what can be made against perfect defense.

♠ 8 4
♥ A K 8 3 2
♣ 4 2
♦ 9 8 7 3

♠ K 10

♠ A Q 7 6 5

♦ A

Mr. Jacoby, as Z, made an opening bid of 1-Spade. Mr. Culbertson (A) overcalled with 2-Clubs. Mr. Lenz (Y) bid 2-Hearts. Mrs. Culbertson (B) passed. Z bid 3-Clubs in a weak attempt at a slam. But when Y bid 3-Hearts, Z raised the contract to 4-Hearts. The opening lead was B's J of clubs. As the cards lie, how many tricks can be won?

The declarer will win the first trick with dummy's K. Probably the six missing spades are divided 4-2, and probably also the five missing trumps are divided 3-2, between the adversaries. Those two factors are the first to be considered by the declarer. The type of hands held by the declaring side do not call for immediate trump leads. Perhaps spades can be established, to enable one or more losing diamonds to be discarded upon them by the declarer. If so that will be fine. Certainly some of Y's losing diamonds must be trumped while the process of establishing Z's spades is in progress.

The first thing to do is to lay down dummy's Ace of diamonds, to prepare for later ruffs of declarer's low diamonds. Exit from dummy is not as easy as might be imagined. As A doubtless has at least five clubs it would be poor strategy to play out Z's top club and then trump the third lead of that suit: B cannot hold more than two clubs and he would also trump the third club lead. Everything considered, I would lead the Ace of spades, followed by Z's lowest spade, believing that A has more chances than B to hold the missing K, because A has done all the adverse bidding.

The most unpleasant return lead that A can make, when he wins with his K of spades, is a trump. Y must win the trick, in order to lead one of his losing diamonds, and let dummy trump the lead. Y can trump a return lead of spades from dummy; then have dummy trump another lead of diamonds.

Hoping that A may not be able to trump, dummy's Q of spades should be led. Of course A should trump the Q, and Y must over-trump with his 8. Now Y's only remaining club may be led, and the trick won with dummy's ace. Laying down Z's last spade, Y must discard his last diamond, letting B trump, if desired.

The only trick yet lost by Y is the one taken with A's K of spades. The declarer has left only the A and 3 of hearts. B holds the Q-J of hearts and the K of diamonds, after Y's eleventh play. In case B trumps dummy's long spade, the declarer must win the next two tricks. If B declines to trump the spade, B must win one trump trick and Y will win the other. In any event it is possible for Y to win five odd, as the cards lie, provided he plays the hand as indicated.

The Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Often first wrinkles show up directly in front of the ear. At sight of them, start on a period of complexion reconstruction. Stock up with a heavy cream and an astringent. At night bathe the face gently with soap and warm water, rinse and dry, pat in the emollient with brisk slaps of finger tips and palms of the hands. Use finger ends as hammers. In the morning dash on cold water, dry and apply the astringent.

Some of the new commercial blushes and lip pomades are of a red cast that almost slips into purple tones. Rather striking if the complexion is fair or a soft rich ivory, but when placed on a sallow skin, makes the face look green. Positively! Do we hear modern somebody saying "What's wrong with green?" Nice for eyes, not for phizes.

Eyebrows, to be beautiful, should have the curve of a bird's wing. Those straight, harsh streaks done in crayon and beloved by the dizzifying damsels aren't like anything ever dreamed of by Mamma Nature. The expression of the face depends upon the contour of eyebrows. It is a pity the plucking frenzy ever got started. It's old stuff now, but some of the darlings haven't found it out, maybe never will.

Once every day take one hundred deep full breaths in the open air. Pull in the air through the nostrils, let it trickle down into the lower cells of the lungs, exhale slowly. This practice means better circulation of the blood; active circulation grows facial roses, puts starshine in eyes, picks up the heels and the spirits, makes life zestful.

Cancer Like a Fire, Starts Slowly, Then Spreads

Dr. Copeland

All the time we are reading in the newspapers about cancer and new methods for its diagnosis and treatment. Too little emphasis is placed by the public on the early recognition of this dread disease. Cancer has proved fatal in many cases because the disease had existed for some time before it was recognized and treated.

Usually the early stages of cancer are painless and produce no inconvenience, but as time goes on the symptoms gradually develop. Frequently, the first sign of cancer is a lump or swelling. If this is found in the breast, even though no pain exists the symptoms should not be disregarded. It is best to be on the safe side and be told by your physician whether it is important.

Please remember that any persistent sore of the tongue, mouth or lips in a person above 35 years of age requires attention. Very often, as a result of a poorly fitted dental plate, or because of a broken tooth, a sore spot develops. If neglected, this might develop into cancer.

Another sign of this disease is bleeding or discharge from an orifice of the body. This is a danger signal which should never be neglected. Many overlook its importance because there is no pain.

Cancer is not contagious. Many fear contracting this disease by contact with afflicted persons. There is no need for this worry. To be safe, only the simple rules of cleanliness must be observed.

The progress of cancer has frequently been compared to that of a fire. At first there is only a small spark that can be easily extinguished. If the spark is ignored, flames will spread and the fire become more and more difficult to control. When entirely neglected the fire will develop to such an extent that it cannot be extinguished.

One of the best means of discovering the first spark of this disease is the periodic physical examination. A complete examination should be had at least once a year.

The medical profession is now equipped to combat this disease by means of surgery, the X-ray and radium. Not only are these methods used to cure the disease, but also to prevent it.

If you suspect cancer, or are worried about any abnormality, do not rely upon home remedies, or patented medicines. It is your duty to consult immediately with a competent physician, or go to a recognized clinic.

Madge Explains Revisions to Lillian

In my mother-in-law's parlance, I was utterly "flabbergasted" at Lillian's reference to the Vickers speeches. There was no mistaking her meaning. She must have realized, as had Dicky, that I subconsciously had caricatured him in the lines which I had given to Vickers. Yet she had given no hint of her knowledge and had let me show that first draft of my third act to Mr. Veritzen without protest. I remembered that I had said to Dicky that I was sure Lillian had not noticed my subconscious caricature because otherwise she would have protested vigorously against the speeches. How was it that I had so erred in my estimate of what she would do in this emergency?

"Then you saw after all?" I stammered.

"That Vickers is an unpleasant caricature of Dicky—yes, but I've only just seen it. Your words, 'after all,' fit the case exactly. I let you take the thing to Phil, and, worse, let you show it to Dicky, without any protest. The truth is, I was so near the woods, I couldn't see the trees. I knew the thing as a whole was darned good, but I didn't begin to analyze it and diagram its phrases and clauses, until this afternoon after I'd had my sleep. I couldn't believe my own memory at first when I began to wonder where I'd heard speeches like you had Vickers pull. Then it struck me as if it were a pile driver. What in the name of the three-toed sloth possessed you?"

"Do you for one second imagine that I wrote those speeches with Dicky in mind?" I asked indignantly.

A certain tense watchfulness in her eyes relaxed at my question.

"Honestly, girl, I didn't know," she said. "I couldn't believe it of you, and yet one never knows what any human being bitten with the literary bug will do, given certain conditions. But—if you didn't have Dicky in your mind, how—"

"Will you think me out of my mind," I interrupted, "if I tell you that I have no recollection of writing those speeches, and that I must have done them subconsciously?"

"Of course, I'll believe you," Lil said warmly. "Knowing you, I can believe that a great deal more readily than I could the premise that you intended the character of Vickers to be a caricature of Dicky."

"Thank you," I said, and indeed, the little tribute was most welcome to me. "I do wish you had seen it when you typed it, however, before Mr. Veritzen and Dicky saw the speeches."

"My sainted—also martyred maiden aunt!" Lillian raised her hands high above her head. "Don't tell me Phil Veritzen saw the resemblance of Vickers to Dicky?"

"No, he didn't, but Dicky did," I answered.

Lillian drew a long breath of relief.

"That's one mercy," she said. "You evidently placated Dicky or he wouldn't look so much like Mary's little lamb. But Philip Veritzen's thinking that you had caricatured your husband in the play that you had written for him would be—not so good—not so good at all. I wonder how come he missed them. I suppose it is because he really knows Dicky so slightly. But whatever may be the matter with old Phil's heart, there's nothing wabbly about his brain. He's as keen as they make 'em and if he had known Dicky he'd have lamped the likeness in a jiffy. But you never can hope to keep Dicky's friends from seeing it."

"They never will," I said quietly.

"Why? Oh, you don't mean that you told Phil and he let you change them?"

She was plainly aghast, and I hastened to reassure her.

"I didn't tell him anything. It so happened that those speeches of Vickers were the only things out of the whole act to which he objected, and he told me that they must all be cut out."

"And there are people who do not believe in fairies!" Lil said devoutly. "I never heard of a luckier break that that."

"Neither did I," I assented warmly, "except the one which made Dicky believe me when I told him that I had written these speeches subconsciously."

"Yes," Lil assented dryly, "that would take a lot of believing on the part of any perfectly good husband. But your star must be in the ascendant today. Did you have to make many changes?"

"Only in those speeches of Vickers," I said. "I was prepared to cut Vickers out of the play altogether, but Mr. Veritzen wished him kept in and all I had to do was to change his speeches."

"And so now your sitting pretty," Lillian commented. "There's one thing we must guard against now. Don't ever let Dicky find out that——"

"Find out what?" Dicky's voice said from the open door behind us.

Household Hints

To clean chamois leather gloves, wash in a warm soapy solution in which a little olive oil has been dissolved. The oil keeps the gloves soft and pliable.

Rub olive oil on knives and forks that are to be put away, and they will retain their brightness and be found free from rust when required again.

Wash pastry boards and rolling pins in cold water and then wash in hot soapsuds and rinse well in hot water.

Use your old felt hats to make boudoir slippers. Bind them with ribbon and put a yarn rosette in front.

Gains Shown by Some, in Irregular Opening, Cut; Steel Loses Fraction

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The stock market was again unsettled by a break in Auburn, after opening irregularly higher today.

Drops in Auburn during the first half hour have become a habit this week. This stock fell more than 4 points to a new low for 1932 at 85. Santa Fe lost a couple of points, in response to its January report, showing a small deficit. Lambert lost more than 2.

Early gains of about a point in American Telephone, Allied Chemical, Air Reduction, and American Tobacco "B" were reduced. United States Steel lost a fraction in the early trading.

Brokerage opinion generally held to the view that the market was in a dull trading area, and might remain there until a clearer perspective of the spring business prospects is possible. Failure of the list to give a more emphatic response to the reduction in the Federal Reserve rediscount rate was not regarded as particularly surprising, in view of the opinion in banking quarters that the rate reduction could scarcely make itself felt as an immediate stimulus to business.

The week-end trade reviews continued to stress the low volume of industrial activity, but pointed to some scattered improvement in retail trade, and maintenance of the more optimistic feeling of recent weeks. The fewest bank suspensions in nearly a year occurred during the past week, which was regarded as an important factor in maintaining the improved business sentiment.

January railroad earnings, now appearing in some volume, show several roads with operating deficits, but the 10 per cent wage reduction, effective February 1, is expected to result in a somewhat better showing when reports for the current month appear. Wall street is confident that the Reconstruction Corporation will take care of fixed charges of the more harassed carriers during the next few months.

In foreign exchanges, the dollar continued to strengthen as against the French franc, that currency sagging at the start 3-16 to 3.93½ cents, or nearly a cent below the point at which gold takings from New York would be profitable. Sterling cables opened at $3.48⅝, up ⅛.

LONDON STOCK PRICES FIRM

LONDON, Feb. 27.—(INS.)—Stock and bond prices were generally firm on the London Exchange today.

Gilt-edged issues continued to advance, although the gains were smaller today than earlier in the week. British funds again improved and foreign bonds were quiet.

Anglo-American issues closed somewhat weaker. Woolworth shares were in demand. Oils were firmer and mine shares quiet. Rail stocks were irregular. The pound sterling stood at $3.48½.

Wall Street Expects Gold Dust to Cut Dividend Rate.

Gold Dust is another stock on which Wall street is looking for a downward revision in the dividend. Talk has increased along this line since publication of the 1931 report showing $1.75 a share on the common stock. Directors meet for dividend action late next month. The current rate is $2.50 a share, and the stock is selling only a few points above its low. While nothing official has come out, the expectations in the financial district are that a rate of $1.50 or $1.60 would be in line with earnings.

The turn of events at Washington leaves little doubt that the investigation into the matter of "short sales" will go deep. It has been definitely stated now that a number of market operators will be called to Washington in the course of hearings slated to get under way today. As the story goes, the congressional inquisitors have gathered in a great deal more data on the subject than is generally realized.

There is considerable disappointment expressed because the pickup in steel operations, which was anticipated early this month, faded out so sharply in recent weeks. The financial district at present is giving more attention to the weekly estimates of steel production than in some time. If there is to be improvement in basic industries it should be reflected in steel by the third week of March. Much depends upon the demand for the heavier products, such as rails, structural steel and sheets, and other articles for the automobile industry.

Accumulation has been reported in silver metal futures recently and the buying has been credited to interests who keep informed on the silver situation of the world. In the past few days, a number of speculators, who often have been active in the stock market, have taken an interest in the silver metal market, buying some of the future deliveries in anticipation of higher prices later in the year. As in the past, there have been unconfirmed rumors of plans for an international conference on the silver situation.

There is considerable uncertainty regarding the maintenance of the current $8 a share annual dividend rate on Lambert. This is indicated by the low price of the stock and the extraordinary yield at current levels. Interests who have maintained a long position in the stock, which was accumulated not much above present quotations, point out that a good slash in the distribution would still leave the stock with an attractive yield.

Fred Wardell, president of Eureka Vacuum Cleaner Company, said: "Operations in January resulted in a profit of $19,200 after all charges, including federal taxes, which is the first profit shown in 21 months."

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

INDIANA PIPE LINE

During 1931 barrelage of crude oil handled by Indiana Pipe Line Company decreased to an amount substantially below that of 1930, says D. S. Bushnell, president, in the annual report. The report states curtailment was due to competitive conditions whereby crude oil was diverted to other lines, but that this diversion has reached a point where it is not likely to increase beyond the present situation. The company has made additional traffic arrangements with other pipe line interests in the Southwest which will tend to assure continuance of the barrelage transported, Mr. Bushnell says.

COTTON CONSUMPTION UP

World consumption of American cotton in the first half of the current cotton season was greater by 598,000 bales than in the corresponding period of last season, says the New York Cotton Exchange Service. Consumption of all kinds of cotton was 11,475,000 bales, compared with 10,939,000 bales in the corresponding period last season. Consumption of foreign growths showed an estimated decrease of 62,000 bales.

MEXICAN OIL LINE COMPLETED

Mexican Eagle Oil Company's (Royal Dutch-Shell) 300-mile crude oil pipe line, connecting the Southern Tampico oil fields at Palma Sola and Mexico City, was placed in operation February 18. Passing over the mountain barrier, with an altitude of 9,000 feet, this new line, which required over two years to lay, will deliver crude to the Mexican Eagle's new refinery located in Mexico City.

COAST FRUIT TESTS

Experiments in the shipment of peaches in barrels to Germany from California last autumn proved encouraging and, accordingly, further experiments are planned for next season with peaches, pears, apricots, prunes and figs. Preserving solutions, including both formic and sulphuric acids, were used.

PLATE GLASS STOCKHOLDERS

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company December 31 last had 4,727 stockholders, compared with 4,295 a year earlier.

Retail Food Prices Drop for January

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—A decrease of about 4 1-3 per cent was shown in retail food prices on January 15 as compared with December 15, the Bureau of Labor statistics reports. For the year ended January 15, a decrease of about 17 2-3 per cent was shown. The bureau's weighted index number on January 15 stood at 109.3 against 114.3 on December 15 and 132.8 per cent on January 15, 1931.

Earmarked Gold Drops $5,092,800

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The daily gold statement of the New York Federal Reserve Bank for yesterday showed a decrease of $5,092,800 in gold earmarked for foreign account. Exports totaled $4,157,700, of which $4,092,500 went to Belgium, $50,000 to Holland, and $15,200 to England. There were no imports.

White Motor Gets Large Bus Order

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—White Motor Company has received an order for 18 buses from Colorado Springs Bus Company, of Colorado Springs. The buses are 21-passenger capacity and will supplant city street car lines. The order is worth over $100,000.

January Automobile Production Lower

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—January automobile production in the United States and Canada totaled 123,075 units, comparing with 123,973 in December and 178,344 in January, 1931, the Department of Commerce reports.

New York Banks Buy Water Company

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Reorganization plans for the Tri-Utilities Corporation will be delayed, it is believed in Wall street, in consequence of the removal from the Tri-Utilities group of the Federal Water Service Corporation through the sale of all the class B stock of the Federal Company at auction to satisfy notes of the Tri-Utilities Corporation held by the Chase National Bank and Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company. These banking institutions are understood to have bought stock, giving them control of the Federal Company.

Consolidated Ice Promotes Officers

Thomas M. Rees, president of Consolidated Ice Company, has been made chairman of the board, a new office, and Thomas A. Dunn, general manager for 34 years, has been elected president. Frank L. Duggan, assistant to Dunn, has been elected general manager. H. J. Wagner, vice president, and J. S. Miller, secretary-treasurer, were re-elected.

Sugar Membership Sold for $3,500

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Irving Trust Company, receiver in bankruptcy for Pynchon and Company, has sold the second membership on the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange of H. Nichols Edwards to John J. Keitch for $3,500.

Producers Raise Nut and Bolt Price

Effective immediately and for second quarter, prices of bolts and nuts have been increased through the introduction of a discount of 75 per cent off list, compared with 73.10 and 10 per cent off recently. Rivets are unchanged.

LOCAL MARKET IN NARROW RANGE

Securities Remain Near Previous Quotations in Dull Week-End Session

Quiet week-end trading marked the short session on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today, with volume of business at the lowest level of the week, but with prices maintaining a steady tone. The dull, uninteresting movement of prices on the "big board" was fully reflected here in the small fractional fluctuations and the scattered odd-lot dealings.

A firmer tone was evident in Blaw Knox during the early market, probably in response to the steadiness in the steel issue in New York. Reports that automobile company orders were finding their way to the mills, while not bringing in any noticeable buying, had the effect of providing impressive support for such week-end selling as did make its appearance.

STEEL ACTIVITY TO RISE

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 27.—A moderate rise in operations of Youngstown district steel mills next week is indicated.

Carnegie Steel Company operations will be at 35 per cent of capacity, a gain of 5 per cent.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company operations in the valley will be at 21 per cent, an advance of 1 per cent.

Republic Steel Company will resume operations at its Trumbull plant.

Republic Steel Corporation will resume production at its Warren (O.) plant on a large scale. The Warren property, which ships fully 70 per cent of its finished products to the automobile industry, has been idle more than a week, but is resuming on an accumulation of orders which, apparently, have come in large volume from the automobile steel buyers.

Ingot production at the Warren plant will be about 60 per cent. Five of eight open-hearth furnaces at the Warren plant will be melting.

CARBIDE HOLDS STRONG CASH POSITION

Dividend Rate Cut From $2.60 to $2 Expected to Prevent Excessive Drain

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Reduction in Union Carbide's dividend to a $2 annual basis from the $2.60 rate formerly paid was expedient in order to prevent an excessive drain on cash resources.

No indication of results so far this year is obtainable at present, but with continued industrial curtailment in January and February it is reasonable to anticipate that Carbide's rate of earnings in the first quarter of 1932 will be below the corresponding 1931 period.

Net profit in the first nine months of 1931 was $13,892,910, equal to $1.54 a share on 9,000,743 shares of stock, and although the final quarter is usually the most profitable, it is unlikely that profits in this period last year were much over 50 cents a share and may have been considerably below this, barring year-end adjustments.

AGGRESSIVE RESEARCH

Carbide has one of the most aggressive research laboratories in the country which has developed over the last few years a wide variety of new products. Many of the newer chemical products, however, are only just reaching a commercial stage and naturally this company cannot expect large profits from these sources for some time.

Business of the main older divisions of the business has a high degree of stability, particularly sales of gas for oxy-acetylene welding and cutting. This reached a low level in December and should show some slight improvement in the current quarter with increased activity in railroad shops and motor plants.

BIG CASH BALANCE

With an indicated profit for 1931 of around $2 a share, dividend distribution last year was roughly $5,400,000 in excess of earnings. Depreciation reserves and inventory liquidation probably partly offset this and prevented any great decline from the $16,979,503 cash balance on hand at the end of 1931. In addition to this amount Carbide had on hand $28,695,862 in cash as the balance of stock financing done in 1929 to provide for plant expansion.

Prohibition, Anti-Trust Law Rumors Persist

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. — The stock market acted like a hangover yesterday. It may have been the copper situation, which is becoming more sour with the price of metal at a new low, or the government bear probe; but stocks had no pep at all. The obvious thing is that there is no incentive to do anything market-wise until some news develops.

The underground wires from Washington are humming with what President Hoover will spring next to help things along, now that the Glass-Steagall bill has been made law . . . Best opinion is that the administration will come out strongly next week for modification of the anti-trust laws. Then, too, talk will not die that Hoover will have something to say on prohibition before long . . . reports of new financing soon are still pretty much rumors, outside of the government, of course . . . A $25,000,000 issue by Bell Telephone of Pennsylvania has been officially denied.

Commercial paper dealers are more cheerful about things following renewal of demand for prime paper from small banks all over the country. Demand is small, but it shows banks are beginning to ease up on their scramble to get liquid.

Reports are around about some good news from Washington on the rails, accounting for their abortive upturn toward the close . . . Looks like either an announcement on the four-party merger plan or action on recapture repeal . . . Strength in the rails would help speculative sentiment . . . General Electric on the tape acts like a dividend reduction, but belief is that the $1.60 rate will be retained by the board next month. Net for 1931 is put at $1.35 a share, but current earnings are understood to be much lower . . . Looks like some distribution is going on in Gillette. Quite a lot of it was churned over in a narrow range.

SCORES MONEY HOARDERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—A present day speculation in money as unreasoning as the reckless plunging in stocks during the 1929 bull market is seen by a government official in discussing hoarding.

This official recalled that when money was so scarce a few years ago as to command as high as 14 per cent in the call market people were competing madly for it for the purpose of exchanging it for commodities and security shares. Today, he said, when money is in plentiful supply, the speculation again exists with eager competition for it, while the security list is comparatively neglected. In addition, he said many companies indicate from their balance sheets that they are holding large surpluses of cash and short term securities.

Hoarders, he declared, face the possibility of retaining a commodity whose exchange value may drop as rapidly as did that of securities beginning with the latter part of October, 1929. Any sudden upturn in price levels could bring that eventuality, he added.

NEW INDUSTRY EXPANDING

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Unsatisfactory business conditions now in their third year have faced industry with the necessity of developing new fields of activity.

As a result, electrical refrigeration, aviation and the international shipment of frozen foods are being developed faster than ever. Television, say its sponsors, is near the point of practicability.

Another of the newer developments which is growing steadily is air conditioning. This has been utilized for several years in theaters, offices and some public buildings, but recently the field has been broadened so that it now includes steam railways as well as residential buildings.

THE PRODUCE MARKET

Little change in trading activity marked the day in the wholesale fruit and vegetable markets in Pittsburgh. There were no changes in quotations.

The butter, egg and cheese markets remained firm, demand good, supply adequate, with slight changes in butter quotations.

The poultry market rested steady, demand fair, supply adequate without changes in quotations.

Western Railroad Asks Federal Aid

DENVER, Feb. 27.—The Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad has applied to the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to delay construction of the Dotsero cut-off for one year and at the same time asked the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan of $4,000,000 to meet current needs of the present year.

BRAZIL PLANS TO REORGANIZE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Brazil hopes to achieve harmonious policies in financial and economic affairs through a commission which will make detailed studies of the states and municipalities of that country, operating under the direction of the minister of finance.

A report to the Commerce Department said that these studies have actually been in course of preparation for some months, although the decree effecting the commission has but recently been made public.

It is said that the welfare of Brazil is dependent on the financial and economic reorganization of the states and municipalities as well as of the union, and that the regularization of the external obligations of the states and municipalities along with those of the federal government is a necessary preliminary to the general reorganization.

The commission will decree what it considers necessary measures for the economic and administrative reorganization of the country.

RAILROAD FUEL RECORD LOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS.)—The nation's railroads established a new low record last year in fuel conservation by locomotives. The American Railway Association announced an average of 119 pounds of fuel was required in 1931 to haul 1,000 tons of freight and equipment a distance of one mile. This was the lowest average ever attained since the compilations of these reports began in 1918, being a reduction of two pounds under the best previous record established in 1930.

Class I railroads spent $214,672,446 for fuel last year for both road and yard switching service, compared with $273,303,996 in 1930. They used 81,231,867 tons of coal for both road and switching service compared with 97,858,235 tons the previous year.

The railroads also consumed 1,992,076,228 gallons of fuel oil last year, compared with 2,320,697,209 gallons in 1930.

HUNT BRADDOCK KIDNAP GANG

Braddock police today continued search for the occupants of the automobile who were reported to have kidnaped a Whitaker girl and escaped police amid a hail of shots during a wild chase through the borough early yesterday. Efforts also were being made to learn the identity of the girl.

East End police were asked to search for the owner of the car whose name was traced through the license plates. An account of the alleged kidnaping was given Braddock police by a service man of the Duquesne Light Company, who followed the machine from Whitaker road to the Rankin Bridge, where he passed it and sped to the police station. Motorcycle Patrolman Charles Hollaran pursued the automobile for more than a mile through Braddock, firing six shots at the fleeing car. In the chase Hollaran's motorcycle upset, injuring his right leg.

The only clue to the woman's identity was a black felt hat with a white feather, which fell to the ground when the young woman struggled with the men.

Peace Parley Fails In Mine Pay Strike

ATHENS, O., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Striking miners and operators have reached a deadlock in their negotiations looking toward a settlement of differences in the Hocking, Perry and Athens County coal fields where workers quit nearly a month ago in protest against wage cuts.

Demands by operators that the miners return to work at the offered scale of $3 a day for day laborers and 38 cents a ton for loaders without recognition of the miners' union met with prompt refusal.

CONGOLEUM NET UP MILLION IN 1931

Capital Obligations Are Cut Down and Liquid Position Improved in 'Slump' Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—As a consequence of soundly laid foundations, Congoleum-Nairn, Inc., not only reported a gain of more than $1,000,000 in net profit in 1931 over 1930, but also made further notable strides in improving its liquid position and in reducing capital obligations.

About 90 per cent of the business in floor covering is created by replacements and only about 10 per cent for new construction. On this basis earnings likely will be maintained on a satisfactory basis this year, although not necessarily at the 1931 level.

CASH ACCOUNT UP

Net profit in 1931 was $1,239,666, equal after preferred dividends to 90 cents a share on 1,268,951 shares of common stock against $208,839 or 8 cents a share earned on 1,414,351 shares in 1930. Cash and government securities were increased to a new high level at $10,060,327, a gain of $2,120,940 over the preceding year.

This showing in earnings was made possible by rigid operating economies and by favorable purchases of raw materials which assured a satisfactory margin of profit on merchandise sold. Liquidation of inventories to the lowest point on record, $4,785,927, against $7,180,997 in 1930, furnished the bulk of the gain in cash balance and funds for reducing capital obligations.

STOCK RETIRED

Outstanding common stock was reduced last year to 1,268,951 shares against 1,641,026 shares, a total reduction of 372,075 shares of which 251,026 was retired and 121,049 still held in the treasury. Cost of the treasury stock was $9.81 a share against a total book value of $21.42 a share and net current assets equal to $11.30 a share.

During 1931 there was expended $1,424,559 for retirement of common, $378,100 for purchase of preferred and $752,074 for dividends. Obviously outstanding common is now more in line with established earning power. Further reductions by purchase seem likely.

CORPORATE EARNINGS

Pittsburgh Steel Foundry Corporation reports for the year ended December 31 an operating loss of $5,326 before deduction of bond interest and depreciation in the amount of $105,000, compared with a net profit of $120,302 for year 1930. During the year surplus was decreased $190,651 and 252 shares of preferred stock and 10 bonds were canceled and retired.

Cuba Railroad report for December quarter shows net loss of $129,305 after charges, compared with net income of $317,038 in the previous quarter and net income of $379,087 in the December, 1930, quarter. Six months' net loss totaled $187,833, compared with net income of $639,495 in the like period of a year ago.

Continental Shares, Inc., report for year ended December 31, 1931, shows profit of $53,233 after expenses, interest, etc., but before loss on securities sold, which amounted to $7,251,262. This compares with profit of $2,636,263 after charges, but before profit on securities sold in 1930.

Beech-Nut Packing Company and controlled companies report for year 1931 shows net profit of $2,065,138 after depreciation, taxes and charges, against $2,465,471 in 1930.

New York Central January report shows net operating income of $1,207,144, against $1,868,015 in January, 1931.

Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company disclosed a net loss, after provision for depreciation, of $2,762,335 in 1931, in its annual report. This compares with a net profit of $1,115,415 in 1930. The company's net sales totaled $26,944,154, against $42,725,266 in the previous 12 months.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company report for January shows net railway operating income of $1,354,916, compared with $1,524,153 in January, 1931.

General Tire and Rubber Company report for year ended November 30, 1931, shows net loss of $444,062, after interest and depreciation and after $409,634 write-down of finished and unfinished goods to present market and $497,531 special reserve to take up fluctuations in foreign exchange, etc. In the previous fiscal year General reported profit of $732,397 after depreciation and inventory write-down but before federal tax.

Atchison Railway report for January shows net operating deficit of $125,901, compared with net operating income of $1,482,530 in January, 1931.

Pennsylvania Railroad January net operating income amounted to $2,672,615, compared with $3,380,757 in January, 1931.

Universal Pictures Company, Inc., for year ended October 31, 1931, shows net profit of $415,748 after taxes and charges. This reflects the result of the first full year's operations under the company's new policy of amortizing negative and positive costs and the basis of experience tables.

Brunswick Terminal and Railway Securities report for year 1931 shows profit and loss deficit of $1,316,574 at the close of the year, comparing with profit and loss surplus of $499,116 on December 31, 1930.

National Leather Company report for year ended January 1, 1932, shows consolidated net loss of $1,415,556 after interest, depreciation, etc., comparing with consolidated net loss of $2,709,997 in year ended December 26, 1930.

ROUND TABLE OF BUSINESS

RATE CUT CLUE TO PLANS OF LEADERS

Marked Improvement Seen In Business Sentiment By Pittsburgh Bankers

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
Universal Service.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A further clue to the intention of the counter deflationists in Washington was given when the Federal Reserve Bank of New York lowered its rediscount rate from 3½ to 3 per cent, the first reduction since the foreign gold withdrawal scare last autumn.

Mr. Rukeyser

The Federal Reserve maneuver must be interpreted as a significant move in the drama of credit expansion, which has been a phase of the new co-operative campaign between bankers and the federal government.

In plain language, the rate cut is tantamount to an invitation by the Federal Reserve to member banks to come in and borrow to take advantage of the credit expansion contemplated in the Glass-Steagall bill and also in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and allied quasi-political counter deflationary measures.

LONGER CREDIT

If additional currency and credit released by the new reconstruction agencies are to be absorbed entirely by hoarders at home and in France, then they will not have the contemplated effect in stimulating business and raising the general price level.

Instead of leaving the use of the proposed additional credit supply to pure chance, important bankers in the East, I learn, have been discussing a plan to induce large and outstanding corporations of great financial strength to break the deadlock of depression by selling on longer credit terms than now prevail. Tentatively, the bankers have discussed asking the gilt edge companies to sell their products on notes running as long as one year.

The banks would play their role in discounting the one-year paper for the business corporations, and they feel inclined to take such long-term commercial paper because they feel confident that if necessady they can get help from the Federal Reserve, from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other instruments created to act as benefactors to banks.

DEBT BLAMED

A. C. Robinson, president Peoples-Pittsburgh Trust Company, told me during my visit to Pittsburgh this week that the most hopeful sign locally was the progress which the average man was making in slowly getting out of debt. As employed persons become debt free, he pointed out, they will re-enter the market for various consumable goods and thus stimulate business.

Mr. Robinson thought the economic setback was largely the result of excessive debt, which should be scaled down either directly or through raising the price level.

A. E. Braun, president, Farmers Deposit National Bank, said that in recent days that there has been a marked improvement in business sentiment out this way.

UPTURN SHOWN

A spokesman for an influential group here told me that an industrial index of their own, which had not misled them once since the panic, began to turn upward for the first time at the close of 1931.

He said that a canvass of representative leading corporations indicated that most of them expected not to lose more than in 1931, and that most of them said that on account of expense reduction they could make a better net showing in 1932 without any increase in the volume of gross business done.

Recently he found a better feeling tone among businessmen and bankers, and some very slight harbingers of actual trade improvement.

RETAIL TRADE ACTIVITY LOW

General conditions in this district show comparatively little change, with both jobbers and retailers reporting the movement of seasonal merchandise materially below normal. Buying of spring merchandise is still comparatively light, according to R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly review.

Attempts are being made to reduce stocks of winter merchandise through special sales but with only fair success. A slight improvement is noted in the demand for hardware and farm supplies. Building construction continues at a very low rate, and demand for lumber and other building materials is extremely slow.

The bituminous coal markets show no particular improvement, although somewhat colder weather has slightly stimulated demand for coal for heating purposes. Prices continue unsatisfactory to producers.

There has been practically no improvement in the collection situation, with slowness still predominating.

ANDRE ENTERS NEW FIELD

The F. A. D. Andre Company, manufacturer of radios, has entered the electrical appliance field with a new electric refrigerator and a cordless electric iron.

Glass Producers Attempt Price Stabilization

By GEORGE H. SNYDER

WINDOW GLASS PRODUCERS have launched an attempt to stabilize prices in their industry. The leadership in the move was taken by the American Window Glass Company. The action of this organization is being followed by other producers.

The glass makers have been troubled by falling prices for the past six years. The industry's troubles started from foreign competition. As Belgian plants destroyed in the war were reconstructed they were able to take advantage of cheap labor to force their way into the American market. In 1929 the construction of homes started to decline and this further upset glass producers. The general business depression struck a final blow which has put even the lowest cost manufacturers into difficulties.

The stabilization move undertaken by American Window Glass involves two separate steps. First, all prices of "A" and "B" qualities of single and double strength window glass were increased an average of 10 per cent. Second, the sale of off qualities was discontinued.

Hope to Stop Price Shading

STOPPING THE SALE of off qualities is regarded as of particular importance in the trade. The quantity of these low grades was not great, but enough found its way on the market to permit widespread substitution for the standard grades. This added greatly to the difficulties of the industry and gave considerable trouble to reputable sash and door makers who were forced to compete with products containing an inferior grade of glass.

Several weeks must elapse before the effectiveness of the stabilization attempt can be estimated. Success of the plan will depend entirely of the type of co-operation to be given to the American Window Glass Company by other producers. For years sharp competition has made conditions in the glass industry chaotic. If the new policies are closely followed it will mark a distinct change.

Manufacturing Methods Changed

FALLING PRICES FOR the past six years have made costs an all-important factor to glass makers. It has been necessary for some producers to scrap the bulk of their old equipment and to install entirely new processes. This has been done by the American Window Glass Company which has abandoned all the machines making glass by the cylinder method and has replaced them with Fourcault machines.

Under the old process the glass was blown mechanically into a long cylinder. The ends of the cylinder subsequently were cut off. It was then split and reheated until the cylinders could be flattened. The Fourcault process and similar methods draw the glass from the furnace in continuous flat sheets which need only to be cut to the desired sizes.

Plate Glass Output Low

PLATE GLASS MAKERS have been faced with conditions similar to those in window glass except that they have not been entirely dependent on building activity for business. Since the advent of the closed automobile to popularity, motor car makers have consumed about half the output of plate glass. The increase in the need for small sizes and the more recent development of safety glass have made it necessary to make changes in production methods fully as radical as in window glass.

Manufacturers have been waiting in anticipation of automobile buying which has been slow to develop. Orders for safety glass present the one bright spot in the industry since the number of cars using this type of glass as standard equipment has greatly increased.

OFFER MODERN WAREHOUSE SERVICE

Producers, Merchants Cut Delay in Distribution By Use of Warehouse

In the distribution of merchandise in all large cities, it is the practice of manufacturers, producers and jobbers or brokers to carry in storage stocks of merchandise that may be drawn upon as sales are made in order to supply the trade with a minimum amount of delay. Central Warehouse functions in this capacity and also for the storage of general merchandise received over the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad.

The Central Warehouse is a structure of steel, concrete and brick, seven stories high, constructed from plans approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. Of only recent construction, it embodies the most modern equipment and facilities for expeditious handling and safe and convenient storage of goods.

SPACE AMPLE

Although fireproof throughout, additional protection against fire is afforded by a complete automatic sprinkler system, thereby making possible the securing of the lowest insurance rates for its patrons' goods.

There are six storage floors within the four walls, each comprising 60,000 square feet, divided into rooms, each containing 10,000 square feet and connected one with the other by firedoors; two basements with floor space aggregating 26,000 square feet of storage area, making a grand total of 386,000 square feet, the equivalent of 8½ acres.

HYDRAULIC LIFTS

The six floors above ground level are utilized for general storage and the sub-level floor for storing such commodities as oil, tallow, grease, rope, inks, vinegar, sauerkraut, etc.

In addition to the equipment already described, the warehouse is outfitted with seven five-ton hydraulic lifts with large platforms, capable of handling automobiles, trucks and articles for storage to a length of 25 feet.

DISPLAYS NEW CROSLEY RADIO

All dealers of Crosley products in Western Pennsylvania are being invited by the Keystone Radio Company to inspect the new Crosley radios and refrigerators, February 29, March 1, 2 and 3.

Keystone Radio, distributor of Crosley products in Western Pennsylvania, reports that sales of the new refrigerators exceeded six carloads before samples had arrived in Pittsburgh. Keystone has developed an elaborate sales promotion plan to run for a period of 18 weeks. W. S. Baer, in charge of sales, expects the new products will be received enthusiastically by the public.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Bank clearings are again far below those of last year. GAIN EXPECTED IN STEEL DEMAND

February to Approximate January Steel Output; Prices Hold Interest

By B. E. V. LUTY

Steel ingot production this week has been at about 26 per cent, representing no material change from last week. The month as a whole will closely approximate the January rate, the two months being well above December, but under preceding months, though only slightly under October.

The character and volume of orders lately do not specifically foreshadow any increase on the way, but expectations are in that direction, particularly in connection with railroads and the automobile industry, while there are still chances of marked seasonal increase in requirements of various classes of consumers, despite the fact that such seasonal increase is long overdue according to precedent. The present attitude of extreme conservatism everywhere would naturally delay action as long as possible. In good times buyers anticipate spring requirements instead of pracrastinating.

SELLERS RETICENT

The matter of prices of bars, shapes, plates, sheets and strips is of great interest, a movement towards stabilization having started quietly about a month ago. Wire products, pipe and standard rails are not involved, as they have been perfectly steady. The other lines showed declines in December and January, and even the lower prices admitted were shaded in various instances.

How far the stabilization movement has progressed to date, or how successful it has been, cannot be precisely stated. Sellers are somewhat more reluctant than usual to discuss details of prices in current transactions, but beyond that there is ground for assuming that they themselves do not know. It is as usual a matter of watching competitors, while in addition the smallness of current orders prevents there being a really crucial test. If prices stand the test of the relatively large automobile trade orders expected in the very near future there will be a feeling of relief.

PRICES PUBLISHED

Producers of bars, shapes and plates have indicated, without the formal announcements frequently made in the past, that their second quarter prices are to be 1.60c, Pittsburgh, and 1.70c, Chicago, which would represent restoration of prices ruling for more than a year up to last December and an advance of $2 a ton from the recently quoted market, but still more if account be taken of the shading. Buyers have shown little interest in price statements of this character as they are placing orders only for very prompt shipment. The sheet market has been moving towards the prices recently announced, while strips appear to be steady at prices representing the present objective.

The movement should not be construed so much as an effort to advance prices as an effort to arrest declines as the market was engaged in moving in that direction. The word stabilization may be regarded as a euphemism for advancing prices but likewise it may be considered a euphemism for forestalling further declines.

RAIL BUYING LIGHT

The automobile industry has slowed down in the past month. Ford has had very little production and has bought little steel but the new Ford models are expected to be in production shortly. In addition to the deferment of this tonnage, several other automobile makers have slowed down awaiting appearance of the new Ford models, that they may observe both the models and the public's reception of them. Some fresh models, aimed at cheapness may be brought out.

From Chicago, the great railroad center, come reports of railroads showing much more interest in steel, both for maintenance of way work and for repairs to present equipment. Rail orders will be far from heavy but the year may possibly show as large a percentage of total steel going into rails as recent years have shown.

4 HELD IN RAID ON RUM PLANT

Four men were held by prohibition agents today following a seizure of a large alcohol plant at 606-08 McClure street, Homestead, late yesterday, the agents reported.

Those arrested said they were John Abary, 17, of 1106 Willow way, Braddock; John Checgo, 26, of 333 Center avenue, Carnegie; Diktus Clas, 47, of Paterson, N. J., and Russell VonDerache, 24, of 344 Eighth avenue, Homestead. A 1,500 gallon still, 2,650 gallons of alcohol, 175 gallons of moonshine and other equipment valued by the agents at more than $8,000, were reported confiscated.

Confiscation of gin, whisky, beer and wine was reported in a raid on a club at 5912 Center avenue. John Bovard was arrested, agents said.

Making Cookies, Alibi of Holdup Man Suspect

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Richard Wenger, 25, took refuge behind his own kitchen apron when police arrested him on suspicion for a holdup. Oatmeal cookies were his alibi.

Wenger's mother and four sisters declared in police court yesterday that he was working in the kitchen of their Council Bluffs (Ia.) home at the time of the robbery. The mother said:

"He's a good boy. He washes his own clothes and irons them, and he is always helping me. That afternoon he had baked a cake, and he made those cookies all by himself."

Jake Rundell, who was slightly wounded when his grocery store was held up, was positive in his identification of Wenger, but because of the oatmeal cookie alibi the case was continued.

URGE U. S. LOAN FOR PROSPERITY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(Universal)—Restoration of prosperity to a higher plane than ever before and its permanent continuation on that basis today was predicted by Representative Keller (Dem.), of Illinois, provided a prosperity loan issue is launched.

He outlined a 50-year program of public works to be carried out by the federal government, to be made possible by a $10,000,000,000 bond issue.

To critics of a prosperity loan he pointed out that this sum added to the $20,000,000,000 public indebtedness, was but 7½ per cent of the national wealth of the country in 1929. He said:

"No man would consider it bad business to put that proportion of a mortgage on his property if it enabled him to succeed in business."

Keller added that at the close of the Civil War our public debt was more than 13 per cent of the national wealth and that our ability to increase wealth has increased five-fold since that period.

ASK WHEAT FOR MINE CHILDREN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—An appeal for Farm Board wheat to feed the hungry children of West Virginia miners was laid before the Senate yesterday by Senator M. M. Neely on behalf of the Home Service Red Cross of Elkins. Sallie W. S. Hoover, chairman of the Elkins organization, wired Neely and Senator Hatfield:

"Press reports are that the Senate has approved distribution through the Red Cross of five million bushels of Farm Board wheat to the Northwest for families and livestock.

"Seven hundred and twenty-eight children in the mining district of this county now are fed one meal a day. We urge that legislators authorize the distribution of wheat to the families of starving miners."

Senator Neely read the telegram to the Senate.

LINEN DISPLAY SHOWS GREAT VARIETY

Woman Representing Irish, Scottish Guild Traces Decorative Art Growth

By PENELOPE REDD

Miss Lesley Turner-Brown, missionary extraordinary from Ireland, is representing the Irish and Scottish Linen Guild in an exhibition displayed by means of 15 variations of table services at Kaufmann's. She declares:

Penelope Redd

"The return to more feminine modes in dress is reflected in the contemporary trend toward tables completely covered with linen.

"Although the Egyptians first used linen some 6,000 years ago to spread sails which bore them to distant lands, it was the Romans that discovered it as a covering for tables. Centuries past, the Celts learned that their soil and atmosphere was favorable to the growth of superior flax, thus linen became their particular contribution to the decorative arts.

"Even now a lot of the linen comes from the looms of the cottagers, but the time has necessitated a departure from the old fashion of endlessly repeating a limited repertoire of designs. Today designers are stationed in world cities like New York and Paris to anticipate rapid changes in the fashions."

In the exhibition at Kaufmann's, Miss Turner-Brown has chosen 15 occasions to compose decorative ensembles of silver, glass, china and table decorations, against backgrounds of appropriate linens.

"Springtime," "Informal Dinner," and "Breakfast for Three" are stimulating exercises in the decorative arts which any one might emulate effectively.

Today at 3 p. m. Miss Turner-Brown was to discuss "Those Week End Feasts."

MARIETTA, O., Feb. 27.—(AP)—William C. Trace, Postmaster at New Concord, was at liberty under $3,000 bond, charged of embezzling $7,463.17 from postal funds.

Trace pleaded not guilty and waived preliminary hearing.

Liquor Poured Out By Wife; Fight Brings Divorce

A quart bottle of liquor hidden in cellar rafters resulted in a divorce for Marie Seibert, Mt. Royal road, Squirrel Hill, from Marshal Seibert, Coraopolis, granted by Judge Ambrose B. Reid in Common Pleas Court. Mrs. Siebert testified she found the bottle September 10, 1928, about 10 years after their marriage, and told her husband she emptied it. She said:

"He knocked me over a chair and gave me a thrashing and told me if he could not drink at home he wasn't going to stay. He packed his handbag, despite my coaxing him to stay, and he knocked me down and picked me up and knocked me down again; then he left."

JOBLESS URGED TO DEMAND AID

Organizers of the Communist Party and the Unemployed Council addressed almost 1,000 persons at Ninth and Water streets, McKeesport, yesterday, urging unemployed to demand help from the City Council.

Speakers told their hearers to demand that the taxes of the unemployed be reduced, that no furniture be seized, that the city install plumbing in homes of jobless, that the city take over vacant houses and open them to needy families, and that the Unemployed Council be given a seat in the City Council.

Except for a disturbance by a man who heckled one speaker because he attacked the McKeesport Mayor, the meeting was orderly.

FINE WORKMANSHIP AND DETAIL FEATURE THE SPRING MODELS

Paris Bureau, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Feb. 27.—At the moment that the appended sketches are being made and this bulletin sent, early spring, so far as the mode is concerned is a fait accompli. Certainly the clothes shown for general wear in town during these first delightful days that presage real spring are eminently wearable. A quiet frock, beautifully made with fine workmanship and detail will sail along the sea of fashion gracefully, fully conscious of its own importance and beauty, but never stressing it. If one goes to a good shop and does pay perhaps more than one is in the habit of paying for a frock, it will be found that the outlay is more than justified and that usually such a frock will be worn long after a host of cheap frocks are in the discard. This year's spring clothes will repay careful investigation and choice, as they are mostly not of the type that will bear copying down in cheap editions.

* * *

TODAY'S SKETCHES will give a comprehensive idea of the spring mode for general street wear. Lanvin makes the smart frock of dark brown woolen and over the tailored bodice places a circular cape of brown galyak. It fastens with two large mother-of-pearl buttons on the front of the bodice and there is a shallow rolled collar. The wide belt of brown patent leather fastens with a mother-of-pearl buckle. Upon removing the cape, shallow capelets, set in at the top of the sleeves, are seen. These reach to a point midway between shoulder and elbow. The skirt has four box-pleats, each laid in the separate panels that are attached at the top on stitched down pleats.

* * *

THE OTHER FROCK is a Bruyere model made of a wool crepe by Rodier called "Crepelic." It features a bodice with a double pointed gilet of drawn work done from the material itself and worked with blue and white threads. The skirt yoke is seamed to simulate the lower half of a jumper, carrying down the lines of the gilet onto the skirt in front. The effect continues to the hemline forming a deep point. A cuff-like band attached at the lower edge only runs diagonally around the upper half of the sleeve. This is the type of apparently simple frock that will be seen much this year.

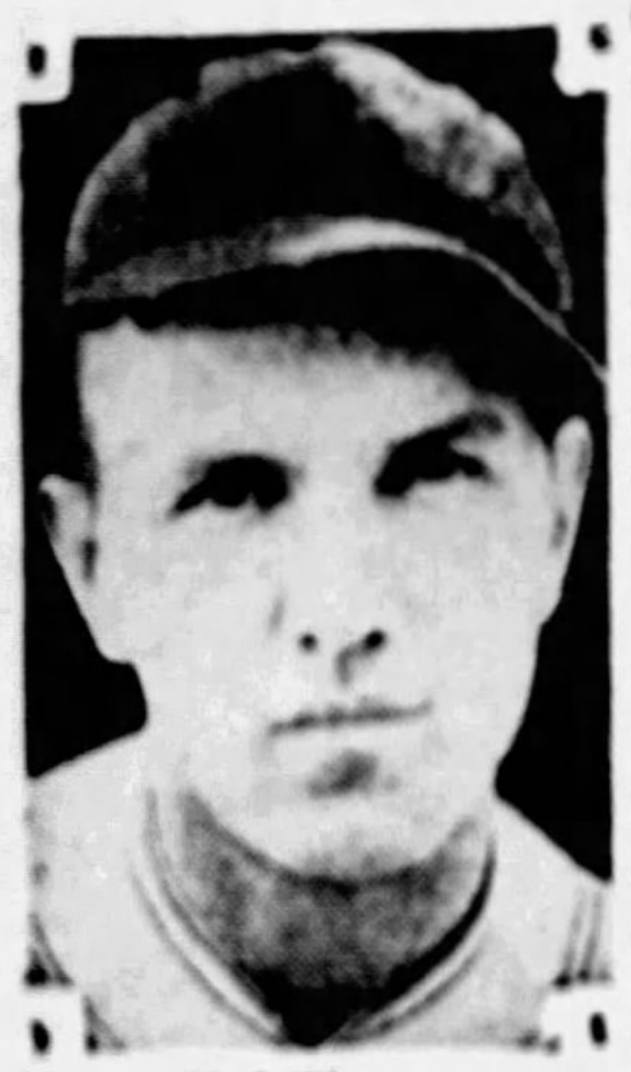
FINNEY MAY BLOCK BRENZELL'S PATH

WHILE THERE PROBABLY was some slight exaggeration in the report that Manager George Gibson, on the Pirates' very first day in camp at Paso Robles, had pronounced Catcher Bill Brenzel "a second Mickey Cochrane," there is little doubt in the minds of Pittsburgh fans that the former Coast Leaguer is an unusually good prospect. Joe Devine, who recommended him, seldom goes wrong, and there is plenty of evidence in other directions that the Bucs have picked up a recruit of more than ordinary merit.



Hal Finney

At that, Brenzel may have a fight on his hands to crowd Hal Finney out of first place in the Pirate catching picture. There's another young receiver who looks as though he can't miss. Brenzel's brilliance has been largely on the defensive side. Though he made more errors than any other Coast League catcher last season, 17, he also made the greatest number of assists, 89, which proves he was doing things back there. But his batting average of .284, with 107 hits and 32 runs in 109 games, leaves a question as to whether he will prove as valuable offensively as Finney, who, while he played in only 10 games for the Rovers, made a mark suggesting punching power by hitting big league pitchers for .308.

BUT NO MATTER which of the pair wins the decision in the end, there is a happy prospect that the Corsairs are going to have a new asset in a classy young catcher, apart from Earl Grace. The fortunes of the local club this year are likely to depend largely on the way the catching department shows up, and Brenzel and Finney make the outlook encouraging.

Of course, it is preferable to have a veteran and a live youngster as a catching duo, with the first-string assignment in the hands of a seasoned campaigner. Yet, it doesn't follow that a wide awake recruit, with no more experience than Brenzel or Finney boasts, can't come through and make good as a regular backstop in the big show.

IF THE NATIVE ability is there, a rookie receiver can establish himself behind the bat right away in the majors. It has been the history of many of the game's great catchers that they stepped right in from the minors and became first-stringers immediately.

Jimmy Wilson was good enough to work in 85 games in his first season with the Phillies in 1923. Mickey Cochrane caught in 134 games for the A's when he joined them in 1925. Tried in only 10 games at the tailend of the 1928 campaign, Bill Dickey showed enough to warrant his being used in 130 contests in 1929, and Alfonso Lopez did duty in 128 engagements for the Dodgers in his initial year, 1930. A young catcher who has the right stuff doesn't have to wait around for a year or two to qualify for first-string work.

IT ISN'T STRONGLY probable that the rise of the Pittsburgh hockey club to fifth place in the International League race is going to mean anything. For Detroit, occupying the last of the playoff berths, is still four points ahead of the Yellow Jackets, and the handicap that constitutes for the locals at this late stage will be realized when it is pointed out that if Detroit, barring the possibility of ties, only breaks even in its remaining 12 games, Pittsburgh will have to win eight of its 11 remaining contests to deadlock for fourth place, or nine out of 11 to nose out its rivals. And the fight is not made any easier by the fact that Capt. Tory Gregg and his mates must play away from home in six of their next seven games, starting tonight in Cleveland.

Tory Gregg

WHILE ERNIE SCHAAF did no more than had been expected of him in winning the decision over Young Stribling in their 10-round bout in Chicago last night, he must be said to have kept up by this performance his advance toward the front of the heavyweight ranks.

There is nothing colorful about Schaaf. He is not a showman. He's just all fighter, who takes all the other fellow can give him and hands back more than he receives. In turning back Stribling, on top of beating nearly all the other big fellows running around loose, he strengthens the growing impression that he is or soon will be the best American heavyweight throwing leather.

WHE YOU'RE PLAYING baseball for John McGraw, you've got to do just that and nothing else. The Giant boss, at the Los Angeles training camp of the New York club, has taken a firm stand against everything except diamond work.

After checking up to make sure there wasn't a golf club in the baggage of any player, McGraw not only issued strict orders against golf, even on the off days which the squad expects to enjoy on the first few Sundays, but announced that swimming also will be taboo.

THE DEFEAT OF Buff Donnelli's Duke freshman basketball team at the hands of the West Virginia yearlings kept safe the record of the Pitt freshman teams of 1927 to 1931 for consecutive victories. Until Eddie Bartrug's young Mountaineers put an end to the streak, the Dukelets of two seasons ran up a string of 39 straight triumphs, and appeared to have a good chance to carry on next winter until they had run their total to 51 and beaten the high mark for this district set by the Panther Cubs. The little Panthers started off in the latter part of the 1927 campaign and went on without another defeat until they finally lost to Johnny Reed's Scott High hoopsters early last season.

THE KOWALLIS-COACHED Pitt freshman outfits of those years were powerful, high-scoring teams, and there are many who believe that Kowallis, if he should decide to resume coaching after finishing his interneship in Mercy Hospital the coming summer, would make a better-than-average mentor for some college.

A total of only four defeats in almost 60 games played is by no means a poor record for any coach, especially when he has to build a new team each succeeding season, and while doing this building keep preparing his charges to fill varsity positions the following year.

FROM ONE ANGLE it might be figured that in selecting Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler as head football coach, Princeton is taking on a type of game originated by its oldest gridiron rival, Yale. For Crisler learned his football at Chicago from Alonzo Stagg, and it was at Yale that Stagg got his fundamentals.

However, it's a far different kind of football that Stagg teaches. He had ideas of his own and gradually broke away from conventional Yale methods. Though he has rarely received any credit for it, and is falsely pictured as a moss-backed reactionary, Stagg has originated as many strategic maneuvers as any of the more loudly ballyhooed coaches.

Fritz Crisler

IN HIS PLAYING days at Chicago, Crisler was an end; so good an end, too, that many of the game's historians give him top ranking among all of Chicago's great terminal stars, a list that includes such performers as Mark Catlin, Pat Page, Fred Speik and Oil Lampe. Fritz reached his greatest heights in his final season, 1921, when his brilliant work, particularly in the closing game against Wisconsin, was pronounced by Coach Stagg the finest defensive end play he had seen since the time of Frank Hinkey.

Unable to overcome a disadvantage in height, weight and experience, a courageous East Pittsburgh High School basketball team, champion of Section XVII, went down to defeat at the hands of Swissvale High School, champion of Section XI, last night, in the opening battle of the twentieth annual W. P. I. A. L. elimination series in the Pitt Stadium pavilion. The score was 16 to 9. A crowd, estimated at 1,500, saw the game.

East Pittsburgh, making its bow in the elimination series, showed signs of nervousness from start to finish and its ragged handling of the ball played an important part in bringing about its defeat. Poor work from the foul line also contributed to the downfall of Johnny Coleman's Shamrocks.

DEFENSE IS STRONG

Swissvale, coached by Ed Paulie, was unimpressive in victory. Rated a strong favorite at the outset, due to the fact that it had beaten East Pittsburgh twice in non-league contests earlier in the season, the Gold and Blue quintet found East Pittsburgh's zone defense almost impregnable. East Pittsburgh, however, could not match its offense with its defensive play and was limited to three field goals.

Poor handling of the ball by East Pittsburgh enabled Swissvale to lead from the outset. The losers missed seven straight shots from the foul line, making only the last three of their 10 chances.

Standing out as heroes in defeat were Tommy Ference and Narey, two youngsters, who despite their lack of height, kept the East Pittsburghers in the ball game throughout. The Emerick boys and Rosenbloom played fine floor games for the visitors.

Casillo and Ross Emerick led the victors in scoring, each bagging four points. Paliscek was the main point-getter for the Shamrocks, the East Pittsburgh forward registering four markers.

As a result of its victory, Swissvale advanced to the second round of the tournament and will meet Charleroi at the Pitt Stadium pavilion on March 9. Charleroi is champion of Section V and one of the favorites to win the championship.

The next game brings together Homestead, Section VII champion, against Burgettstown, Section XIV champion, in the Stadium Monday night.

NEW CASTLE CHAMP

New Castle won the right to represent Section III in the elimination series last night by defeating Butler, 24-20, on the New Castle floor. New Castle, coached by Phil Bridenbaugh, will make its debut in the tournament by engaging the Leetsdale-Zelienople winner in the Pitt Stadium next Friday in a second-round game.

Fifth Avenue High School moved into a tie for first place with Schenley in Section I of the City League race yesterday when it defeated Connelly, 28-19, while Schenley dropped its important battle to an inspired Allderdice quintet, 30 to 20. As a result the two teams will clash next Tuesday in the Pitt Stadium pavilion for the right to engage Allegheny, Section II champion, in a post-season series for the City League title.

The title series begins next Friday afternoon on the Pitt Stadium floor. The second game is scheduled for March 8 and if a third is necessary it will be played March 11. In the event that either Schenley or Allegheny win neither will represent District 8 of the P. I. A. A. in the state title tourney.

Allderdice limited Hyatt, Schenley ace, to three baskets to muzzle the high-scoring gun of the Bellefielders. Kweller, Hyatt's opponent, scored four baskets for the victors.

PUGLIANO STARS

Pugliano stood out in Fifth's victory over Connelley, the little Italian sharpshooter having one of his big days with 11 points. In the other Section I game South swamped Peabody, 40-27.

Allegheny maintained its string of unbroken victories in Section II, defeating Oliver, 48-24. It was the twelfth successive triumph for Springer's champions. The lineup for the Swissvale-East Pittsburgh game:

GEORGETOWN, PENN OPPOSE LOCAL FIVES

By JESS CARVER

Pittsburgh is left sadly out of it all as far as intercollegiate competition is concerned tonight. There isn't a thing going on, either at Pitt, Tech or Duquesne, which gives the boys a swell opportunity to get caught up with their radio listenin', contract bridging and where they can raise the price, their night clubbing.

The basketball varsities at Pitt and Carnegie, however, are in action out of town, and the Panther trackmen are due for an indoor dual engagement with West Virginia at Morgantown.

SAINTS CLOSE CAMPAIGN

Other basketball games on the program in the tri-state area feature Thiel and St. Vincent in the latter's season finale at Latrobe. West Virginia and Wash-Jeff in Washington; Glenville's fine State Teachers at Allegheny, and Slippery Rock and Indiana at Indiana.

West Virginia's wrestlers take on Western Reserve and Penn State and Cornell match their grapplers at State College. Carnegie Tech was to have pitted its boxers against Bucknell, but injuries and ineligibility cut so deeply into the ranks of the Tartans that the duels were canceled.

PITT MEETS PENN

Pitt is making its second and final invasion of the East, playing the formidable Penn five in the Palestra tonight and moving on to Boston Monday for a go with Harvard. Carnegie winds up its three-game swing which has brought the Skibos against Princeton and Temple so far with the Georgetown game. The Skibos, by the way, are making the trip by bus in an effort, it is understood, on the part of Buddy Overend to drop some poundage.

In the only boxing match of the day of interest hereabouts Penn State and the Army punch away at West Point.

Pitt's natators meet the Rider College swimmers at Trenton tonight.

The Lutherans led at half-time, 19-16, but the regulation time ended at 27-all. Funk scored a field basket to start the extra session, but Marconi fouled Wardle, who made the penalty fling, and Thomas tossed in the deciding bucket. The lineup:

Clark, Former Buc, Sold to Newark

WOODLAND, Cal., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—The San Francisco Missions baseball club, training here, today announced the sale of Stewart Clark, infielder, to the Newark club of the International League. Clark was purchased last year from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

SCHAAF BEATS STRIBLING

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Ernie Schaaf, the Boston powerhouse, threw a real Boston tea party last night.

Schaaf overwhelmed W. L. (Young) Stribling in their savage 10-round battle in the Chicago Stadium, decisively defeating him and establishing himself as potential threat to the world heavyweight championship.

The verdict of the two judges and Referee Dave Barry was unanimous.

Schaaf, by his relentless, punishing attack, which he switched from head to body, was credited with being Stribling's master in eight of the 10 rounds. He knocked Stribling to his haunches just before the bell ended the fourth round, driving him to the floor with a short left hook that didn't travel more than six inches, after cracking him unmercifully with four short right uppercuts, delivered while he had Stribling tied up in a clinch.

Al Fay, Pittsburgh heavyweight, was awarded a close decision over Tom Davenport, of Little Rock, Ark., in a six-rounder.

O'DONNELL GOES TO CHURCHILL

Jimmy O'Donnell, affable former professional at the Edgewood Country Club, is reported to have signed as instructor at the new Churchill Valley semi-public golf course, near Edgewood. At this time, O'Donnell is at his winter berth, at Ocala Highlands, Fla.

A popular S. A. R. golfer, Dr. Guy D. Engle, of the famous Edgewood County Club Bingville Foursome, rated a hole in one on the fourteenth hole there t'other day. Playing a single match with J. A. Butts, Dr. Engle dropped his drive in the cup on the temporary green of that hole.

CHILLYSAUCE

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

That dizzy tale out of Manhattan telling of a plan to swap Mel Ott for Paul Waner has been blasted by a very positive baseball man. John McGraw, I figured, has a high regard for Ott. To me Mel is one of the game's sweetest outfielders, a great batsman; in fact one of the most valuable players in the game.

McGraw has ridiculed the proposition, and it is not altogether a case of sour grapes which might exist when one considers that one of John J.'s scouts "booted" Brother Paul just before the late Barney Dreyfuss put out a fortune for the little slugger.

No, McGaw does not slam our rightfielder directly, but, rather, in a relative manner, although his remarks may not be accepted by Paul's many admirers. The Giant chieftain was broadcasting a denial of the rumored deal involving the Buccos when he said:

"What would we do with him? He isn't nearly the ballplayer Mel Ott is."

Ott really is a better fielder than Paul; indeed I think he is just about the equal of Brother Lloyd in centerfield and he hits the rocket even harder than does the senior Bucco slugger.

In the event that Ogden Mills, batting for Uncle Andy, runs into trouble, Herbert Hoover couldn't do worse than call upon Branch Rickey, who is the Alexander Hamilton of the Cardinal treasury.

Rickey required only a couple of weeks of the winter season to pull a couple of deals that brought a net profit of more than $50,000 to the Redbird coffers. And how those St. Louis officials do like the coin of the realm!

Can you imagine a team being boomed as a flag repeater after chasing a pitcher of the worth of Burleigh Grimes? Burleigh and his $20,000 salary were passed along to the rich Cubs for Hack Wilson and Bud Teachout. But that was just a prelude to Rickey's real skit. The Cards then Uncle Tomm'd Hack the Whacker and the rich Dodgers' plantation landed the prize slave for $42,500. The bid was $2,500 higher than McGraw's offer.

In the meantime a new actor had stepped into the scene. Jerome (Dizzy) Dean, for something like $5,000, is banked on to win as many games for the Redbirds as Grimes will turn in for the Cubs. So in playing both ends, the Cards gained more than "fifty grand"—yet if they should miss the fighting qualities possessed by Burleigh they may have played the ends against the middle.

Stansbury Seeks To Stop Stalling

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—An offensive against the "stall" and "freezing" in intercollegiate basketball has been started by H. A. Stansbury, athletic director at West Virginia University. Pointing out that interest in the court game is dying here because of these tactics, Stansbury suggests to the ruling powers of basketball that "something should be done."

The Yellow Jackets were well burdened down with objectives as they left for Cleveland today to meet the Indians in an International Hockey League game there tonight.

Their principal aim is to score an International loop victory in Cleveland, a feat they have not been able to attain in two seasons of competition. Tonight's fray marks the Jackets' last invasion of Cleveland in the 1931-32 campaign, so if the Pittsburgh triumph is to be postponed it will be postponed for several months.

BIG HELP TO TEAM

The realization of this first aim will result in two others falling gracefully into line. They are:

1—Stay in the race for a play-off berth.

2—To sew up the edge in their season series with the Indians, their most despised foemen.

The Reidmen at present are two games out of the money circle. It is a certainty that a Pittsburgh triumph will reduce this gap to a single game, for Detroit, immediately in front of the Canary Shirts, is not scheduled for league action tonight.

As for the Pittsburgh-Cleveland season series, the Jackets already have a one-game edge. After tonight the old rivals will meet only once, at Duquesne Garden, in the final game of the season. One more win will put the series "on ice" for the locals.

INDIANS PRIMED

In their last start the Indians rolled up a 6-1 score on the Bulldogs at Windsor. Assuming that this was no mistake the Tribesmen must be in fine fettle. With Gordy Fraser back in the lineup the Jackets looked rather formidable in downing Syracuse Thursday. The Indians are not likely to want for opposition. The probable lineup:

PIRATES REACH CAMP TODAY

SELIGMAN, Ariz., Feb. 27.—The long, tiresome journey across the country to the Paso Robles training camp, which will end late this afternoon, has not dimmed the enthusiasm of the second squad of Pirate players, brimming over with confidence and with every member of the party in excellent physical condition.

The players, both veterans and recruits alike, are anxiously awaiting the first session of the training grind. Several members of the party, on their first trip to the coast, have not found the journey so tiresome, with the broad expanses of oil fields and other unusual sights leaving them rather spellbound.

Both the veterans and recruits are anxious to get down to the training grind. The Waners both reported in wonderful physical shape, looking fit and trim for an arduous grind after a winter spent in fishing and working out at Miami Beach.

Tommy Thevenow, Tony Piet and Floyd Young are the infielders in the second party. The outfielders are the Waners, Dick Barbee and Gus Dugas, while the pitchers are Ervin Brame and Bill Swift.

GIBSON LECTURES HURLERS

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Feb. 27.—Manager George Gibson took his Buccaneer hurlers into a corner of the local park yesterday and gave them a lecture on pitching strategy. He instructed them on what to do and what not to do while on the mound.

After the lecture, they were ordered to participate in the workout of the day, scattering at places in the infield. Jim Crandall, who almost suffered serious injury when he applied the wrong medicine as an eye wash, worked out with the boys, and appears to be much improved.

Pie Traynor and Steve Swetonic are due in camp today. The Pirate captain and his wife have been wintering in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Traynor recently underwent a surgical operation and has improved rapidly. Swetonic also has been on the coast since last fall. Steve apparently has signed.

The Pittsburgh pitcher will bring the star third baseman here by automobile in the morning. Both have obtained permission to play an inning in tomorrow's charity game at Los Angeles.

DUFFY MITT VICTOR

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 27.—Knockouts featured the Harvey A. C. amateur boxing show here last night, which was climaxed by a great fight in which Joe Duffy outpointed Harry Gillingham of Beaver Falls in the final bout. The boys fought in the 126-pound class. Tiger Robinson, Beaver Falls, stopped Ted Clowes, New Brighton, in two rounds in the 135-pound class. In the 125-pound class Phil Trenhour, Conway, defeated Marty Stuka, Monaca, by a knockout in one round.

WILSON GIVEN AWARD OVER DAVIES

By HARRY KECK

Sports Editor

Willie Davies, Charleroi bantamweight veteran, outboxed Jackie Wilson, young Negro, of the East End, in the 10-round main bout at the Kapphan arena last night, but the unanimous decision of the two judges and the referee went to his opponent.

It was one of the fastest main bouts of the season here, with Willie setting the pace and Wilson doing the harder hitting. Willie fought with a cut eye from the first round on but carried five of the rounds, with four going to his opponent and one even. He took occasional good right hand punches from Jackie, but weathered them in good style and always came back to force the going.

EDGE IS SLIGHT

On generalship, clever boxing and leading, the edge, a slight one, belonged to Davies, who was to meet Mose Butch in a return bout if he won last night. Now Wilson will get the match with the Oakland southpaw. Jackie fought a good fight against the caginess of the more experienced Davies, scoring heavily when he landed, and he failed only in that he permitted Davies to take the play away from him over the route.

Wilson scaled 121¾ pounds against 118 for Davies.

The preliminaries were mediocre. Marty McHale, of McKeesport, 144, messed through eight slow rounds in the semi-final against Johnny Cooper, Negro, of Cincinnati, 143, to win the decision.

CONSTANTINO, KOSEL WIN

Tony Constantino, of Soho, 146, bested Billy Gore, of Ford City, 148½, in the second bout, and Andy Kosel, of Turtle Creek, 119½, won over Frankie Consolo, of Swissvale, 119¾, in the opener.

L. K. Meininger and Frank Perris were the judges and Al Grayber refereed all of the bouts, with Tommy Grant the timer and Ray Eberle the announcer.

STRUB DEFEATS DORFMAN

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 27.—Maxie Strub, Erie lightweight, punched out a 10-round decision over Sammy Dorfman, New York, before a fair sized assemblage here last night. Dorfman outboxed the Erie boy during the early rounds, but from the fifth on Strub's hard right crashed into Dorfman's body repeatedly, landing over the heart and slowing down the Jewish lad perceptibly. Strub weighed 134½ and Dorfman 135.

Ray Collins, stablemate of Strub, received a "gift" decision over Chet Smallwood, Cleveland, in the six-round semi-final. Smallwood landed more often than Collins and outboxed the Erie boy from the start. Collins weighed 140, Smallwood 136.

SPEIGAL BEATS OGER

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Feb. 27.—(AP.)—Three technical knockouts were recorded in last night's boxing program here. Joey Speigal, 146, Uniontown, Pa., won a 10-round decision over Paul Oger, 146, Fairmont, in the only one to go the limit.

Between Rounds

Jackie Fields will get in tomorrow morning for his 10-round return battle with Jimmy Belmont at Motor Square Garden Monday night. The welterweight champion, whose title will not be at stake, has done his training for the battle in Chicago.

John Maxos, the Greek wrestler, who was injured in his bout with Strangler Lewis in Motor Square Garden Thursday night, was able to leave the West Penn Hospital last night and return to his home in New York. His condition was diagnosed as a mild concussion of the brain and contusion of the suboccipital region of the vertebrae.

Humbert Fugazy will return to the fold as a promoter in the vicinity of New York this summer. He claims he has the inside track for the services of Primo Carnera and Jack Kearns' outfit, which includes Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion; Benny Leonard and Jackie Fields.

John T. Taylor, secretary-treasurer of the Allegheny Mountain Association of the A. A. U., is receiving entries at his office, 21 Vandergrift Building, for the Greater Pittsburgh championship boxing tournament to be held at the Moose Temple next Friday and Saturday nights.

The rasslers evidently are here to stay. Promoter Ray Fabiani has taken a year's lease on an office in Fourth avenue which will be his operating headquarters, with Charley Reinecke in charge. The wrestlers are to report there upon their arrival for matches and the office also will serve as ticket headquarters.

Young Rudy, of Charleroi, boxes Bucky Lawless in the main bout at Erie next Friday night.

TIPOFF FOR SECOND HALF OF SCHOOL GAME

Sports Vignettes

Comes to bat Frank Klaus, former middleweight champion of the world, to explain why his welterweight fighter, Jimmy Belmont, bought that horse . . . He says the automobile Jimmy purchased following his bout with Ted Yarosz was too slow and Jimmy wanted to go places . . . Belmont has all of the trappings of your well dressed gentleman rider and knows enough not to wear them when he rides a bicycle.

"I see," says the same Mr. Klaus, "that Jackie Fields plans to box Johnny Indrisano in Boston four nights after he meets my Jimmy in their return bout at Motor Square Garden next Monday night . . . That is, he will box Indrisano if he is able to." Deponent sayeth not what Jimmy plans to do to the welterweight champion to prevent him from meeting Indrisano, but it is a broad and dark hint that he drops.

"And, say, where do they get that stuff about my Jimmy butting his opponents' eyes open?" continues the voluble Klaus . . . "Isn't it possible that he slices some of those optics with his gloves and not his head? . . . The reason I ask this is that he works out with several sparring partners daily, and, as long as I have had him, which is more than a year now, he never has butted a single man in the gymnasium . . . Maybe I'm wrong, but this campaign of accusing him of being a billy goat in the ring is beginning to get my nanny . . . And not because I hailed originally from Goat Hill, either."

Goat Hill, hard by Braddock, was a tough place in his younger days, Klaus opines, but he says the march of progress has softened it up to such an extent that you'd hardly recognize it as the same locality now . . . At least, it can't begin to compare with Bugs Baer's Rufftown in these modern times.—HARRY KECK.

OLYMPICS AIM OF KISH

Michael Kish, of Port Vue, one of the leading marathon runners of Western Pennsylvania, plans to make a bid for a place on the United States Olympic team. He failed to make the team in 1928, finishing ninth in the trials held in Dearborn, Mich.

Michael Kish

Kish has begun training for the local events, and, if successful here, will compete in the Olympic trials to be staged in Boston on April 19 and in Baltimore on May 14.

FULLER BEATS MILLER

EMBERS OF LOVE -:- Story of a Pretty Girl in Whom Burned The Flame of a Great Emotion -:- By HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Lily Lou Learns From Ken's Dad That Her Marriage Has Been Annulled

Synopsis

Lily Lou Lansing, young and pretty telephone operator, gives up her opportunity for an operatic career to marry wealthy Ken Sargent. Ken's mother threatens to have the marriage annulled. Ken loses his position with his father, but secures a better one. The young couple take a small apartment and are ideally happy. Then, one night, Lily Lou awakens to hear Ken sobbing.

Now Go On

CHAPTER XXI.

It was Ken's father. He stood there, large, comfortable, sure of himself, his fine head and shoulders erect, his nice business suit carefully pressed . . .

"My dear child," he said, "you've been crying."

Lily Lou drew back. She wouldn't have had him find her so for worlds . . . all in rumpled disarray, red-eyed . . . the house in disorder . . .

"Won't you come in?"

What else could she say? He was here, he had to come in she supposed.

He came in, took a seat in one of the armchairs. She slipped into the other. He looked at her, a little curiously, but kindly.

She shut her lips firmly. If he thought she was going to apologize for her appearance, her tears, he was mistaken.

He looked at her with mounting admiration. She had nerve. He admired nerve.

"Suppose you tell me all about it," he said after a long pause.

"I was crying because Ken lost his job," she said, simply. No use keeping it from him . . . they all knew each other in shipping circles. If his father didn't know it already, he would soon.

"Hmm . . . worried for your future?"

"Ken's future!"

ASKS FOR KEN'S FREEDOM

He smiled. "You have faith in yourself."

That angered Lily Lou. "I was well started on a grand opera career when I married your son, Mr. Sargent. I've been working, taking care of myself for a long time."

"Hm . . . so that's the lay of the land."

He continued to smile. She returned his steady gaze, unflinching.

"Now that I've told you why I've been crying, suppose you tell me why you called—at a time when you knew Ken wouldn't be here!"

For a few moments he didn't answer.

"You and I will have no trouble understanding each other. I can see that," he said finally. "You come to the point. Very well, so do I."

Lily Lou gripped the sides of her chair. She knew what he was going to say. She was afraid.

"I want you to let my son go."

She gulped. "I'm not keeping him!"

Her chin began to quiver. She got up and went to the window, pretending to adjust the shade.

"I thought we were going to keep to the point," the man said patiently.

"That is the point. He won't leave me!" She wheeled on him, flaming with anger, and sudden hot, happy pride. "You know it. Otherwise you wouldn't have come to me. That's true. You know it's true!"

"Of course it is true. The boy isn't a cad."

"No—and you're trying to make him one! Yes, you are! You—"

OBSTRUCTED DESIRES

"Please," he said gently, "sit down. I didn't come here to quarrel with you."

"No—just to throw me out of Ken's life. Because you—YOU have got other plans for it! Why do you interfere? He knows what he wants. He wants to get away from offices, to work with ships. He doesn't care for money and all that, and I don't either. You can take all your old money and throw it in the bay for all Ken cares. He had such wonderful ideas for the South American trade. He was trying to amount to something as himself—not just your son. Do you realize what that means to him? To be himself? Must he be nothing but your son all his life? Oh, why don't you stay out of it—let him do as he wants to? Even if it's all wrong? It's HIS life! You think I'm going to spoil it. Well—what's it to you? Can't he spoil it if he wants to......oh, you....you make me so mad...."

He didn't smile. He waited, nodding his head gravely.

"You'd better go home," she said, unsteadily. "I'm all upset, and I'm going to say something I'll be sorry for, and I don't want to, because you ARE Ken's father, and I guess you love him, in your own way—"

"We both love him," he agreed. But he didn't rise. He sat immovable, his great frame erect in the armchair. "And I dare say we've both interfered. He's only a boy, while you—" he smiled a little, "are a woman in character and experience. I can talk to you as an equal—something I couldn't do with Ken—"

PLANNED FOR SON

"You feel that way because you're his father," she cut in, determined that he shouldn't flatter her. "All fathers feel that way. Mine does about me."

"Perhaps. But in my case I'm afraid it is justified. I'm going to tell you something. Ken isn't strong. He's weak. He never finished a thing in his life. He never really finished high school. He was lazy. He went to sea, he didn't finish that, he came back licked—"

"You can't turn me against Ken!"

"I'm not trying to. My dear girl, he's my son. My only child. I'd give him my life, if it would help him. I believe in him, too. I think that some day he will be a man to be proud of, but he isn't now—he isn't now—"

A stifled sob from Lily Lou.

"When you came into Ken's life, he was for the first time in his life doing well. Perhaps he told you he didn't like the work. Very well. We must all do things we don't like. But he was learning something. He was laying the foundation of a career, a great career. He likes ships. Some day he will own ships . . . the greatest line in these United States, if plans I have materialize, Captain Sage and I—"

Capt. Sage . . . She saw him, sitting in a big office, with Ken's father, somewhere. These two, with their grey heads together, planning . . . And she saw Peggy, too . . . Peggy with her fluff of gilt hair, her hawk nose, like her father's, her bright brown eyes . . .

"Can't you and Capt. Sage plan without Ken?"

THINKS OF PEGGY

She flushed under his hard, direct gaze. Could he know how she felt about Peggy? Did he guess . . . could he know about Ken still seeing her? For the first time she began to falter. . . . She could fight for Ken, but if Ken didn't want her . . . if all the time it was Peggy he wanted. . . .

Ken's father was talking again. "When he's ready for it, Ken will have all the power he wants, all the ships, too. He has ideas. If I can make him buckle down and study, he will realize all his dreams some day. Now this South American bug. . . . But my dear girl, he doesn't know any more about conditions that we ship owners and our patrons the shippers have to face than any other lad who has made one trip down south . . . can't you understand that? Can't you see that he isn't ready?"

She saw. She nodded. "But Hoyt took him—"

"Mere spite work. Then fired him. And now Ken sees it himself. Capt. Sage came to me and made me a proposition, after Ken had been to him and he had poured out his troubles to Peggy——"

MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Lily Lou reached for her wet ball of a handkerchief, but she said nothing. After all, it wasn't a surprise. She knew it. She knew he'd gone to Peggy . . .

Again she saw Peggy, and Peggy's self-confident smile . . . Well, if that was how he felt, she wouldn't hold him. But she wouldn't discuss it with Ken's father, either . . .

"We're merging our interests. You don't understand just what that means. Millions. The dream of a lifetime for me . . . for Ken, too, if you let him—"

She was too tired, too sick with thinking of Peggy . . . Peggy whose face she would soon be seeing in every paper, christening a ship or something . . . She just couldn't.

"I'm afraid I must ask you to excuse me. I'm really very tired—"

He rose now, quick sympathy on his lined, weather beaten face. "I'm sorry for you. Truly, my dear, I'm sorry for you."

"You needn't be," she flashed, "I can take care of myself!"

"But I've made arrangements—"

Lily Lou felt the floor wavering under her. She felt beaten and battered, and sick unto death. "You might have waited till it was necessary," she said desperately. "I haven't decided to leave Ken yet. And when I do it's him I'll tell. It's between us—us two, and nobody—nobody—"

To her horror and disgust her voice broke. She began to cry, convulsively, struggling futilely to find the dismal handkerchief.

He put his big hands on her shoulders. "My dear child, I'm so sorry. Didn't Ken tell you anything? Don't you know that yesterday your marriage was annulled?"

ALL IN A DAY

By MARK HELLINGER

Small Town Story

HERE, MY friends, is one of the best stories I have ever heard. As a commentary on the current prohibition situation, you'll go a long way before you can find anything to top it. You'll have to pardon me for not employing the real name of the central character or the exact community in question. But I promised. And a promise is a promise with Hellinger—sometimes.

At any rate, let's consider the locale of the story. It's a typical town in one of the states on the upper Atlantic seaboard. About 6,000 inhabitants. Natural jealousies. Common enmities. All of the local worries. Plenty of gossip. Several millionaires. One or two very important men. All the rest, average citizens.

Living in the community was an influential figure in governmental affairs. He was a big man with a big body and a big brain. Formerly a very high officer in the United States Army, he now held a most important position in the nation's affairs. Still and all, he loved the town in which he lived. He owned an extensive piece of property there and he had served as mayor of the spot back in 1915.

The possessor of a grand sense of humor, he was able to sit in on the town's problems and actually enjoy the serious reactions of the local minds. Please take my word for the fact that he's really a grand guy.

One afternoon, when this gentleman returned to town, he was told that a very important meeting was to be held that night in the vestryroom of the church. Just to make the thing a trifle more simple, I'm going to call our main character Mr. Jenkins.

"Mr. Jenkins," said his informant, "they're having big doings in the church tonight. They're going to discuss the speakeasy situation in our town. Mr. Halstead, Mr. Wilson and Mrs. Smith have made up their minds to drive the liquor people out of town."

The big man's eyes opened wide.

"Let me understand you," he asserted. "You say that they're going to talk about the speakeasy problem. Why wasn't I invited?"

The other man shrugged his shoulders.

"They don't want you," he said. "They figure that you're opposed to prohibition and that you'll only cast a damper on the meeting. There are five speakeasies in our town today and the folks argue that they're ruining our young people.

"That's what the meeting is all about—and that's why they don't want you anywhere around. They know that you're a little too smart for them when it comes to talk, and they have really decided to take action. I guess it's best for you to keep away."

Mr. Jenkins grinned.

"If it's best for me to keep away," he murmured, "I'll be there." . . .

That night, shortly after the meeting was scheduled to begin, Mr. Jenkins walked into the church. He took a seat away down from the front and made no comment of any kind as the speeches progressed.

The speeches, of course, were of the routine nature. Mr. Halstead arose and told the assemblage that the five speakeasies must be driven out of business. Mr. Wilson stood up and insisted that hideous things were happening to the young people of the community because of those speakeasies. Mrs. Wilson, the local secretary of the W. C. T. U., said exactly what you might have expected her to say.

The gathering applauded each address. And just before the meeting adjourned, Mr. Jenkins arose.

"My dear friends," he said simply, "I am not going to dispute any of the statements made by the other speakers. I wasn't invited to speak tonight and I don't want to disturb this meeting. All I want to say is that, if you want to drive those five speakeasies out of business I'll help you do it."

A murmur of surprise from the crowd. Then—

"Let me tell you something," he went on. "I was the Mayor of this town before prohibition and we never had the slightest trouble with our young folks. If you'll go back in your memories, I know you'll recall that a boy or a girl who took a straight drink of liquor was something of a bum. They simply never thought of it.

"I'm not giving you a lecture. I'm telling you straight facts. You know that I don't believe in the prohibition law and I'm not ashamed to admit that, even though Mr. Hoover appointed me, I have told him my sentiments to his face.

"Today the boy or girl who doesn't drink straight liquor simply doesn't belong. I don't care about their ages. From 14 years up they are being taught that liquor is forbidden fruit and that it's smart for them to drink it. And that's exactly what they're doing.

"But all this has nothing to do with the case. I told you that I would help you put those five speakeasies out of business. I'll do exactly that—and we don't need any help. I'll do it tonight.

"I'm giving you, however, one word of warning. You cannot suppress present conditions. Within a month there will be six different speakeasies operating in this same town. Remember that, six instead of five."

The gathering cheered the important figure. They know full well that he was a commanding individual and that if he said he would drive the five liquor emporiums out of business he would do it. At the last part of his speech, however, they laughed. Once the five were gone, from whence would the six come? The town would be completely liquorless.

Mrs. Wilson, the local secretary of the W. C. T. U., told the complete story to her friends.

"The man is a fanatic," she whispered, "but he can undoubtedly help us. Those terrible speakeasy men actually fear him and if, for some strange reason, he wants to drive them out of business, he will most certainly succeed.

"As far as the new liquor resorts are concerned, you must take his remarks with a grain of salt. He's talking nonsense. Once we've beaten the present invasion, we have nothing to worry about."

* * *

Mr. Jenkins closed the five places within 24 hours. He did it by the very simple method of going to each spot and telling the proprietors that the town had decided to get rid of them. He told them plainly that, if they didn't close, he'd see that the government closed them within a week. They knew Mr. Jenkins, and they all closed.

Just one month later there were nine speakeasies in the same small town. Mr. Jenkins visited each one, bought a drink, smiled with satisfaction — and left. . . .

SUN-TELEGRAPH-WARNER THEATERS Junior Komic Club

Long before meeting time today, hundreds of happy youngsters swarmed into the lobbies of the Warner neighborhood theaters waiting for the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club programs.

By the time the meetings began the 17 theaters in which meetings are held were crowded to capacity. The Grand Jesters and Board of Governors took their places on the platforms to conduct the meetings, under the leadership of theater managers.

The pupils from Vera Lievau's studio who appeared at the Manor Chapter meeting last Saturday went over so big that Manager Blowitz arranged another program of dance specialties from the same studio for today's meeting. The meeting closed with a ceremonial by Boy Scouts for the Squirrel Hill district.

MT. OLIVER HARRIS

A new set of officers were in charge at the Mt Oliver Harris theater. They were elected last week and will serve for one month. The Grand Jester is Jimmy Edwards, and the board of governors, Joseph Treutal, Betty Cowan, Mary Rickart, Velma Wiltshire, John Carson and John Wurdaels.

Jimmy Edwards, the Grand Jester, incidentally, has a splendid voice and frequently takes part in the stage show at the Mt. Oliver.

The programs at other chapter meetings will be reported in the Sun-Telegraph-Warner Theaters Junior Komic Club column in the Sun-Telegraph as quickly as space permits.

Break the Monopoly!

Licensing of Would-Be Competitors Would Bring Down The Bus Fare—Comment on Local News.

As might have been expected, the picayunish rate cuts offered by President Frank R. Phillips, of the Philadelphia Company group of public utilities, in his conference with Council Thursday are unacceptable to leaders of the associations that have been active in the campaign for fair rates. They announce that the fight will go on. Relief will be sought at Harrisburg.

The cut in the electric light rate offered by Mr. Phillips would amount to a bare 10 cents a month so far as many, if not most, of the consumers are concerned. Ten cents is better than nothing; but in view of the rates charged in other cities, in view of the Duquesne Light Company's large earnings, and in view of the general fall in the prices of other necessities, the people are entitled to a larger reduction.

The proposed cut in the bus fare of the monopolistic Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company is equally unsatisfactory. Mr. Phillips offers to sell five tickets for $1, as compared with the present rate of nine tickets for $2. That is to say, if passengers buy enough tickets they will be able to save about 2½ cents a ride. But in other cities a bus ride costs only 10 cents.

If other companies were allowed to operate buses in Pittsburgh in competition with the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, the fare would drop to a dime. The solution of the problem lies, accordingly, in breaking the monopoly by granting licenses to competitive companies. It may be necessary, to accomplish this, to establish in authority at Harrisburg a fair rate board which will be more zealous to protect the public than the present Public Service Commission.

Citizens with any kind of regard for civic decency will sympathize with District Attorney Andrew T. Park in his disappointment over the verdict in the election case involving Pat O'Malley and his co-defendants. The evidence did seem damaging, and the action of the jury in placing the costs on the defendants is significant.

District Attorney Park can hardly be blamed for saying it is discouraging to try to enforce the election laws when juries ignore the evidence. But he should remember the convictions that he has to his credit and continue the prosecutions with undiminished vigor. The imposing of the costs on O'Malley and his co-defendants should have a salutary effect.

It is too bad the launching of the United States Engineers' dredgeboat Potter at the Dravo Contracting Company's Neville Island shipyards yesterday was marred by the snapping of a cable, which caused the craft to slip into the water before the appointed time. But there is satisfaction in knowing that the Potter was christened anyway, for, although Mrs. Lytle Brown, who was to have performed the office, was half a mile away, someone else had the foresight to crack the bottle.

The Dravo Contracting Company's boatbuilding activities make cheerful industrial news. Cheerful also is the news that the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company has been awarded a $165,000 contract by the Reading Railroad. The Westinghouse Company also has the contract to furnish the materials for the electrification of the Pennsylvania Railroad's eastern lines. Pittsburgh benefits to that extent by the Pennsy's improvements between New York and Washington.

*The election of R. Templeton Smith to a newly-*created vice presidency in the Pittsburgh Coal Company is an interesting piece of news. During the coal strike of several years ago Mr. Smith was one of the few operators whom the miners thought of as NOT hopelessly ''hardboiled.'' He has rendered yeoman's service in the effort to free the Pittsburgh district from the unfair Lake Cargo freight rate differential.

Word came from Philadelphia yesterday that the Vare Republican machine would not yield an inch towards compromise with Allegheny County leaders on the state slate. State Chairman Edward Martin, who was in Pittsburgh, seemed hopeful, however, that the Philadelphia machine might yet accept Judge Joseph Stadtfeld as a candidate for the Superior Court. It is to be hoped so. It is unthinkable that the local Republican leaders should accept any candidate instead of Judge Stadtfeld.

The news in regard to the local unemployment relief situation is mixed, but points strongly to the need for raising additional funds. S. S. Lewis, Secretary of Highways, has authorized the County Commissioners to take over $500,000 worth of emergency welfare work. The Friendly Inn, which has been taking care of 200 men, may have to close its doors, and the question is asked, what will become of them?

It is apparent that something will have to be done pretty soon if a multitude of unemployed men and their families are not to starve. Senator Frank J. Harris has a plan for meeting their necessities. He proposes that each of 35,000 persons agree to support one of the 35,000 destitute families in the county until June, at a cost of $100 a family, or about $33 a month. So far as we know, no better plan has been advanced.

The Philadelphia Record reports that marihuana parties are the latest fad there, and that in hundreds of studios, apartments and homes young people gather nightly to smoke the dangerous drug. Marihuana is a Mexican form of hashish, the murder-inciting narcotic from which our word ''assassin'' is derived. It is disturbing to be informed that there are no adequate laws in Pennsylvania for dealing with the menace.

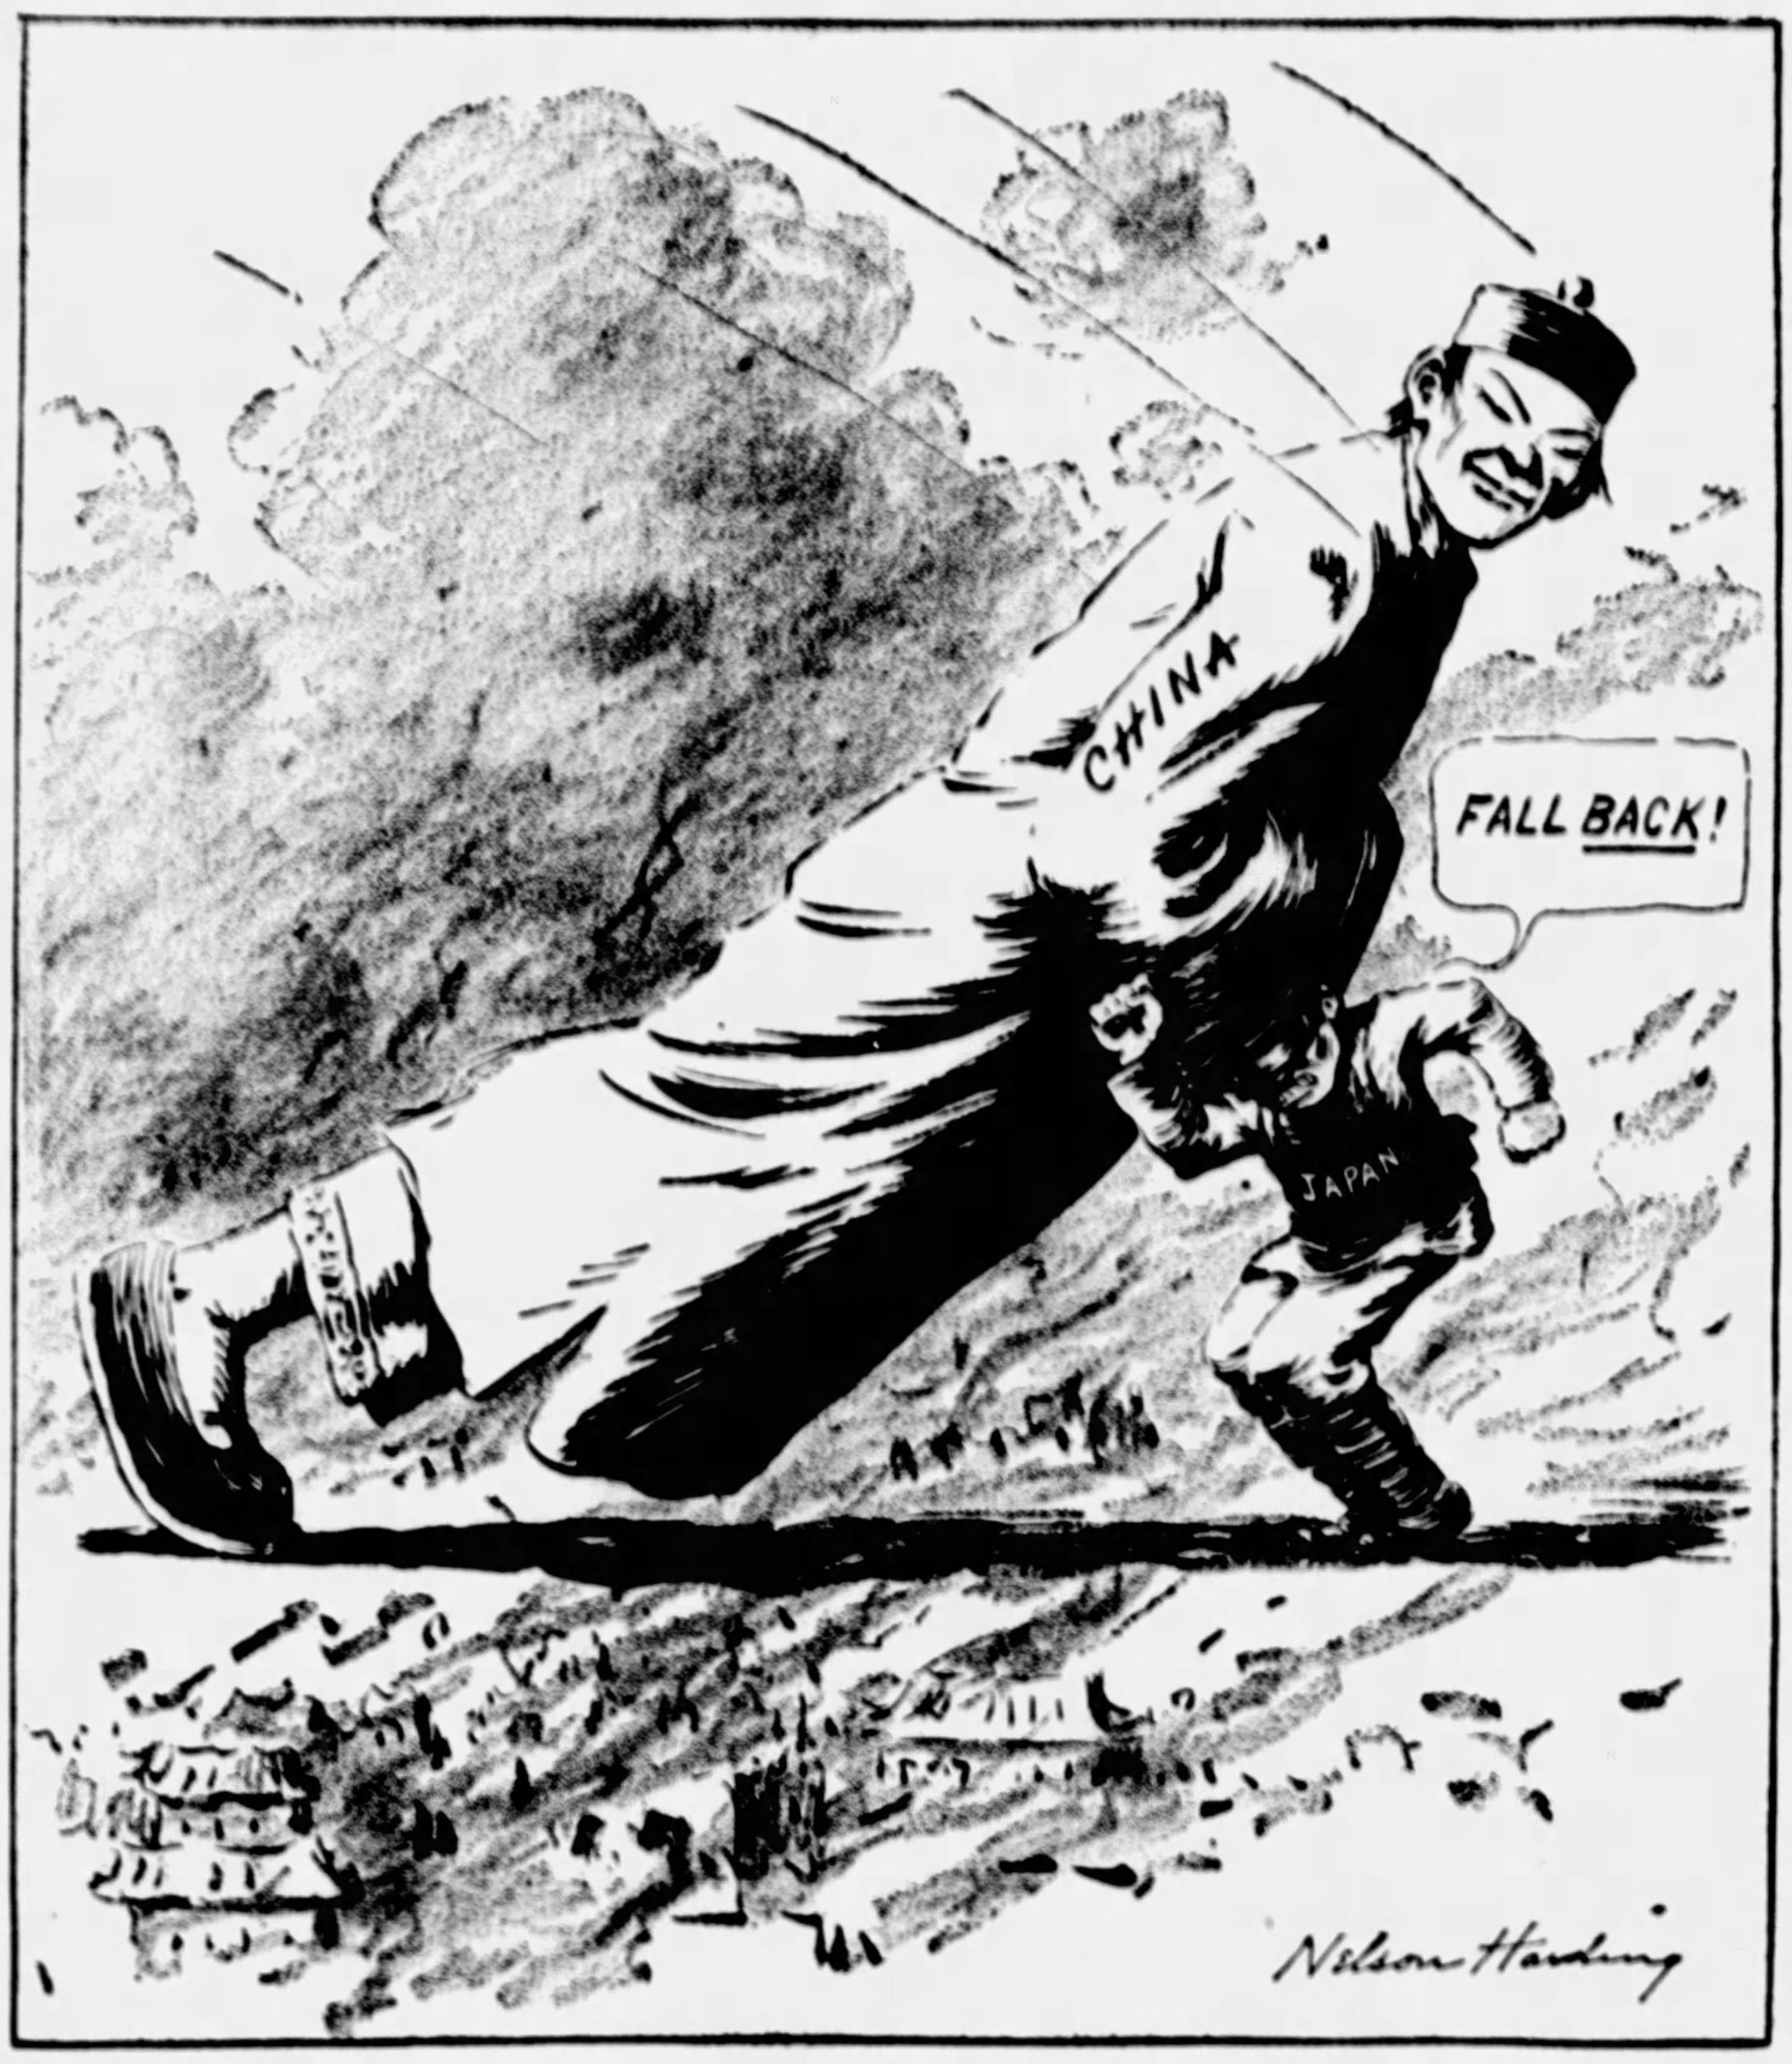
*Some cases of marihuana addictions have been re*ported in the eastern part of Allegheny County. The Chief of Police at McKeesport found several years ago that the marihuana plant was being cultivated by foreigners in their back yards. In view of the extent to which the drug is apparently being used in Philadelphia, it would be well for the local narcotic authorities to be on the alert. Even though the laws are inadequate, something surely can be done.

*Continuing the celebration of the George Wash*ington Bicentennial, the Sun-Telegraph will publish in the American Weekly Magazine section tomorrow, a picture in colors of the surrender of the British to Washington at Yorktown in 1781. There will be an interesting article, too, about the Washington Bicentennial essay contest.

There will be a picture of Washington directing the construction of the White House in the Gravure section of the Sunday Sun-Telegraph. Other attractive features will include a page of photographs of babies and in the ''Remember?'' department, pictures of people and events of bygone decades.

The Fall Guy ⁂ ⁂

By Nelson Harding



The "fall guy" doesn't seem to fall
In quite the way forecast by all
Observers of his sorry plight,
But seems to fall with all his might

Upon the smaller, quicker foe
And unexpectedly, is slow
To fall precipitately back
Before a furious attack.

Marry-Go-Round

There are lots of things a woman doesn't tell—because she hasn't found them out, yet.

* * *

An old-fashioned girl is one who still thinks it's swank to take too many cocktails, pass her kisses around like sandwiches, and pretend to be a little rowdy. She has not discovered, yet, that women have gone feminine!

Nothing so delights and astonishes a man as to find himself in love. He rushes right out to tell the glad news, only to discover that everybody knew it before HE did.

* * *

The old-fashioned man used to be satisfied with a wife who could just cook and be pleasant about it; but the modern man is looking for a one-woman harem, who can earn a salary with one hand, run a house with the other and then doll up and be the life of the party all evening.

* * *

Your love can be no deeper than your capacity for friendship, no higher than your ideals and no broader than the scope of your vision.

* * *

Lots of women are still trying to splurge around on a midget income, who would turn up their noses at riding around in a midget car.

NO SMALL CAR !

Don't lose heart, when a man tells you that he is not thinking of marrying. Just remember that no man ever gets into the marrying mood until he has gotten 'way past THINKING!

* * *

A man doesn't waste as much time before his mirror as a woman does—probably because he knows that nobody ever loved a MAN for his pink cheeks or the dimples in his knees.

* * *

A man is seldom as nervous and excitable as a woman—chiefly, because he is not married to anything as uncertain and nerve-wearing as a man.

(Copyright, 1932, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Isn't It So?

Lots of self-made men get married and find that it takes a wife to give the finishing touches to the job.

It takes a lot of patience and optimism to be a hitch-hiker on the road to success.

To rattle anybody's family skeleton is a pretty shaky business.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Should you run low on things to do, here's a free tip with love and kisses—don't go for ice skating. That is, if you haven't skated lately. It does things to you. I'm propped now on two pillows, expecting any moment to fall apart blah-h-h, like that.

In other days I was by the way of being a nifty figure skater, one of the slickest on Chickamauga Creek. I could spread the eagle, back skate in a neat circle and otherwise cut cute capers. And—a few violin plucks, professor—I went off to the city to do and dare.

During intervening years skating was just a memory. But on the radio yesterday I heard a broadcast of a skating tournament at Lake Placid and I began skimming through the telephone book for the address of a rink and in the evening off to it I skipped, tra-la.

An attendant strapped on rented skates, gave me a gentle push and I glided—or is it glid?—forth, smack into a split. But that could happen to anybody after so many years. So I got to my feet, tremoloed a fake laugh, steadied myself and struck out. Jingle bells, jingle bells!

Take it easy. That's the way. It all comes back. Slowly now. Too many are trying to get nowhere in a hurry. Glass-slick ice, a big band and everywhere the laughter of Youth. Who could ask for anything more? Except for that wobbly left ankle I'm not bad.

Now for the first turn in the bend. Little quick running steps—tickety tack, tickety tack tack. See! I'm getting the hang of it. And here I am on the long stretch. Leisurely glides, leaning into a graceful tilt. I'm getting better by the minute and not a bit short-winded.

I feel great. Here's another bend. I'll turn quickly and do this one backward. No, I'll just skim along in my conservative way. I appear to tilt even better on this curve. That group of girls on the sidelines are watching. I'll act totally indifferent.

* * *

After all I am not seeking romance. I'm here to skate and, boys, I'm skating. Once all the way around and going strong. All is well. I think I'll spread the eagle right here. A bit crowded though. I'll wait for more room. This is about right for it. Here I go! If I get myself out of this one I'm a honey.

* * *

But for that wobbly ankle I'd made it. As it was I did not stay down long. Just a quick slide on my back—psst! like that—and here I am up again all merry and bright. Off I go. Charlotte at the Hippodrome used to put her heels together, toes out, and scoot in a straight line. If nobody was looking I'd try that. Nothing risked, nothing—'$$!! That plink when my head hit the ice sounded like something cracked and my side hurts. It will be my luck to be running around with a fissure in my skull. Fisher body and a fissure skull. I can get messed up in more misery just trying to relax and enjoy myself.

* * *

Get me out again after dark. Yes you will. With a court order. If that wasn't a whang on the conk I don't want a cent. I saw everything, including old whatshisname the bull star. And somebody in the royal box tossed in a couple of moons. This is no evening of skating. It's a lesson in astronomy. Make mine a Big Dipper of linament. All I want is to drag myself back to the starting place, yank off these skates and get the h—— out of here. Imagine an old fool like me trying to be boyish and sportive anyway. Next I'll be playing lawn tennis. Thirty love, you tottering old hasbeen!

* * *

Skating? I shoud have been wheeled off to bed long ago. And is that bump on the head swelling! I'll tell my wife footpads slugged me. But I put up a fight. Left three of them in the gutter. Here I go into another nip-up and plump into a funny fall. I hope my spine is cracked, that's what I hope. That attendant standing there, grinning like a baboon. If he'd put on the skates right, nothing would have happened. Him an attendant. Attend what? Maybe he has a poor old father or brother far away from home in some great big city among strangers trying to skate. I hope somebody—ooch—will treat them a little more kindly. Great Balls of Fire! What happened? I came in here with an upper set. Almost a brand new keyboard, too.

⁂ LISTEN, WORLD ⁂

By Elsie Robinson

DARE TO LIVE!

Life—real life—is not an accumulation of days and nights; of certain stereotyped occurrences which will happen to you automatically, if you just stick around.

Life is much more than that. It is a tremendous experience, into which you may enter if you have the courage; but you will never know that experience unless you do have the courage.

Actually, multitudes pass through life without ever living. There they are, whirling along in time with millions of other people, yet always feeling "out of it." They are out of it because they never came into it. It is their own fault. They have never dared to live.

DARE TO LIVE A FULL LIFE

Live ALL of life, as it comes. That does not mean that you must do everything everyone else does; nor does it mean that you should do anything that decent, healthy-minded persons would not do; but it does mean that you should seize upon every opportunity which will make your life stronger, wiser and more abundant, even though it raises Cain with your status quo.

Life offers every human being countless opportunities to enlarge his experience, only many of us do not recognize them as opportunities. Opportunities do not always come wearing gilt cigar wrappers. Sometimes they come wrapped in crepe.

But take them as they come and learn from them, regardless of their wrapping. Don't demand pretty packages. Don't defer living until the "right chance comes." Don't haggle and try to strike bargains. Dare to live ALL of life.

DARE TO LIVE A FREE LIFE.

Dare to think your own thoughts without trimming. Dare to face your own consequences and consume your own smoke. Do not try to make anyone else responsible for either your happiness or your misery. Stand on your own hind legs. Be free, and rejoice in the strength and dignity which comes with freedom, but be willing, also, to endure its awful loneliness.

DARE TO LIVE AN HONEST LIFE.

Dare to face the truth about all things, particularly the difficult and disconcerting truth about yourself. Dare to defy the most venerable tradition and sacrifice the most cherished bit of sentimentality if, thereby, you can discover a greater truth.

DARE TO LIVE A REBELLIOUS LIFE.

Dare to question, doubt and defy. Dare to be discontented. Dare to change and make changes. Dare to be different. Dare to be inconsistent. People will laugh at you and turn against you. People will say you don't know your own mind, and that you're not reliable. Let them say it!

Go on living! Go on reaching for stars and kicking down dung piles. You may make a fool of yourself, but you will have lived! And that is the greatest thing that can happen to you.

DARE TO LIVE A LOVING LIFE.

Love is the greatest risk of all. Love will make you take greater chances, force upon you harder sacrifices, cost you deeper suffering than any other experience. If you dare to go the whole way with love, it will break your heart; but a heart never comes into its maturity until it is broken. Nor can you possibly know what life is all about until you have loved without stint—without counting or regretting the cost.

"He who would save his life must lose it."

If you love, you will really lose your life—your small, safe, serene individual life—but you will gain a new and infinitely larger, lovelier life.

DARE TO LIVE! DARE TO LOVE!

THE DEBTS AGAIN; AND TRADE

By Claude G. Bowers

Author of "The Struggle for Democracy in America," "Founders of the Republic," "Jefferson and Democracy," "The Tragic Era" and other important works, now writing for The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

The soundness and justice of Speaker Garner's protest against the pre-arranged attempt of the administration speakers on Lincoln's birthday to rob the Democrats of credit for their legislation for the relief of business is evident in the hurried retreat of the administration from its utterly indefensible position. We are now informed that the President ''deplored'' the speeches, and well he might. It is said he thinks the effort to deny the Democrats credit for the ''essential co-operation'' was unjust. There is just one way to make that impressive and that is for the President himself to say so.

The cynical observer will remain a bit skeptical about the President's disapproval otherwise. For the greater part of the offensive and false claims, to which Garner objected, were made by members of the President's official household. These absurd claims were in manuscript; they were delivered by the members of the administration to Mr. Lucas, of the Republican National Committee, for distribution to the press; and Mr. Lucas is in his present position because the President put him there. His selection for the post he holds was advertised, at the time it was made, as having been made at the behest of the President himself.

It seems passing strange to the groundling that a conspiracy of misrepresentation in the inner circle of the administration should have been arranged, not only without the President's knowledge and consent, but against his will. A statement from the President himself is necessary to convince the public that he "deplores" the breaking of the truce.

'An Open Mind On Debts'

The plan of selfish interests, flying hypocritically the flag of humanity, to transfer the debts of European nations to the taxpayers of this country has by no means been abandoned. In his address on Washington's Birthday in Paris, Ambassador Edge said rather cryptically:

"The United States has very clearly manifested its willingness to co-operate where co-operation may be productive of constructive results, and to concede where concession may be conducive to progress and stability."

That is all.

But New York newspapers headline the speech with an interpretation of the meaning to be that we still have "an open mind on debts."

From Washington comes this interpretation:

"It was construed as being intended as another warning to Europe to put her own financial house in order before looking to the United States to revise debts owed to this country. This was accepted here as meaning that the United States might be prepared to consider revision of debt-funding agreements with European governments on the basis of capacity to pay."

Since Congress has specifically and emphatically taken its stand against anything of the sort, it must be the President and Mr. Stimson and Mr. Mills who still have an open mind on the proposition enormously to increase the tax burdens of the American people to make the burdens on other peoples less onerous.

* * *

We Play the Good Samaritan!

And so, the European nations must put their financial house in order!

No one would suspect from this toplofticial statement that there is anything wrong with the finances of the United States; that we have a deficit greater than that of England; that the embarrassment just now in meeting the necessities of government here is to find something more that can be taxed; that economically we are prostrate; that millions of our people are in desperate poverty.

There is a great deal of the devil reproving sin in the smug suggestion that when Europe has found a way to meet her governmental obligations, she may come to us, who are struggling with the problem of how to meet our own, and propose that we play the good Samaritan and add the debts of 14 nations to our own obligations.

* * *

A War on Women And Children

There are ways in which we can co-operate with other nations for the common benefit of all; but we are hearing very little about these other ways.

Prosperity depends primarily on trade, and in these days, on international trade; and the curse of the world today is that barriers against international trade are being erected everywhere—and to the detriment of every nation. These barriers are prohibitive tariff walls—and we have forced these on the world.

The raising of these barriers against trade followed the enactment of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act. We started the war—for it is war; and the war will go on until we co-operate with other nations in the interest of economic common sense. And this war here is having millions of casualties—in unemployed men. It is contributing its full share to human misery. No bombs are being dropped, but there is wreckage in the factories. And it is war on women and children.

* * *

An Opportunity for Legitimate Co-Operation

And it is a war of the type that brings wars of slaughter. When it was proposed, long ago, to close the markets of the British Empire to foreign trade, Lord Rosebery said a wise thing:

"A scattered empire like ours, founded on commerce, and cemented by commerce, can and will make for nothing but peace. But an empire spread all over the world, with a uniform barrier of a customs union presented everywhere in the face of every traveler, would be, I will not say an empire of war, but a perpetual incentive and invitation to war."

Most modern wars have come from struggles for markets; and the tariff walls that are being built today, largely because we have forced them with our own, may easily become a greater menace to peace than great military establishments.

Here is an opportunity for legitimate co-operation among the nations in the interest of them all which the President refuses to consider.

What Washington Said

Very solemnly it has been announced again that Washington did not use the phrase "entangling alliances with none" in his Farewell Address, but that Jefferson was the culprit in his inaugural address. When it was ponderously announced, some newspapers summoned Prof. Morison and other historians to make sure. And it was so! It seems strange that this should be put down as a discovery. It would seem to have been an easy matter for any one to have consulted the Farewell Address itself.

But that which Jefferson said is what Washington said in substance. When toward the close of his first administration, Washington, looking forward to voluntary retirement, asked James Madison to prepare something in the nature of a farewell address, and submit it to him. He did But Washington had to take another term. He saved the paper Madison had prepared.

When at the close of his second term he returned to his plan for a farewell address he asked Hamilton to submit a paper. At that time the Madison paper was turned over to Hamilton. It would be interesting to know if any of the phrasing of Madison was used. The ideas used in the actual address were Washington's. It would be interesting to know if either Madison or Hamilton proposed that Washington say something he declined to say.

But we may be sure of one thing—there is nothing in the actual address that can be strained into a plea that we of America pay the debts of 14 nations.
